Further, our company has no long-term written agreement with our customers and typically our key customers share a sales plan for the forthcoming quarter or six months, followed by purchase orders on a monthly basis.

There are limited brands in the Indian HVAC Industry, and we are dealing with most of them. Accordingly, our company opines that the long-term relationship is mutually beneficial to both Daikin and our company. While our company has expanded its customer base both in domestic markets and overseas markets by serving 81 customers in six months ended September 30, 2023, and by serving 112 customers, 95 customers and 86 customers in Fiscal 2023, Fiscal 2022 and Fiscal 2021, we expect that in the future a limited number of customers will continue to comprise a significant percentage of our operating revenue. Consequently, if we are unable to expand our sales volumes to existing customers, maintain our relationship with our key customers or diversify our customer base, we may experience material fluctuations or decline in our revenue and reduction in our operating margin, as a result of which our business, results of operations and financial conditions could be materially and adversely affected. In additions cancellation by customers or delay or reduction in their orders could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Further, when anticipated orders fails to materialize, it can result in mismatch between our inventories or raw materials and of manufactured products, thereby increasing our costs relating to maintaining our inventory and reduction of our margins which can adversely affect our profitability and liquidity. In addition, we may not find any customers or purchasers for the surplus or excess capacities, in which case we would be forced to incur a loss. Further, our inability to find customers for surplus products may result in excessive inventories which may become obsolete and may be required to be written off in the future.

In addition, we generate account receivable in connection with providing manufacturing services to our key customers. If one or more of our customers were to become insolvent or otherwise unable to pay for the products supplied by us, this could have an impact on our business as we may not recover the costs of production and material utilised for the manufacturing of such products.

Our profitability also depends on the growth and the performance in business of our key customers. In the HVAC Industry, our revenue are dependent on the sale of products by our customers under their own brand names. We rely on the success of our customers in the marketing and selling of these products and therefore any negative impact on their reputation may also have an effect on our business. Accordingly, risks that could seriously harm our top customers, could harm us as well, including, recession in the geographies in which our key customers operate their business, our key customer's inability to effectively manage their operations or changes in laws and policies affecting our customers to operate profitability.

2. We rely on limited number of suppliers and procure 53.74%, 57.98%, 52.38% and 62.27% of our raw material from our Top 5 suppliers and 78.76%, 78.48%, 70.07% and 78.48% of our raw material from our top 10 key suppliers for the period ended on September 30, 2023, and for the Fiscal 2023, Fiscal 2022 and Fiscal 2021 respectively. Further, we do not have any long-term contracts with any of the suppliers. Any shortfall in the supply of our raw materials or an increase in our raw material costs, or other input costs, may adversely affect the pricing and supply of our products and have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We are dependent on third-party suppliers for our raw materials. The raw materials used by us include copper foil and tubes, aluminium foil and sheets, galvanise sheet, brass sheets and parts and stainless steel. The details of our cost of goods sold for the period ended on September 30, 2023 and last three Financial Year are set out below:

(Rs. in Lakhs)

Particulars	For the period ended on September 30, 2023 (Consolidated)	For the Financial Year ended on (Standalone)
		March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021
Cost of goods sold	12,017.18	18,368.24	12,978.21	6,346.66
Revenue from operations	16,064.24	24,748.08	15,611.46	7,582.42
Cost of goods sold as a percentage of our revenue from operations (%)	74.81%	74.22%	83.13%	83.70%

Note: Cost of goods sold comprises costs of material consumed, change in inventories, manufacturing & service cost.

We rely on a Limited number of suppliers for our raw materials which are an integral part of our products. We have purchased 78.76%, 78.48%, 70.07% and 78.48% of its raw material from our top 10 suppliers and 53.74%, 57.98%, 52.38% and 62.27% of its raw material from our top 5 suppliers during the six months ended September 30, 2023, and during Fiscal 2023, Fiscal 2022 and Fiscal 2021, respectively. We purchased raw materials from 54 suppliers in the period ended on September 30, 2023 and 55 suppliers in Fiscal 2023. While we have not historically encountered problems with availability, and our global sourcing team has mitigated these risks by increasing inventory for some of these materials, this does not mean that we will continue to have timely access to adequate supplies of essential materials in the future or that supplies of these materials will be available on satisfactory terms when needed.

Given our reliance on our suppliers, if any one of our suppliers is unable to deliver our raw materials in a timely manner, or at all, or meet our design or quality specifications, we may be unable to meet our product and service delivery timelines. Delayed supplies from our suppliers may in turn result in delayed deliveries by us to our customers and we may incur liquidated damages. There can be no assurance that we will be able to maintain strategic relationships with our suppliers or diversify our supplier base. Further, our suppliers may enter into exclusive arrangements with our competitors or other non-competing manufacturing companies, and we may be unable to obtain alternative sources for our raw materials at commercially reasonable prices, or at all, or enter into alternative arrangements with other manufacturing partners.

During the course and aftermath of the Covid-19 related restrictions and fallout of the same on global supply chains, our business suffered scarcity and in certain instances non-availability of some raw-materials such as copper tubes/pipes and aluminium foils. While we were able to subsequently purchase these raw materials through alternative vendors, we had to incur certain additional costs for the same.

We do not have any long-term contracts with our third-party suppliers. Prices are negotiated for each purchase order, and we generally have more than one supplier for each component or raw material. Consequently, we are subject to pricing fluctuations from order to order. The terms and conditions including the return policy are set forth in the purchase orders. However, our suppliers may be unable to provide us with a sufficient quantity of raw materials, at prices acceptable to us, for us to meet the demand for our products. We are also subject to the risk that one or more of our existing suppliers may discontinue their operations, which may adversely affect our ability to source raw materials at a competitive price. Any increase in component or raw material prices may result in corresponding increases in our product costs. A failure to maintain our required supply of raw materials, and any inability on our part to find alternate sources for the procurement of such raw materials, on acceptable terms, could adversely affect our ability to deliver our products to customers in an efficient, reliable and timely manner, and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

If we are unable to deliver reliable and high-quality products or timely resolve any issues relating to our products and services, confidence in our business could be undermined and we may be unable to expand or maintain our customer base and market share. We may incur additional expenses for resolving errors, providing damages for the defects or delays, extending warranties, increasing insurance coverage, obsolescence of inventory and defective products. In addition, we may have to divert significant research and development and engineering efforts to resolve such defects. Our customers may also bring legal actions against us, which could expose us to additional liabilities. No such instance has occurred to date. Further, we may also be unable to realise any results from our research and development efforts undertaken to develop those products and recognise any revenue from the sales of those products in a timely manner, or at all. If any of these eventualities materialise, our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

Discontinuation of production by these suppliers or the failure of these suppliers to adhere to the delivery schedule or the required quality could hamper our production schedule and therefore affect our business and results of operations. This dependence may also adversely affect the availability of key materials at reasonable prices thus affecting our margins and may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. There can be no assurance that strong demand, capacity limitations or other problems experienced by our suppliers will not result in occasional shortages or delays in their supply of raw materials. If we experience a significant or prolonged shortage of raw materials from any of our suppliers and are not able to procure the raw materials from other sources in the future, we would be unable to meet our production schedules of our products and to deliver such products to our customers on time, which would adversely affect our sales, margins and customer relations. We cannot assure you that a particular supplier will continue to supply the required components or raw materials to us in the future. Any change in the supply pattern of our raw materials can adversely affect our business and profits.

- 3. We rely for raw materials from our vendors in Malaysia, South Korea, Thailand, Vietnam and China and in the six months ended September 30, 2023 and in Fiscal 2023, imports accounted for 80.58 % and 79.08 % of our total raw materials purchased. Any shortfall in the supply of our raw materials or increase in our raw materials costs, or their input costs, may adversely affect the pricing and supply of our products and have an adverse effect on our business, results of operation and financial condition.

We source raw materials from vendors in Malaysia, South Korea, Thailand, Vietnam and China. In the Period ended on September 30, 2023 and in the Fiscal Year ended on March 31, 2023, 2022 and 2021, our imported raw materials as a percentage of total raw materials purchased based on Restated Financial Statements is as follows:

(Rs. in Lakhs)

Particulars	For the period ended on September 30, 2023 (Consolidated)	For the Financial Year ended (Standalone)
		March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021
Cost of raw materials imported	10,875.83	16,611.12	10,024.40	3,717.44
Cost of total raw materials purchased	13,496.86	21,006.45	13,890.92	6,304.17

Particulars	For the period ended on September 30, 2023 (Consolidated)	For the Financial Year ended (Standalone)
		March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021
Cost of materials imported as a percentage of our total cost of raw materials purchased (%)	80.58%	79.08%	72.16%	58.96%

Any restriction on the import of components or raw materials could have an adverse effect on our ability to deliver products to our customers, business and results of operations. Further, any increase in export tariff will increase expenses which in turn may impact our business and results of operations. While we have not historically encountered problems with availability, and our global sourcing team has mitigated these risks by increasing inventory for some of these materials, this does not mean that we will continue to have timely access to adequate supplies of essential materials and components in the future or that supplies of these materials and components will be available on satisfactory terms when needed. Any increase in imported component or raw material prices may result in corresponding increases in our product costs. A failure to maintain our required supply of imported components and raw materials, and any inability on our part to find alternate sources for the procurement of such imported components or raw materials, on acceptable terms, could adversely affect our ability to deliver our products to customers in an efficient, reliable and timely manner, and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

4. We are subject to risks resulting from foreign exchange rate fluctuations, which could adversely affect our results of operations. Further, a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves and higher interest rates in the Indian economy could also adversely affect us.

Changes in the currency exchange rate influence our results of operations. Our substantial purchase of raw materials and other equipment is procured from foreign countries. Our export sales are also in foreign currencies, primarily the U.S. dollar.

Foreign currencies have fluctuated in the past and our cost of raw materials and results of operations may be impacted by such fluctuations. As we aim to increase our export sales, our operating expenses in connection with our operations outside India will be increasingly denominated in currencies other than Indian Rupees. Any fluctuations in the foreign currency exchange rates may have an adverse impact on our results of operations. Details of our foreign exchange in-flow and out flow for the period ended on September 30, 2023 and for the Financial Year ended March 31, 2023, March 31, 2022 and March 31, 2021 are as follows:

(₹ in Lakhs)

Particulars	For the period ended on September 30, 2023 (Consolidated)	For the Financial Year ended on (standalone)
		March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021
Income in Foreign Currency
Sale (excluding Freight and insurance)	2,372.20	2,820.26	1,493.63	405.95
Total In-flow (A)	2,372.20	2,820.26	1,493.63	405.95
Value of Import on CIF basis
Purchase of Raw Material (including Freight)	10,875.83	16,611.12	10,024.40	3,717.44
Machine, Tools and Die	82.59	692.43	56.69	58.41
Total Out flow (B)	10,958.42	17,303.55	10,081.09	3,775.85
Net foreign exchange outflow	8,586.22	14,483.29	8,587.46	3,369.90

A decline in India's foreign exchange reserves could impact the valuation of the Rupee and could result in reduced liquidity and higher interest rates which could adversely affect our financial condition. A future material decline in these reserves could result in reduced liquidity and higher interest rates in the Indian economy which in turn, could adversely affect our business and future financial performance.

5. Our cost of production is exposed to fluctuations in the prices of raw material particularly Aluminium Foil, Copper Foils, Galvanise Sheet, Copper Tubes and Copper and Aluminum Sheet and Stainless Steel and our Company has not entered into any agreement with respect to long-term supply for raw materials required.

The major raw material used are Aluminum Foil, Copper foils, Galvanise sheet, copper tube, copper and Aluminium sheet and stainless sheet and the expenses incurred to procure these raw materials contributes to 70.00%, 74.33%, 79.28% and 72.54% of revenue from operations as per Consolidated restated financial information for the period ended September 30, 2023, and as per standalone restated financial information for the Financial Year ended March 31, 2023, 2022 and 2021. The industry in which we operate is highly fluctuating specially the prices of copper and Aluminium. Further, factors affecting the price, directly or indirectly are beyond the control of our Company. We procure our raw material either from imports or through the spot market and have not entered into any long-term supply agreements with our suppliers. We may have to face the risks associated with compensating for or passing on such increase in our cost of raw material consumed on account of such fluctuations in prices to our customers. If we pass on the increase in the cost of raw material consumed to our customers through a corresponding increase in the price of our products to maintain our historical margins, we may face the risk of our products becoming unaffordable for a particular segment of demography. Upward fluctuations in the prices of raw material may thereby, affect our margins directly or indirectly and have a direct bearing on our profitability, resulting in a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

- 6. We have significant working capital requirements which are funded through borrowings for the period ended September 30, 2023, and Financial Years 2023, 2022 and 2021. If we are unable to secure adequate working capital loans on commercially reasonable terms it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Our working capital requirements for the period ended on September 30, 2023 and Financial Years ended on March 31, 2023, March 31, 2022, and March 31, 2021, is as under:

		(₹ in Lakhs)
S. No.	Particulars	September 30, 2023	March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021

	– Finished Goods/ Stock in Trade	675.42	790.78	297.46	109.63
	– Work in Progress	726.90	403.23	35.26	21.67

3.	Other Financial and Current Assets	3222.04	2,203.17	1987.80	807.12
	Total Current Assets	14,752.80	11,577.43	7,097.67	3,106.25
B.	Current Liabilities
1.	Trade payables	5475.22	4940.95	4019.88	2140.84
2.	Advance from Customers	3.50	81.34	259.54	14.34
3.	Other Financial and Current Liabilities	169.28	168.13	173.17	66.63
	Total Current Liabilities	5648.00	5190.42	4452.59	2221.81
C.	Working Capital Gap	9104.80	6387.01	2645.08	884.44

Our business requires a substantial amount of working capital, primarily to finance our inventory, including, the purchase of raw materials. Moreover, we may need substantial working capital for expansion of our business. Most of this working capital is provided by bank loans. Such financing could cause our debt-to-equity ratio to increase. The Debt-to-Equity Ratio of our Company is 0.57, 0.62, 0.87 and 1.27 for the period ended on September 30, 2023 and Financial Year ended on March 31, 2023, March 31, 2022 and March 31, 2021.

Our inability to obtain and/or maintain sufficient cash flow, credit facilities and other sources of funding, in a timely manner, or at all, to meet our working capital requirements or to pay our debts, could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

For further information regarding the working capital facilities currently availed of by us, see “Financial Indebtedness” on page 330.

7. Any surplus holding of highly volatile and price sensitive raw materials such as copper tubes and rods and aluminium foil on account of inaccurate forecasting of customer orders and failure to manage raw material inventory could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our business depends on our estimate of the orders from customers. We follow Business to Business model where we produce goods according to our customers varied requirements, therefore, we keep inventory of our principle raw materials such as copper tubes and rods and aluminium foils which are very price sensitive at elevated levels and finish goods at minimum level so that we can produce products as per our customer requirements. The raw materials used in our products are majorly imported and have average lead time of 30 days to 45 days for delivery in our manufacturing facilities. Our raw material holding period is 78 days, 60 days, 32 days, and 16 days for the six months period ended on September 30, 2023, and for the Fiscal 2023, Fiscal 2022 and Fiscal 2021.

In case, we underestimate demand or have inadequate capacity due to which we are unable to meet the demand for our products, we may manufacture fewer quantities of products than required, which could result in the loss of business. Due to the length of time necessary to produce commercial quantities of our products, we make production decisions well in advance of sales. An inaccurate forecast of demand for any product can result in the unavailability/ surplus of our products. While we forecast the demand and price for our products and accordingly, plan our production volumes, any error in our forecast could result in a reduction in our profit margins and surplus stock, and such surplus stock may not be sold in a timely manner, or at all. If we overestimate demand, we may incur costs to build capacity or purchased more raw materials and manufacture more products than required. Our inability to accurately forecast demand for our products and manage our inventory may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Further, we make significant decisions, including determining the levels of business that we will seek and accept, production schedules, personnel requirements and other resource requirements, based on our estimates of customer orders for our products. Changes in demand for our products and solutions could make it difficult to schedule production and lead to a mismatch of production and capacity utilization. Any such mismatch leading to over or under utilization of our manufacturing facilities could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

8. We have experienced growth in the past few years and if we are unable to sustain or manage our growth, our business and results of operations may be adversely affected.

We have experienced growth in the past years. The details of certain of our financial parameters showcasing this growth over the period ended on September 30, 2023 and last three Financial Year ended March 31, 2023, 2022 and 2021 has been set out below:

(Amount in Lakhs)

Particulars	September 30, 2023	March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021
Revenue from Operations	16,064.24	24,748.08	15,611.46	7,582.42
EBITDA	2,914.20	4,931.75	1,693.56	542.58

Particulars	September 30, 2023	March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021
Profit for the year after tax	1,932.97	3,231.35	1,059.04	246.56

Our growth requires us to continuously invest in our operations, evolve and improve our operational, financial, and internal controls and administrative infrastructure. We may not be able to sustain our growth due to a variety of reasons, including but not limited to, the following:

- a decline in the demand for HVAC products.
- acquiring new customers and increasing/maintaining demand of our products from existing customers.
- maintaining the quality and precision levels of our products.
- our ability to maintain high level of customer satisfaction.
- increased price competition,
- non-availability of raw materials,
- preserving a uniform work culture and environment across our manufacturing facilities and maintaining and improving operational synergies; and
- a general slowdown in the economy.

A failure to sustain our growth may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and future prospects. We are embarking on a growth strategy which involves deepening, diversifying, and expanding our customer base by tapping into new markets and focusing on operational efficiencies to improve returns and pursuing strategic alliances and inorganic growth opportunities. Such a growth strategy will place significant demands on our management as well as our financial, accounting, and operating systems. We cannot assure you that our future performance or growth strategy will be successful.

Further, as we scale up and diversify our products, we may not be able to execute our operations efficiently, which may result in delays, increased costs, and lower quality products. Further, if we are unable to increase our production capacity, we may not be able to successfully execute our growth strategy. Our failure to manage our growth effectively may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and future prospects.

9. Our Objects to issue - “Investment in wholly owned subsidiary for setting up manufacturing facilities” is subject to the risk of unanticipated delays in implementation, cost overruns and certain Government approvals and licenses. If we are unable to implement the expansion plans at the planned cost or time or unable to obtain Government approvals and licenses, it could materially and adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We have made and intend to continue making investments to expand our portfolio of products to achieve our growth objective. We intend to deploy major net proceeds from our IPO to set up a new manufacturing facility (“Proposed Project”) located at SP1-24, Kolila Joga, Neemrana, Alwar, Rajasthan-301705 through investment in our wholly owned Subsidiary, KRN HVAC Products Private Limited. For further details, see “Objects of the Issue” on page 108.

The “Proposed Project” may be subject to the potential problems and uncertainties that construction projects face including cost overruns or delays. Problems that could adversely affect our “Proposed Project” include increased costs of equipment or manpower, delay in receipt of Government approvals and licenses from regulatory authorities or rejection of the approvals applied for by regulatory authorities, insufficient performance of the equipment and machinery installed in our manufacturing facilities, delays in completion, defects in design or construction, the possibility of unanticipated future regulatory restrictions, labour shortages, delays in receiving governmental, statutory and other regulatory approvals as we apply for them at various stages of the project, incremental pre-operating expenses, unforeseen taxes and duties, interest and finance charges, environment and ecology costs and other external factors which may not be within the control of our management.

There can be no assurance that the proposed additions in our portfolio of products and expansions will be completed as planned or on schedule, and if they are not completed in a timely manner, or at all, our budgeted costs may be insufficient to meet our proposed capital expenditure requirements. If our actual capital expenditures significantly exceed our budgets, or even if our budgets were sufficient to cover these projects, we may not be able to achieve the intended economic benefits of these projects, which in turn may materially and adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations, cash flows, and prospects. There can be no assurance that we will be able to complete the expansion and additions in accordance with the proposed schedule of implementation and any delay could have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

In addition, our wholly owned Subsidiary, KRN HVAC Products Private Limited, through which such Proposed Expansion will be conducted has not had operating revenue during the six months ended September 30, 2023. For further details please refer to “Objects of the issue” on page 108.

10. The objects of the Issue include orders for plant and machinery which have not yet been placed. Further, we are yet to place orders for capital expenditures. In the event of any delay in placement of such orders, the proposed schedule of implementation and deployment of the Net Proceeds may be extended or may vary.

Our company set up a wholly owned subsidiary namely “KRN HVAC Products Private Limited”, incorporated on April 07, 2023. Our company plans to invest ₹ 24,919.59 lakhs out of the Net proceeds of the Issue into our wholly owned subsidiary to establish a new manufacturing facility at Nemrana, Alwar, Rajasthan (“Proposed Project”). The total estimated cost for setting up the Proposed Project comprises the following:

(₹ in Lakh)

S. No.	Particulars	Total estimated cost ⁽¹⁾⁽²⁾

⁽²⁾ Total estimated cost, as per DPR dated March 28, 2024 prepared and issued by Q-Serv Consultants Private Limited and verified by M/s Keyur Shah & Co. Chartered Accountants in respect of the Proposed Project.

⁽³⁾ As of March 22, 2024, the amount deployed towards the proposed project was Rs.2,023.68 Lakhs, Pursuant to certified by M/s. Sharma S.K. & Associates, Chartered Accountants, by way of their certificate dated March 28, 2024. For sources of funds for the amounts deployed, please see-“Means of Finance” below.

We intend to utilize portions of the Net Proceeds for Funding capital expenditure requirements for the purchase of equipment/machineries and construction of Building. As on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we have placed orders for plant and machinery aggregating to ₹ 1,196.26

Lakhs and have given an advance of ₹ 343.25 Lakhs i.e., approximately 11.92% of the total estimated cost for purchase of plant and machinery. We are yet to place orders for such plant and machineries for an aggregate amount of ₹ 8,842.16 Lakhs i.e., approximately 88.08% of the total estimated cost for purchase of plant and machinery.

While we have procured quotations from various vendors in relation to the capital expenditure to support our expanding operations, no firm orders have been placed. For details in respect of the foregoing, please see “Objects of the Issue” on page 108. It is important to note that such quotations have a limited validity period and may be subject to revisions, and other commercial and technical factors. We cannot assure that we will be able to undertake such capital expenditure at the costs indicated by such quotations or that there will not be cost escalations over and above the contingencies proposed to be funded out of the Net Proceeds. Further, the actual amount and timing of our future capital requirements may differ from our estimates due to unforeseen delays or cost overruns, unanticipated expenses, regulatory changes, engineering design changes, technological changes and any other reason.

In the event of any delay in placing the orders, or an escalation in the cost of acquisition of the equipment or completion of the civil and related works, or if the vendors are not able to provide the equipment and services in a timely manner, or at all, we may encounter time and cost overruns. Further, if we are unable to procure equipment and ancillary items or avail services from the vendors from whom we have obtained quotations, we cannot assure that we will be able to identify alternative vendors to provide us with a similar kind of plant and machinery, equipment and ancillary items and services, which satisfy our requirements at acceptable prices. Our inability to procure the machinery equipment and services at acceptable prices or in a timely manner, may result in an increase in capital expenditure, extension or variation in the proposed schedule of implementation and deployment of the Net Proceeds, thereby resulting in an adverse effect on our business, prospects and results of operations.

We intend to invest in the latest equipment and technology to support our expanding operations. We also seek to purchase equipment from domestic and foreign manufacturers and continue our strategy of minimal reliance on hired or leased equipment.

Our proposed capital expenditure requirements for the purchase of equipment/ machinery remain subject to the potential problems and uncertainties that construction project face including cost overruns or delays. Problems that could adversely affect our expansion plan including labor shortages, increased costs of equipment or manpower, inadequate performance of the equipment and machinery installed at various sites, delays in completion, defects in design or construction, the possibility of unanticipated future regulatory restrictions, delays in receiving governmental, statutory and other regulatory approvals, incremental pre-operating expenses, taxes and duties, interest and finance charges, working capital margin, environment and ecology costs and other external factors which may not be within the control of our management. Further, there can be no assurance that our budgeted costs may be sufficient to meet our proposed capital expenditure requirements. If our actual capital expenditure significantly exceeds our budgets, or even if our budgets were sufficient to cover these projections, we may not be able to achieve the intended economic benefits of these projects, which in turn may materially and adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations, cash flows, and prospects. There can be no assurance that we will be able to complete the aforementioned expansion and additions in accordance with the proposed schedule of implementation and any delay could have an adverse impact on our growth, prospects, cash flows and financial condition. For further details, please see “Objects of the Issue” on page 108.

11. On April 07, 2023, our Company incorporated wholly owned subsidiary company KRN HVAC Products Private Limited. As our wholly owned subsidiary Company was incorporated on April 07, 2023, the Restated Financial Information for the year ended on March 31st 2023, March 31st

2022 and March 31st 2021 does not include financial information for our wholly owned Subsidiary prior to its incorporation. Thus, our Restated Consolidated Financial Information, as of, and for the six month period ended September 30, 2023, and Restated Standalone Statements for the period ended on 31st March 2023, March 31st 2022 and March 31st 2021, are not comparable and will not be comparable with the financial statements of future financial years.

To expand the business of our Company and to reap the benefits of forward integration, our Company has incorporated a wholly owned subsidiary of our Company, namely KRN HVAC Products Private Limited on April 07, 2023, with aim to set up a new manufacturing unit at Plot No. SP1-24, Kolila Joga, Neemrana, Alwar, Rajasthan-301705 to increase value-added products in our existing portfolio. KRN HVAC Products Private Limited will focus on manufacturing certain types of heat exchangers that are currently not manufactured by our Company such as:

S. No.	Products	Application	Use Case
1	Bar & Plate Heat Exchanger	The Bar & plate Heat Exchanger is a device that permits recovery of the heat contained in a fluid being transferred to another fluid. Both fluids never touch each other because they are separated by metallic sheets. These sheets, which are called plates, are very fine and grooved to enable the diffusion of the greatest amount of heat through each surface unit. The plate heat exchanger has been made to guarantee a heat interchange with the highest security.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. It is used in railway locomotives for transformers and convertor oil coolers. 2. It is used in screw & centrifugal air compressors as air coolers. 3. Used as metro train engine cooling unit and transmission oil cooling unit. 4. It is used in defense vehicles (Tanks) as the radiator and oil cooler. 5. Used as charge air coolers and oil coolers of diesel engines or DG sets. 6. Used as an oil cooler for heavy earth-moving vehicles. 7. It is used in oil rigs and mining equipment.
2	Oil Cooling Unit with Blower & Motor	An oil cooler is a separate, smaller radiator to an engine's main radiator, which maintains an oil supply at a consistent, optimal temperature. Its purpose is to cool the oil passing through the coils, thus improving the engine and the transmission's lifetime. They are situated in front of an engine's cooling system.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. It is specifically used as a cooling unit for locomotives/railways. 2. It is also used in automotive vehicles as a cooling unit.
3	Roll Bond Evaporator	Roll-Bond evaporators provide unique design flexibility for direct cooling refrigeration systems. Roll-Bond evaporators deliver efficient thermal performance in a product that can be shaped to fit most applications.	It is used in refrigerators as an evaporator/freezer

Through this forward integration, we are planning to venture into the distribution and sales channels which allow us to control the marketing and distribution of complete product range of heat exchangers. This enables us to capture a greater share of the value chain and establish direct connections with end customers. By incorporating KRN HVAC Products Private Limited, our Company can have greater control over the supply of HVAC industry products, enhancing customer reach and brand visibility.

The brief financials of KRN HVAC Products Private Limited are provided in the table below:

12. We have had negative cash flows in the past. Sustained negative cash flow could adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have experienced negative cash flows in the six months ended September 30, 2023 and in Fiscal 2023, Fiscal 2022 and Fiscal 2021. In particular, we have experienced negative cash flows from operating activities in Fiscal 2022 and Fiscal 2021.

Negative cash flows over extended periods, or significant negative cash flows in the short term, could materially impact our ability to operate our business and implement our growth plans. As a result, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

Any negative cash flows in the future could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. For further information, see “Restated Financial Information” on page 260.

13. Our business is dependent on our manufacturing facilities, and we are subject to certain risks in our manufacturing process. Any slowdown or shutdown in our manufacturing operations could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our manufacturing facilities are situated at Plot No. 46, 47, 48 and 49, EPIP, RIICO Industrial Area, Neemrana, Alwar, Rajasthan-301705 and are subject to certain operating risks, such as the breakdown or failure of equipment, power supply or processes, performance below expected levels of efficiency, obsolescence of equipment or machinery, labour disputes, natural disasters, industrial accidents, and the need to comply with the directives of relevant government and regulatory authorities.

Our business is dependent upon our ability to manage our manufacturing facilities and run them at certain utilization levels, which are subject to various operating risks, including those beyond our control, such as the breakdown and failure of equipment, industrial accidents, labour disputes or shortage of labour, severe weather conditions and natural disasters. While there have been no such instances in the past, any significant malfunction or breakdown of our machinery, our equipment, our automation systems, our IT systems or any other part of our manufacturing processes or systems (together, our “Manufacturing Assets”) may entail significant repair and maintenance costs and cause delays in our operations. If we are unable to repair Manufacturing Assets in a timely manner or at all, our operations may need to be suspended until we procure the appropriate Manufacturing Assets to replace the same and we cannot assure you that the new Manufacturing Assets will be procured and/or integrated in a timely manner. In addition, we may be required to carry out planned shutdowns of our facilities for maintenance, statutory inspections, testing and equipment upgrades.

As our customers rely significantly on the timely delivery of our products, uninterrupted power supply, supply of trained and skilled manpower, availability of raw materials and our ability to carry on interruption-free production of our products is critical to our business. Further, our electricity requirements for our manufacturing facilities are directly sourced from local utilities. While we maintain power backup in the form of diesel generator sets, we cannot assure you that we will successfully be able to prevent disruptions in our manufacturing processes in case of non-availability of adequate supply of power.

Further, we may be subject to manufacturing disruptions due to contraventions by us of any of the conditions of our regulatory approvals, which may require our manufacturing facilities to cease, or limit, production until the disputes concerning such approvals are resolved. While we have not experienced such instances, in the event such instances occur in the future, it may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

14. An inability to renew quality accreditations in a timely manner or at all, or any deficiencies in the quality of our products may give rise to product liability claims and negatively affect our business prospects and financial performance.

We obtain and maintain quality certifications and accreditations from independent certification entities and also comply with prescribed specifications and standards of quality approved by certification issuing agencies. Our Company has obtained following certifications/ recognition:

S. No.	Certification	Validity
1	ISO 9001:2015 in recognition of organization’s Quality Management System.	10/10/2025
2	ISO 14001:2015 in recognition of organization’s Environment Management System.	10/10/2025
3	ISO 45001:2018 in recognition of organization’s Health and Safety Management System.	10/10/2025
4	IS 11329:2018 in recognition of quality of finned type heat exchanger for room air conditioners from Bureau of Indian Standards.	18/10/2024
5	CE 2215001 conformity certificate Issued by Szutest, turkey for the quality assurance	29/05/2025
6	BS EN ISO 13134 Certificate for Brazing procedure	Valid till Cancelled
7	UL-207 for Recognized Standard for Refrigerant-Containing Components and Accessories	Valid Till Cancelled

If we fail to comply with applicable quality standards or if we are otherwise unable to obtain such quality accreditations in the future in a timely manner or at all, our business prospects and financial performance may be negatively affected.

Further, if our products are alleged or found to be defective, we may be subject to product liability claims. There could be instances in which our products do not meet the specifications. We have, at some times, encountered certain claims with respect to the quality of our products and we may be subject to product liability claims and litigation for compensation in the future also which could result in substantial and unexpected expenditure and could materially affect our cash flow and operating results. Further, there can be no assurance that we will be able to successfully defend such claims. If any such claims against us are ultimately successful, we could be required to pay substantial damages, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

15. We are subject to precise technical specifications. Our failure to comply with the technical specifications prescribed by such customers may lead to loss of business from such customers and could negatively impact our reputation, which would have an adverse impact on our business prospects and results of operations.

Our customers have specific product requirements. Failure to comply with the technical specifications by our customers may lead to cancellation of the orders placed by them. Any failure on our part to manufacture our products according to prescribed specifications, may lead to loss of reputation and goodwill of our Company, rejection of the product, resulting in additional cost, which will not be borne by the customer, to replace the rejected product, and loss of customers which could have adverse effect on our reputation, business and financial condition. While such instances have not resulted in any material and adverse impact on us in the past, should such instance take place in the future, it could expose us to significant monetary liability including litigation.

While we have not experienced any cancellation due to such reasons in the past, failure to adhere to the specifications set out by our customers may lead to cancellation of existing and future orders or expose us to warranty claims. In addition, prior to placing the orders, there is a review process that is undertaken by certain customers. This may involve inspection of our manufacturing facilities and equipment, review of the manufacturing processes and raw materials, and inspections and reviews of prototypes of the product. As a result, we are required to incur expenses to maintain the technical specifications such as forming a separate team of engineers responsible for assurance of the technical specifications as per the requirement of the customer in our manufacturing facilities, and in the manufacturing processes. Any shortfall in meeting the technical specifications or manufacturing defects may result in recall of the whole batch leading to loss of revenues and reputation.

16. Our business depends upon the capabilities and performance of our Promoters and Senior Management that will be crucial to determining the success and growth of our company. Similar to this, the directors of our wholly owned subsidiary "KRN HVAC Products Private Limited," where a new manufacturing facility will be established utilizing the net proceeds of the issue, are our Promoters, Santosh Kumar Yadav and Anju Devi. As a result, our promoters are crucial to the project's implementation success in our subsidiary.

Our Promoter Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav holds a diploma in Business Management from Institute of Management Technology, Centre for Distance Learning, Ghaziabad and a Diploma in Mechanical Engineering from the Board of Technical Education, Rajasthan. He has gathered great experience by working as the head of operations department with LLOYD Electric and Engineering Limited. He has more than 19 years of experience in the business of manufacturing heat exchangers and refrigeration units. The experience of our Promoters and senior management has been critical to our success of our project and business growth. As a result, any loss of the services of any of our Promoters or senior management could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. The replacement of senior management may not be straightforward or achievable in a timely manner, and we may be required to wait indefinitely to fill positions until we find suitable candidates. Furthermore, attracting and retaining experienced and qualified senior management could require increasing compensation and benefits payable to such personnel, which could affect our operational costs and accordingly, our financial condition and results of operations.

Similarly, as per the objects of the issue, the Net Proceeds from the Issue will be utilized to set up a manufacturing unit in our wholly owned subsidiary “KRN HVAC Products Private Limited” where our promoters, Santosh Kumar Yadav and Anju Devi, are the whole-time directors in the company. The implementation of the object and setting up of the manufacturing unit will be depended on the capability of our Promoters.

There can be no assurance that attrition rates for our employees, including our management and sales personnel, will not increase. A significant increase in our employee attrition rate could also result in decreased operational efficiencies and productivity, loss of market knowledge and customer relationships, and an increase in recruitment and training costs, thereby materially and adversely affecting our business, results of operations and financial condition.

17. All of our directors do not have any prior experience of being a director in any other listed company in India.

Our current Board comprises of 6 directors which includes Chairman and Managing Director, Whole-Time Director, 3 non-executive independent directors and 1 non-executive non-independent directors. All of our board of directors do not have any prior experience of being a director in any other listed company in India. While our Board members are qualified and have relevant experience in their respective field, not having any prior experience as being a director in any other listed company in India may present some potential challenges to our Company ineffectively meeting with good corporate governance norms and practices. Additionally, having lack of such experience amongst the board of directors may impact our Company's credibility and reputation among the investors and other stakeholders. For further details, please see chapter titled “Our Management” on page no. 233.

18. There have been some instances of delayed filing/ incorrect filings in the past with the Registrar of Companies which may attract penalties.

				corrective filing with all requisite fees was promptly submitted by the Company on December 19, 2021.

As of now, our Company has rectified these errors by filing the updated forms and payment of requisite additional fees. However, there is no assurance that such discrepancies will not occur in the future, and we may be subject to regulatory actions and penalties, which could adversely affect our business operations and financial position.

19. There has been certain non-compliance with labour laws by our Company. Consequently, we may be subject to regulatory actions and penalties for such non-compliance and our business and financial condition may be adversely affected.

In accordance with The Payment of Bonus Act, 1965 (“Bonus Act”), and the Payment of Bonus Rules, 1975 (“Bonus Rules”), our Company is required to file the annual return of the bonus paid to its employees. Our Company has paid the bonus to its employees as per applicable law but has not filed the annual return for the years 2018-2022. Further there is no provision in Bonus Act and rules regarding backward filing of annual returns of the Company. However, the Company has filed annual return of the bonus paid in the year 2022-23 to its employees. Therefore, for non-compliance of the provisions of Bonus Act and Bonus Rules, in previous years, our Company may be subjected to punishment under Section 28 of the Bonus Act.

20. We regularly work with hazardous materials such as LPG gas and Oxygen gas which could be flammable and activities in our manufacturing facilities can be dangerous, which could cause injuries to people or property.

Our business requires individuals to work under potentially dangerous circumstances. Despite compliance with requisite safety requirements and standards, our operations are subject to significant hazards, including:

- fires;
- mechanical failures and other operational problems;
- discharges or releases of hazardous gas such as LPG and oxygen gases; and
- other environmental risks.

operating certain machinery and processes in our manufacturing facilities involve risk of accidents and personal injuries. These hazards can cause personal injury and loss of life, catastrophic damage or destruction of property and equipment as well as environmental damage, which could result in a suspension of operations and the imposition of civil or criminal liabilities. The loss or shutting down of our facilities could disrupt our business operations and adversely affect our results of operations, financial condition and reputation. We could also face claims and litigation, in India or overseas, filed on behalf of persons alleging injury predominantly because of occupational exposure to hazards at our facilities.

While we maintain adequate insurance, there is a risk that an accident may occur at any of our manufacturing facilities. An accident may result in personal injury to our employees or the labour deployed at our facilities, destruction of property or equipment, manufacturing or delivery delays, environmental damage, or may lead to suspension of our operations and/or imposition of liabilities and bring negative publicity to us. Any such accident may result in litigation, the outcome of which is difficult to assess or quantify, and the cost to defend such litigation can be significant. If these claims and lawsuits, individually or in the aggregate, are resolved against us, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

21. We are required to obtain, renew or maintain certain statutory and regulatory permits and approvals required to operate our business and if we fail to do so in a timely manner or at all and our business, financial conditions, results of operations and cash flows may be adversely affected.

Our operations are subject to government and statutory regulations, and we are required to obtain and maintain several permits, consents and regulations and approvals under central, state and local government rules for operating our business for our Units. While we have obtained the necessary and material approvals, licenses, registrations and permits from the relevant authorities, there could be instances where we may not have applied, obtained or applied with a delay for certain requisite approvals applicable to us. For instance, registration under the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970 was not in place prior to 2019. Due to the geographic concentration of the sale of our products in Rajasthan, our operations are susceptible to local and regional factors, such as economic and weather conditions, natural disasters, demographic changes, and other unforeseen events and circumstances. Consequently, any significant social, political or economic disruption, or natural calamities or civil disruptions in this region, or changes in policies of the state or local governments or the government of India or adverse developments related to competition in this region, may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. While we have not experienced any of the above risks that had an adverse impact on our business operations and financial conditions in the past, but we cannot assure you that these risks will not arise in the future.

23. Rajasthan State Industrial Development and Investment Corporation (RIICO) has permitted to transfer the lease hold rights of an industrial plot, Complying with certain terms and condition of the lease may affect our business and financial Condition.

We engage independent contractors through whom we engage contract labourers for performance of certain functions at our Units. Further, contractors and contract labourers will also be engaged in the construction of the Proposed Facility. Although we do not engage these labourers directly, we are responsible for any wage and statutory payments to be made to such labourers in the event of default by such independent contractors. Any requirement to fund their wage requirements may have an adverse impact on our results of operations and our financial conditions. In addition, we may be liable for or exposed to litigations, sanctions, penalties or losses arising from accidents or damages caused by our workers or contractors.

25. Our manufacturing facilities, Warehouse and Registered and Corporate Office are located on premises taken on a lease basis. F- 46 to 47 EPIP, Neemrana, Alwar Rajasthan	2020
F- 44, EPIP, Neemrana, Alwar Rajasthan	2022

Any unforeseen events or circumstances that negatively affect these areas could materially adversely affect our sales and profitability. These factors include, among other things, changes in demographics, population and income levels. In addition, our business may also be susceptible to regional natural disasters and other catastrophes, such as telecommunications failures, cyber-attacks, fires, riots, political unrest or terrorist attacks. Any materially adverse social, political or economic development, natural calamities, civil disruptions, or changes in the policies of the local governments in this region could adversely affect operations at our manufacturing units. Natural disasters such as earthquakes, extreme climatic or weather conditions such as floods, droughts, or diseases heightened or particular to the region, may adversely impact the supply of products, local transportation and operations at our manufacturing units. Such disruption to supply would materially and adversely affect our business, profitability and reputation.

Pursuant to the certificate dated January 05, 2024, from our Statutory and Peer Review Auditor M/s Keyur Shah and Co., Chartered Accountants.

Though our business has not experienced any disruptions due to transportation strikes in the past, any future transportation strikes may have an adverse effect on our business. Most of the raw material and finished products are transported to and from our manufacturing unit by third party transportation providers. Transportation strikes could have an adverse effect on our receipt of goods and our ability to deliver our products to our customers. Non availability of ships, barges and trucks could also adversely affect receipt of goods and the delivery of our products. Further, disruptions of transportation services due to weather-related problems, strikes, lockouts, inadequacies in the road infrastructure, or other events could impair ability to procure raw materials on time. Any such disruptions could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

29. Our Company benefits from certain export benefits which are subject to the policies and decisions of the Government.

We have availed benefits under certain export promotion schemes such as Duty Drawback Scheme; Remission of Duties and Taxes on Exported Products (RoDTEP); and Export Promotion Capital Goods (“EPCG”) in relation to our operations. In accordance with the licensing requirements outlined in the EPCG scheme, we are obligated to export goods of a specified value under which, we may have to pay the Government, a sum equivalent to the duty benefit accrued under the EPCG scheme, coupled with the corresponding interest. If there is a failure to adhere to any criteria while availing of benefit or subsequently, it could result in the reversal of benefits, potentially leading to the imposition of interest and penalties as outlined in the pertinent scheme. Further, any failure to meet the obligations under such schemes may result in an adverse effect on our business operations and our financial condition.

30. If our customers do not continue to outsource manufacturing, or if there is a downward trend in HVAC & R Industry, our sales could be adversely affected.

We are engaged in the business of providing the components of HVAC & R products as well as on OEM basis. In recent years, RAC brands have increasingly outsourced the manufacturing of their products to manufacturer like us. However, there can be no assurance that they will continue to do so in the future. A customer’s decision to outsource is affected by its ability and capacity for internal manufacturing and the competitive advantages of outsourcing. Our sales to our customers are also dependent on their business position and financial health. There can be no assurance that our customers will continue to outsource or increase the share of outsourcing. If RAC brands do not continue to outsource the manufacturing of their products or reduce the amount of manufacturing outsourced by them or if our customers decide to perform these functions internally or use other providers of these services, our future growth could be limited, and our sales and operating results may suffer.

Further, our business is heavily dependent on the performance and market trends of the HVAC sector. Our Revenue from Operations has been increasing at CAGR of 48.33 % over the past 3 years due the trend of increasing demand in the HVAC industry. However, there can be no assurance that the HVAC industry will continue to grow and that we will continue to retain our market share.

The sales of heat exchanger and its components are directly related to the production and sales of air conditioners, refrigerators etc. by our customers. Sales and production of these products may be affected by general economic or industry conditions, including seasonal trends in the HVAC sector, evolving regulatory requirements, government initiatives, trade agreements and other factors. Any economic downturn and recessionary trends in HVAC industry, both in India and in export markets, may significantly affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Unfavourable industry conditions can also result in an increase in commercial disputes and other risks. A sustained decline in the demand for these products produced and sold by our customers could prompt them to cut their production volumes, directly affecting the demand and sales from customers for our products.

31. Information relating to the installed production capacity and capacity utilization of our production Units included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus are based on various assumptions and estimates and future production and capacity may vary.

Information relating to the installed manufacturing capacity of our manufacturing facilities and capacity utilization included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus are based on various assumptions and estimates of our management, and the capacities of principal and ancillary equipment used in the manufacture of our products. For details of these assumptions and calculation methodology, see “Our Business – Capacity utilisation” on page 207.

While we have obtained a certificate dated January 01, 2024, from Goyal N Associates, Chartered Engineer in relation to such annual installed capacity of our manufacturing facilities and capacity utilisation, future capacity utilisation may vary significantly from the estimated production capacities of our manufacturing facilities and historical capacity utilisation. For further information, see “Our Business – Our Manufacturing Facilities” on page 208. Further, the installed capacity, capacity utilisation and other related information may not be computed on the basis of any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry and therefore may not be comparable to capacity information that may be computed and presented by other comparable companies in the industry in which we operate.

Accordingly, actual production levels and rates may differ significantly from the installed capacity information of our facilities or historical installed capacity information of our facilities depending on the product type. Undue reliance should therefore not be placed on our historical installed capacity information for our existing facilities included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

32. The agreements governing our indebtedness contain conditions and restrictions on our operations, additional financing, and capital structure.

We have entered several borrowing facilities of varying terms and tenures with the banks; however, no such terms have been agreed with the borrowings availed from promoters. The financing agreements governing such facilities availed from banks include conditions and restrictive covenants that require us to obtain consents, no-objections or waivers from lenders prior to carrying out specified activities or entering into certain transactions, including, among other things, incurring additional debt, prepaying existing debt, declaring dividends or incurring capital expenditures beyond prescribed thresholds, amending our constitutional documents, changing our capital structure, shareholding pattern or management, and selling, transferring, leasing or disposing our encumbered assets.

Although we have taken the consent of our lenders namely HDFC Bank Limited, Citibank N.A. and State Bank of India for undertaking activities in relation to our Initial Public Offering vide their letters dated June 14, 2023, January 04, 2024 and June 20, 2023 respectively, undertaking any of the above without the consent of our lenders or non-compliance with any of the covenants of our financing agreements, constitute defaults under the relevant financing agreements and will entitle the respective lenders to declare a default against us and enforce remedies under the terms of the financing agreements, that include, among others, acceleration in repayment of the amounts outstanding under the financing agreements, enforcement of any security interest created under the financing agreements and taking possession of the assets given as security in respect of the financing agreements. Further, we cannot assure you that we will be able to obtain approvals to undertake any of these activities as and when required or to comply with such covenants or other covenants in the future. A default by us under the terms of any financing agreement may also trigger a cross-default under some of our other financing agreements, or any other agreements or instruments of our containing cross-default provisions, which may individually or in aggregate, have an adverse effect on our operations, financial position and credit rating. If the lenders of a material amount of the outstanding loans declare an event of default simultaneously, we may be unable to pay its debts when they fall due.

Further, we are required to, amongst other obligations, comply with certain financial covenants including maintaining the prescribed inventory margins, insurance covers on the hypothecated properties and lien creation. Our hypothecated assets comprise of our stocks, raw materials, semi-finished and finished goods, consumable stores and spares and such other movable current assets including book debts, bills whether documentary or clean, outstanding monies, receivables, both present and future. We have also mortgaged our immovable assets including the residential properties of Promoters in favour of the bank to secure the aforesaid facilities. There can be no assurance that we will be able to comply with these financial or other covenants or that we will be able to obtain consents necessary to take the actions that are required to operate and grow our business. Any fluctuations in the interest rates may directly impact the interest costs of such loans and affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Our ability to make repayments and refinance our indebtedness will depend on our continued ability to generate cash from our future operations. We may not be able to generate enough cash flow from operations or obtain enough capital to service our debt.

For details of our borrowings, see chapter titled “Financial Indebtedness” on page 330.

33. All our two (2) Promoters and our Group Company have provided personal guarantees for secured loan facilities obtained by us, and any failure or default by us to repay such loans could trigger repayment obligations on our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group, which may also impact our Promoter’s ability to effectively service its obligations as our Promoter and thereby, adversely impact our business and operations.

As of February 29, 2024, the secured borrowings aggregating to ₹ 6,453.70 lakhs have been sanctioned by scheduled commercial banks to our Company. Our promoters, namely Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav, Mrs. Anju Devi, have provided their personal guarantee in securing these borrowings. Further our promoter group company, namely KRN Coils Private Limited, as given its corporate guarantee for securing these limits. As of February 29, 2024, outstanding amounts from secured credit facilities personally guaranteed by our Promoters and member of the Promoter Group amounted to ₹ 6,453.70 Lakhs, which constitutes 99.98% of our total indebtedness aggregating to ₹ 6,455.07 Lakhs as on such date.

Although we have in our history never defaulted in repayments of loan and interest and have Debt Service Coverage Ratio of 16.18 times, 8.46 times, 6.17 times and 2.09 times for the period ended on September 30, 2023 and Financial Year ending on March 31, 2023, March 31, 2022 and March 31, 2021 respectively, any default or failure by us to repay our loans in a timely manner or at all could trigger repayment obligations on the part of our Promoters and certain member of the Promoter Group, in respect of such loans. This could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operation and financial condition. We may not be successful in procuring guarantees to supplement/ substitute the guarantees provided by our Promoters and member of Promoter Group satisfactory to the lenders, and as a result may need to repay outstanding amounts under such facilities or seek additional sources of capital, which could affect our business prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

While industry sources take due care and caution while preparing their reports, they do not guarantee the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of the data. Accordingly, investors should not place undue reliance on, or base their investment decision solely on this information.

In view of the foregoing, you may not be able to seek legal recourse for any losses resulting from undertaking any investment in the Issue pursuant to reliance on the information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus based on, or derived from, the D&B Report. You should consult your own advisors and undertake an independent assessment of information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus based on, or derived from, the D&B Report before making any investment decision regarding the Issue. See “Industry Overview” on page 147.

37. Our management will deploy net proceeds pending utilization for objects to issue in scheduled commercial banks and there is no assurance that the objects of the Issue will be achieved within the time frame expected or at all, or that the deployment of the Net Proceeds in the manner intended by us will result in any increase in the value of your investment. Any variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds or in the terms as disclosed in the Red Herring Prospectus would be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior shareholders’ approval.

We intend to use the Net Proceeds for (i) Investment in our wholly owned subsidiary, KRN HVAC Products Private Limited for setting up a manufacturing unit (“Proposed Project”); and (ii) general corporate purposes. The deployment of the Net Proceeds is based on management estimates, current circumstances of our business and prevailing market conditions and has not been appraised by any bank, financial institution or other independent institution. We may have to revise our funding requirements and deployment from time to time due to various factors, such as changes in costs, financial and market conditions, business and strategy considerations and interest and exchange rate fluctuations or other external factors, which may or may not be within the control of our management. This may entail rescheduling and revising planned expenditure and funding requirements and increasing or decreasing expenditures for a particular purpose from planned expenditures at the discretion of our management and subject to applicable law. Accordingly, investors in Equity Shares will be relying on the judgment of our management regarding the application of the Net Proceeds. The application of Net Proceeds in our business may not lead to an increase in the value of your investment.

Further, we will appoint a monitoring agency for monitoring the utilization of Net Proceeds in accordance with Regulation 41 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations and the monitoring agency will submit its report to us on a quarterly basis in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations.

In accordance with Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, we cannot undertake any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds or in the terms of any contract as disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus without obtaining the Shareholders’ approval through a special resolution. In the event of any such circumstances that require us to undertake variation in the disclosed utilization of the Net Proceeds, we may not be able to obtain the Shareholders’ approval in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability in obtaining such Shareholders’ approval may adversely affect our business or operations.

Further, our Promoters would be required to provide an exit opportunity to the shareholders who do not agree with our proposal to change the objects of the Issue or vary the terms of such contracts, at a price and manner as prescribed by SEBI. Additionally, the requirement on Promoters to provide an exit opportunity to such dissenting shareholders may deter the Promoters from agreeing to the variation of the proposed utilization of the Net Proceeds, even if such variation is in our interest. This may restrict our ability to respond to any change in our business or financial condition by re-deploying the unutilized portion of the Net Proceeds, if any, or varying the terms of any contract, which may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Various risks and uncertainties, including those set forth in this section “Risk Factors”, may limit or delay our efforts to use the Net Proceeds to achieve profitable growth in our business. For details see, “Objects of the Issue” on page 108.

38. The schedule of our estimated deployment of Net Proceeds is subject to inherent uncertainties.

The fund requirement and deployment are based on internal management estimates and our Company’s current business plan and are subject to change in light of changes in external circumstances or costs, other financial conditions, business or strategy. These estimates have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. In view of the dynamic nature of the sector and specifically that of our business, we may have to revise our expenditure and fund requirements as a result of variations in cost estimates, exchange rate fluctuations and external factors which may not be within the control of our management. This may entail rescheduling and revising the planned expenditures and fund requirements and increasing or decreasing expenditures for a particular purpose at the discretion of our management, within the objects. For further details refer to “Objects of the Issue” on page 108.

39. Our Company, its Promoters and our Directors are party to certain legal proceedings. Any adverse outcome in such proceedings may have an adverse impact on our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our Company, Promoters and Directors are currently involved in certain legal proceedings. These legal proceedings are pending at different levels of adjudication before various courts and tribunals. The summary of outstanding litigation in relation to our Company, our Promoters and Directors as on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus have been provided below in accordance with the Materiality Policy adopted by our Board. Amount does not include unquantifiable demand with respect to proposed adjustment in income of Rs. 6,194/- for the A.Y. 2023-24 under Section 143(1) of the Income Tax Act, 1961.*

The Company is in receipt of intimation in the Form GST DRC-01C with respect to difference in input tax credit availed in GSTR-3B and available as per GSTR-2B for the period September 2023 amounting to Rs. 1,46,83,606.30/-. The Company has furnished reply against such intimation. However, no show cause notice has been issued in respect of said matter under the provisions of the CGST Act.

^^The said case includes the case filed against our Promoters Anju Devi and Santosh Kumar Yadav and the amount involved is Rs. 14,00,000/- along with interest @15% p.a.

The amounts mentioned above may be subject to additional interest/ penalties being levied by the concerned authorities which have not been included above as not being ascertainable as on date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. We cannot assure you that these proceedings will be decided in favour of our Company, Promoters or our Directors, as the case may be. Any adverse decision in such proceedings may render us liable to penalties and may have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business and financial condition. Additionally, during the course of our business we are subject to risk of litigation in relation to contractual obligations, employment and labour laws, personal injury and property damage, etc.

Furthermore, if we get involved in disputes with third-parties in the course of our operations such as suppliers, customers and sub- contractors, the same may lead to legal or other proceedings and may result in substantial costs, delays in our development and operation schedule, and the diversion of resources and management's attention, regardless of the outcome. We may also have disagreements with regulatory authorities in the course of our operations, which may subject us to legal proceedings and unfavorable decisions that may result in penalties or delay or disrupt our development and operations.

40. Our manufacturing activities are dependent on the delivery of an adequate and uninterrupted supply of electrical power at a reasonable cost. Any shortage or any prolonged interruption or increase in the cost of power could adversely affect our business, result of operations, financial conditions and cash flows.

Adequate and cost-effective supply of electrical power is critical to our operations. We have our Units at Plot No. F-46, 47, 48, 49, EPIP, RIICO Industrial Area, Neemrana, Alwar, Rajasthan which depend on the delivery of an adequate supply of electrical power. We also have rooftop PV solar power panels installed at both units. We rely upon diesel generator sets to ensure continuity of operations in case of power outage. There have been no major instances of power failure in the last three years. There can however be no assurance that electricity supplied to our existing Units will be sufficient to meet our requirements or that we will be able to procure adequate and uninterrupted power supply in the future at a reasonable cost. If the per unit cost of electricity is increased by the state electricity board our power cost will increase. An interruption in or limited supply of electricity may result in suspension of our manufacturing operations. A prolonged suspension in production could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

41. We may not be able to protect our trademarks from infringement.

As on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus we have registered our “” brand name and logo as registered trademarks in India and we have applied for registering the logo under class 11, the application of which is accepted by the Trademark Registry. Although we take steps to monitor the possible infringement or misuse of our trademarks, it is possible that third parties may infringe, dilute or otherwise violate our trademark rights. Any unauthorized use of our trademarks could harm our reputation or commercial interests. In addition, our enforcement against third-party infringers or violators may be unduly expensive and time-consuming, and any remedy obtained may constitute insufficient redress relative to the damages we may suffer. For details, see chapter titled “Government and Other Approvals” on page 366.

42. If we are subject to any frauds, theft, or embezzlement by our employees, suppliers or customers, it could adversely affect our reputation, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Our operations may be subject to incidents of theft. We may also encounter some inventory loss on account of employees/ supplier/ customer fraud, theft, or embezzlement. Although we have set up various security measures in our units such as deployment of security guards and operational processes such as periodic stock taking, there can be no assurance that we will not experience any fraud, theft, employee negligence, loss in transit or similar incidents in the future, which could adversely affect our reputation, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Additionally, in case of losses due to theft, fire, breakage or damage caused by other casualties, there can be no assurance that we will be able to recover from our insurers the full amount of any such loss in a timely manner, or at all. If we incur a significant inventory loss due to third-party or employee theft and if such loss exceeds the limits of, or is subject to an exclusion from, coverage under our insurance policies, it could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, if we file claims under an insurance policy it could lead to increases in the insurance premiums payable by us or the termination of coverage under the relevant policy.

43. Our inability to collect receivables from our customers or default in payment by them could result in the reduction of our profits and affect our cash flows.

Our operations involve extending credit for extended periods of time to our customers in respect of our products and consequently, we face the risk of non-receipt of these outstanding amounts in a timely manner or at all, particularly in the absence of long-term arrangements with our customers. While we have not adopted any credit policy, we typically operate on pre-sanctioned credit limits with customers and cannot guarantee that our customers will not default on their payments. While we generally monitor the ability of our customers to pay these open credit arrangements and limit the credit, we extend to reasonable based on an evaluation of each customer’s financial condition and payment history, we may still experience losses because of a customer being unable to pay. As a result, while we maintain what a reasonable allowance for doubtful receivables for potential credit losses based upon our historical trends and other available information, there is a risk that our estimates may not be accurate. As majority of our customers operate from foreign jurisdictions, pursuing legal remedies to collect the trade receivables may involve paying higher legal fees and other expenses. Our inability to collect receivables from our customers in a timely manner or at all in future, could adversely affect our working capital cycle and cash flows. In period ended on September 30, 2023, Financial Year 2023, 2022 and 2021, our trade receivables were ₹ 4,228.11 Lakhs, ₹ 3,865.83 Lakhs, ₹ 2979.02 Lakhs and ₹ 1751.65 Lakhs respectively, which represented 26.32%, 15.62%, 19.08% and 23.10% of our Revenues from Operations for such periods, respectively. Macroeconomic conditions could also result in financial difficulties, including insolvency or bankruptcy of our customers and as a result could cause customers to delay payments to us, request modifications to their payment arrangements, that could increase our receivables or affect our working capital requirements or default on their payment obligations to us. An increase in bad debts or in defaults by our customers may compel us to utilize greater amounts of our operating working capital and result in increased financing costs, thereby adversely affecting our results of operations and cash flows.

44. Our insurance may be insufficient to cover all losses associated with our business operations.

Our insurance policies currently cover our inventories at manufacturing facility, secure rooms, transit, theft and while being handled by our employees, including with respect to fire, burglary, special perils and vehicles. Notwithstanding the insurance coverage that we carry, we may not be fully insured against abnormal business risks. There are many events that could significantly impact our operations, or expose us to third-party liabilities, for which we may not be adequately insured. There can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honored fully, in part, or on time. To the extent that we suffer any loss or damage that is not covered by insurance or exceeds our insurance coverage, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

The standard disclosures with respect to all the insurances availed by our company is as follows:

45. Our Subsidiary namely KRN HVAC Products Private Limited may not pay cash dividends on equity shares held by us. Consequently, our Company may not receive any return on investments in our Subsidiary.

Our Subsidiary KRN HVAC Products Private Limited is separate and distinct legal entity, having no obligation to pay dividends and may be restricted from doing so by law or contract, including applicable laws, charter provisions and the terms of its financing arrangements. We cannot assure you that our Subsidiary will generate sufficient profits and cash flows, or otherwise be able to pay dividends to us in the future.

46. We may be subject to labour unrest, slowdowns and increased wage costs.

India has stringent labour legislation that protects the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for the establishment of unions, dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. Our employees are not unionized. However, in the event that employees seek to unionize, it may become difficult for us to maintain flexible labour policies, which may increase our costs and adversely affect our business. A potential increase in the salary scale of our employees because of organization or unrest, or a disruption in services from our employees due to potential strikes, could adversely affect our business operations and financial condition.

47. Our ability to grow our business depends on our relationships with our customers and any adverse changes in these relationships, or our inability to enter new relationships and thereby expand our customer network, could negatively affect our business and results of operations.

Our business is dependent on the decisions and actions of our customers which is determined by our ability to maintain and strengthen our relationships and arrangements with existing customers. Our relationship with our customers is dependent to a large extent on our ability to regularly meet their requirements, including by introducing products with greater marketability, price competitiveness, efficient and timely product deliveries and consistent product quality. In the event we are unable to meet such requirements in the future, it may result in decrease in orders or cessation of business from affected customers. There are also a number of factors relating to our customers beyond our control that might result in the termination of our arrangement or the loss of a customer relationship, including change in preferences of our customers as well as a demand for price reductions. Further, the deterioration of the financial condition or business prospects of these customers could affect their ability to maintain inventory and thus reduce demand for our products and could result in a significant decline in the revenues we derive from such customers. Adverse changes in our relationships with our customers or the inability to develop new products for existing customers or to successfully establish relationships with new customers, could therefore limit our business prospects, which could adversely affect our financial performance.

We may also face disruptions in the delivery of our products for various reasons beyond our control, including poor freight forwarding of our products, transportation bottlenecks, natural disasters, infectious disease outbreaks such as the pandemics, acts of war and labour issues, which could lead to deliveries being delayed or lost, resulting in insufficient inventories with our customers. If we fail to deliver products to our customers in a timely manner our business and results of operations may be adversely affected.

48. Our ability to pay dividends or conduct share buybacks in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements and capital expenditures and lender consents and we cannot assure you that we will be able to pay dividends or conduct Share buybacks in the future.

Our Company has not declared and paid dividends in the past. Any dividends to be declared and paid in the future are required to be recommended by our Board of Directors and approved by our Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and applicable law, including the Companies Act. Our Company's ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on a number of internal and external factors, which, inter alia, include (i) profits earned by our Company, (ii) present and future capital requirements, (iii) overall financial position of our Company, and (iv) uncertainty in economic conditions. We cannot assure you that we will generate sufficient revenues to cover our operating expenses and, as such, pay dividends to our Shareholders in future consistent with our past practices, or at all. For details pertaining to our dividend policy, see "Dividend Policy" on page 259.

49. We have included certain non-GAAP financial and operational measures related to our operations and financial performance that may vary from any standard methodology that may be applicable across the industry in which we operate, and which may not be comparable with financial, operational or industry related statistical information of similar nomenclature computed and presented by similar companies.

Certain non-GAAP financial measures and certain other industry measures relating to our operations and financial performance have been included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. We compute and disclose such non-GAAP financial measures and such other industry related statistical information relating to our operations and financial performance as we consider such information to be useful measures of our business and financial performance, and because such measures are frequently used by securities analysts, investors and others to evaluate the operational performance of Heat Exchanger industry, many of which provide such non-GAAP financial measures and other industry related statistical and operational information. Such supplemental financial and operational information is therefore of limited utility as an analytical tool, and investors are cautioned against considering such information either in isolation or as a substitute for an analysis of our audited financial statements as reported under applicable accounting standards disclosed elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

These non-GAAP financial measures and such other industry related statistical and other information relating to our operations and financial performance may not be computed on the basis of any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry and therefore may not be comparable to financial measures and industry related statistical information of similar nomenclature that may be computed and presented by other companies. For further information, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on page 336.

50. We may be subject to unionization, work stoppages or increased labour costs, which could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our industry is labour intensive. The success of our operations depends on availability of labour and maintaining a good relationship with our workforce. As of November 31, 2023, we employed about 534 employees including 385 contractual employees across our units. We do not have any trade union registered under the Trade Unions Act, 1926. In the past three years, we have not experienced any labour dispute. We do not have any formal policy for redressal of labour disputes. Although we have not experienced any major interruption to our operations as a result of labour disputes in the recent past, there can be no assurance that we will not experience any such disruption in the future as a result of disputes or disagreements with our work force, which may adversely affect our ability to continue our business operations. We may also have to incur additional expense to train and retain skilled labour. We are also subject to a number of stringent labour laws that protect the interests of workers, including legislation that imposes financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. There can be no assurance that we will not experience labour unrest in the future, which may delay or disrupt our operations. Any labour unrest including labour disputes, strikes and lockouts, industrial accidents, experienced by us could directly or indirectly prevent or hinder our normal operating activities and, if not resolved in a timely manner, could lead to disruptions in our operations. In the event of any prolonged delay or disruption of our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

51. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage, or accurately report, our financial risks.

Effective internal controls are necessary for us to prepare reliable financial reports and effectively avoid fraud. Moreover, any internal controls that we may implement, or our level of compliance with such controls, may deteriorate over time, due to evolving business conditions. There can be no assurance that deficiencies in our internal controls will not arise in the future, or that we will be able to implement, and continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls. Any inability on our part to adequately detect, rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls may adversely impact our ability to accurately report, or successfully manage, our financial risks, and to avoid fraud.

52. Our Promoters or Directors may have interests, either directly or indirectly, in ventures involved in a business similar to us, which may result in a real or potential conflict of interest.

Our Promoters or Directors may also be on the board of directors or have commercial relationships with other ventures that may potentially compete with our Company, subject to the provisions and disclosure requirements provided under the code of conduct for board of directors and senior management personnel, the Companies Act and the SEBI Listing Regulations. For further details in relation to our Directors and Promoters, please see the sections entitled “Our Management” and “Our Promoters and Promoter Group” on pages 233 and 251, respectively.

Such interest and relationships of our Promoters and Directors may result in a real or potential conflict of interest affecting our business. While we continue to adhere to the requirements of the Companies Act, 2013 and the SEBI Listing Regulations, there can be no assurance that these or other conflicts of interest will be resolved in a timely and efficient manner.

Conflicts may arise in the ordinary course of decision-making by the Promoters or Board of Directors of our Company. For instance, one of our Group Companies, KRN Coils Private Limited, is authorized to carry out business similar to ours, which includes, manufacturing, buying, selling, importing, exporting of heat exchangers and its components, and our Promoters, Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav and Mrs. Anju Devi is on its board of directors. Further there is no assurance that our directors will not provide competitive services or otherwise compete in business lines in which we are already present or will enter in future. Such factors may have an adverse effect on the results of our operations and financial condition. Further we share the same premises of our registered office with our Group Company. There is no separate sub-lease agreement, rent sharing agreement or area sharing agreement. In case of any dispute, we may suffer a disruption in our operations which could have an adverse effect on our business and operations. Any multiple or overlapping use of the said facilities may create some disruption which may affect our business operations.

53. Our Promoter, also being the Managing Director, and some other Directors and Key Managerial Personnel of our Company, hold Equity Shares in our Company and are therefore interested in the Company's performance in addition to their remuneration and reimbursement of expenses.

Our Promoter, also being the Managing Director, and some other Directors and Key Managerial Personnel of our Company, are interested in our Company, in addition to their remuneration or benefits and reimbursement of expenses, to the extent of their shareholding in our Company. Our Promoter, Directors and KMPs shall abide by the provisions of SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 and protect the interests of the Company. However, in case of any conflict of interest our Promoter, Directors and KMPs shall keep the interests of our Company first over their personal interest, we cannot assure you that they will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interest of our Company. Our Promoter, Directors and KMPs may take or block actions with respect to our business which may conflict with the best interests of our Company or that of minority shareholders. For further information on the interest of our Promoter, Directors and KMPs of our Company, other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or remuneration or benefits, please see the chapters titles “Our Management” and “Our Promoter and Promoter Group” beginning on pages 233 And 251., respectively.

54. The inability to protect, strengthen and enhance our existing reputation could adversely affect our business prospects and financial performance.

Our business reputation is critical to the success of our business. While we have been making consistent efforts to strengthen our image, various factors, some of which are beyond our control, are critical for maintaining and enhancing our reputation and if not managed properly, may negatively affect our brand and reputation. These include our ability to effectively manage the quality of our products, increase brand awareness among existing and potential customers, adapt our advertising and promotion efforts to emerging industry standards and protect the intellectual property related to our brand.

Our success in marketing our existing and new products depends on our ability to adapt to a rapidly changing marketing and media environment, including our increasing reliance on direct promotional initiatives. There can be no assurance that our marketing efforts will be successful in maintaining our reputation and its perception with customers and/ or result in increased sales in the future. Also, we may not necessarily increase or maintain our sales promotion spending in proportion to our growth in the future, which may result in limited marketing initiatives. Our inability to adapt to evolving marketing trends at the same pace as our competitors may adversely affect our ability to effectively compete in terms of our image value.

Our reputation could also be negatively impacted if we fail to maintain our established standards of service, or if our products fail to meet the expectation of our customers. Any allegations of deterioration in product quality even when false or unfounded, could tarnish our image and may cause our customers to choose other competing products. Any negative publicity regarding us, our reputation, our products or the stones industry generally could adversely affect our business and our results of operations. Other risks associated with our industry include improper disclosure of proprietary information, negative comments about our brands or standard of service, exposure of personally identifiable information, fraud, hoaxes or malicious exposure of false information. The inappropriate use of social media by our customers, employees, suppliers or other third parties could also harm our reputation thereby increasing our costs, lead to litigation or result in negative publicity that could damage our reputation and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, counterfeit products, product defects and ineffective promotional activities are all potential threats to the image and potency of our brand. Our failure to develop, maintain and enhance our brand may result in decreased revenue and loss of customers and in turn adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

55. We have not entered into any formal arrangement for technical support service for maintenance and smooth functioning of our equipment's and machineries, which may affect our performance.

Our manufacturing processes involve daily use of technical equipment's and machineries. They require periodic maintenance checks and technical support in an event of technical breakdown or malfunctioning. Our Company has not entered into any formal technical support service agreements with a competent third-party vendor. However, Company has an in-house team for maintenance and advancement of machinery. Our failure to reduce the downtime in as such events occur may adversely affect our productivity, business and results of operations.

56. We have allotted 21,36,000 equity shares within the last twelve months, which may be at a price below the Issue Price.

Our company has undertaken a private placement issue of 21,36,000 equity shares having face value of ₹ 10/- each at an issue price of ₹ 152/- per equity shares within the last twelve months from date of filing the Draft Red Herring Prospectus to certain members of public. Since the Issue price of this Initial Public Offering has not been determined yet, there is no guarantee that the company may issue equity share at price higher than the price on which shares are issued in last twelve months i.e ₹ 152/- per equity shares.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

57. Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

The Indian economy and its securities markets are influenced by economic developments and volatility in securities markets in other countries. Investors' reactions to developments in one country may have adverse effects on the market price of securities of companies located elsewhere, including India. Adverse economic developments, such as rising financial or trade deficit, in other emerging market countries may also affect investor confidence and cause increased volatility in Indian securities markets and indirectly affect the Indian economy in general. Any of these factors could depress economic activity and restrict our access to capital, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows, and reduce the price of our Equity Shares. Any financial disruption could have an adverse effect on our business, future financial performance, shareholders' equity and the price of our Equity Shares. We are dependent on domestic, regional and global economic and market conditions. Our performance, growth and market price of our Equity Shares are and will be dependent to a large extent on the health of the economy in which we operate. There have been periods of slowdown in the economic growth of India. Demand for our products may be adversely affected by an economic downturn in domestic, regional and global economies. Economic growth in the countries in which we operate is affected by various factors including domestic consumption and savings, balance of trade movements namely export demand and movements in key imports, global economic uncertainty and liquidity crisis, volatility in exchange currency rates, and annual rainfall which affects agricultural production. Consequently, any future slowdown in the Indian economy could harm our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. Also, a change in the government or a change in the economic and deregulation policies could adversely affect economic conditions prevalent in the areas in which we operate in general and our business in particular and high rates of inflation in India could increase our costs without proportionately increasing our revenues, and as such decrease our operating margins.

Factors that may adversely affect the Indian economy, and hence our results of operations, may include:

- the macroeconomic climate, including any increase in Indian interest rates or inflation;
- any exchange rate fluctuations, the imposition of currency controls and restrictions on the right to convert or repatriate currency or export assets;
- any scarcity of credit or other financing in India, resulting in an adverse effect on economic conditions in India and scarcity of financing for our expansions;
- prevailing income conditions among Indian consumers and Indian corporations;
- epidemic, pandemic or any other public health in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India's various neighboring countries, such as the highly pathogenic H7N9, H5N1 and H1N1 strains of influenza in birds and swine and more recently, the COVID-19 pandemic;
- volatility in, and actual or perceived trends in trading activity on, India's principal stock exchanges;
- terrorism or military conflict in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India's various neighboring countries;
- occurrence of natural or man-made disasters (such as typhoons, flooding, earthquakes and fires) which may cause us to suspend our operations;
- prevailing regional or global economic conditions, including in India's principal export markets;
- other significant regulatory or economic developments in or affecting India or its consumption sector;
- international business practices that may conflict with other customs or legal requirements to which we are subject, including anti-bribery and anti-corruption laws;
- protectionist and other adverse public policies, including local content requirements, import/export tariffs, increased regulations or capital investment requirements;
- logistical and communications challenges;
- downgrading of India's sovereign debt rating by rating agencies;
- difficulty in developing any necessary partnerships with local businesses on commercially acceptable terms or on a timely basis; and

- being subject to the jurisdiction of foreign courts, including uncertainty of judicial processes and difficulty enforcing contractual agreements or judgments in foreign legal systems or incurring additional costs to do so.

Any slowdown or perceived slowdown due to these factors could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations and reduce the price of our Equity Shares. Any financial disruption could have an adverse effect on our business, future financial performance, shareholders' equity and the price of our Equity Shares.

58. Changing regulations in India could in lead to new compliance requirements that are uncertain.

The regulatory environment in which we operate is evolving and is subject to change. The Government of India may implement new laws or other regulations that could affect the HVAC & R industry, which could lead to new compliance requirements. New compliance requirements could increase our costs or otherwise adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Further, the manner in which new requirements will be enforced or interpreted can lead to uncertainty in our operations and could adversely affect our operations.

The Taxation Laws (Amendment) Act, 2019, also prescribes certain changes to the income tax rate applicable to companies in India. According to this Act, companies can henceforth voluntarily opt in favor of a concessional tax regime (subject to no other special benefits/exemptions being claimed), which would ultimately reduce the effective tax rate (on gross basis) for Indian companies from 34.94% to approximately 25.17%. Any such future amendments may affect our ability to claim exemptions that we have historically benefited from, and such exemptions may no longer be available to us. Any adverse order passed by the appellate authorities/ tribunals/ courts would have an effect on our profitability. Due to COVID -19 pandemic, the GoI had also passed the Taxation and Other Laws (Relaxation of Certain Provisions) Act, 2020, implementing relaxations from certain requirements under, amongst others, the Central Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017 and Customs Tariff Act, 1975.

In addition, we are subject to tax related inquiries and claims. We may be particularly affected by claims from tax authorities on account of income tax assessment and GST that combines taxes and levies by the central and state governments into one unified rate of interest with effect from July 1, 2017. For example, as of July 1, 2017, a national GST, in India replaced taxes levied by central and state governments with a unified tax regime in respect of the supply of goods and services for all of India, which resulted in changes to India's Heat Exchanger industry. Currently, the GST rate for is 18%, but it could be subject to change going forward. Any such changes to the GST rate or rules and regulations surrounding GST and the related uncertainties with respect to the implementation of GST may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Further, as GST is implemented, there can be no assurance that we will not be required to comply with additional procedures or obtain additional approvals and licenses from the government and other regulatory bodies or that they will not impose onerous requirements and conditions on our operations. With the implementation of GST, we are obligated to pass on any benefits accruing to us as result of the transition to GST to the consumer thereby limiting our benefits. In order for us to utilize input credit under GST, the entire value chain has to be GST compliant, including us. While we are and will continue to adhere to the GST rules and regulations, there can be no assurance that our suppliers and dealers will do so. Any such failure may result in increased cost on account of non-compliance with the GST and may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

We may incur increased costs relating to compliance with such new requirements, which may also require management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may affect the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future.

The Government of India has passed new laws relating to social security, occupational safety, industrial relations and wages namely, the Code on Social Security, 2020, the Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020, the Industrial Relations Code, 2020 and the Code on Wages, 2019, respectively which were to take effect from April 1, 2021 (collectively, the “Labor Codes”). The Government of India has deferred the effective date of the Labor Codes and they shall come into force from such date as may be notified by the Government. Further, the Code on Social Security, 2020 (“Social Security Code”) will impact overall employee expenses and, in turn, could impact the profitability of our Company. Under the Social Security Code, a new concept of deemed remuneration has been introduced, such that where an employee receives more than half (or such other percentage as may be notified by the Central Government), of their total remuneration in the form of allowances and other amounts that are not included within the definition of wages under the Social Security Code, the excess amount received shall be deemed as remuneration and accordingly be added to wages for the purposes of the Social Security Code and the compulsory contribution to be made towards the employees’ provident fund. We may incur increased costs and other burdens relating to compliance with such new requirements, which may also require significant management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future.

59. A downgrade in ratings of India, may affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Our borrowing costs and our access to the debt capital markets depend significantly on the credit ratings of India. Any adverse revisions to India’s credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such financing is available, including raising any overseas additional financing. A downgrading of India’s credit ratings may occur, for example, upon a change of government tax or fiscal policy, which are outside our control. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favourable terms or at all, and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of the Equity Shares.

60. Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, including conditions in the United States, Europe and certain emerging economies in Asia. Financial turmoil in Asia, Russia and elsewhere in the world in recent years has adversely affected the Indian economy. Any worldwide financial instability may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and us. Although economic conditions vary across markets, loss of investor confidence in one emerging economy may cause increased volatility across other economies, including India. Financial instability in other parts of the world could have a global influence and thereby negatively affect the Indian economy. Financial disruptions could materially and adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Further, economic developments globally can have a significant impact on our principal markets. Concerns related to a trade war between large economies may lead to increased risk aversion and volatility in global capital markets and consequently have an impact on the Indian economy. Following the United Kingdom’s exit from the European Union (“Brexit”), there remains significant uncertainty around the terms of their future relationship with the European Union and, more generally, as to the impact of Brexit on the general economic conditions in the United Kingdom and the European Union and any consequential impact on global financial markets. For example, Brexit could give rise to increased volatility in foreign exchange rate movements and the value of equity and debt investments. The full scale military invasion of Russia into Ukraine and the subsequent sanctions placed on Russia by various countries has substantially affected the economic stability of the world and such volatility could impact the Company's growth.

In addition, the USA is one of India's major trading partners and any possible slowdown in the American economy as well as a strained relationship with India could have an adverse impact on the trade relations between the two countries. In response to such developments, legislators and financial regulators in the United States and other jurisdictions, including India, implemented a number of policy measures designed to add stability to the financial markets. However, the overall long-term effect of these and other legislative and regulatory efforts on the global financial markets is uncertain, and they may not have the intended stabilizing effects. Any significant financial disruption could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operation, and cash flows. These developments, or the perception that any of them could occur, have had and may continue to have a material adverse effect on global economic conditions and the stability of global financial markets, and may significantly reduce global market liquidity, restrict the ability of key market participants to operate in certain financial markets or restrict our access to capital. This could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows, and reduce the price of the Equity Shares.

61. If inflation rises in India, increased costs may result in a decline in profits. Inflation rates in India have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue.

Inflation rates in India have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue in the future. India has experienced high inflation in the recent past. Increased inflation can contribute to an increase in interest rates and increased costs to our business, including increased costs of transportation, wages, raw materials and other expenses relevant to our business.

High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our expenses, which we may not be able to adequately pass on to our clients, whether entirely or in part, and may adversely affect our business and financial condition. In particular, we might not be able to reduce our costs or entirely offset any increases in costs with increases in prices for our products. In such case, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

Further, the Government has previously initiated economic measures to combat high inflation rates, and it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect. There can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not worsen in the future.

62. Investors may have difficulty in enforcing foreign judgments against our Company or our management.

Our Company is a company incorporated under the laws of India. All Directors on the Board of Directors of our Company and our employees are residents of India and substantial portion of our assets and such persons are located in India. As a result, it may not be possible for prospective investors outside India to effect service of process upon our Company or such persons in jurisdictions outside India, or to enforce judgments obtained against such parties outside India. Furthermore, it is unlikely that a court in India would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action were brought in India or would enforce foreign judgments if that court was of the view that the number of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with public policy, or if judgments are in breach or contrary to Indian law. In addition, a party seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain approval from the RBI to execute such a judgment or to repatriate outside India any amounts recovered. Further, any judgment or award denominated in a foreign currency would be converted into Indian Rupees on the date of such judgment or award and not on the date of payment.

Recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments is provided for under Section 13 and Section 44A of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 ("CPC"). Section 13 of the Civil Procedure Code provides that a foreign judgment shall be conclusive regarding any matter directly adjudicated upon between the same parties or parties litigating under the same title, except (a) where the judgment has not been pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction; (b) where the judgment has not been given on the merits of the case; (c) where it appears on the face of the proceedings that the judgment is founded on an incorrect view of international law or a refusal to recognize the law of India in cases in which such law is applicable; (d) where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained were opposed to natural justice; (e) where the judgment has been obtained by fraud; and (f) where the judgment sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law then in force in India. Further, India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with only a limited number of jurisdictions, such as the United Kingdom, United Arab Emirates, Singapore and Hong Kong. In order to be enforceable, a judgment from a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements established in the CPC. The CPC only permits the enforcement and execution of monetary decrees in the reciprocating jurisdiction, not being in the nature of any amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges, fines or penalties. Judgments or decrees from jurisdictions which do not have reciprocal recognition with India, including the United States, cannot be enforced by proceedings in execution in India. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any court in a non-reciprocating territory for civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the general laws of the non-reciprocating territory, would not be directly enforceable in India. The party in whose favor a final foreign judgment in a non-reciprocating territory is rendered may bring a fresh suit in a competent court in India based on the final judgment within three years of obtaining such final judgment.

63. A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of us because of anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may delay, deter or prevent a future takeover or change in control of our Company. Under the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. Although these provisions have been formulated to ensure that interests of investors/shareholders are protected, these provisions may also discourage a third party from attempting to take control of our Company. Consequently, even if a potential takeover of our Company would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to their market price or would otherwise be beneficial to our Shareholders, such a takeover may not be attempted or consummated because of SEBI (SAST) Regulations, 2011.

64. Fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on the value of our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

On listing, our Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of our Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time taken for such conversion may reduce the net dividend to foreign investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares outside India, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares may reduce the proceeds received by Shareholders. For example, the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated substantially in recent years and may continue to fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the returns on our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

65. Under Indian law, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain restrictions), if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or falls under any of the exceptions referred to above, then a prior regulatory approval will be required. Further, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries/ departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities.

In addition, in accordance with circular, dated October 15, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. These investment restrictions shall also apply to subscribers of offshore derivative instruments. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained with or without any particular terms or conditions or at all.

We cannot assure investors that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all. For further information, see “Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities” on page 423.

RISKS RELATING TO EQUITY SHARES

66. Pursuant to listing of the Equity shares of our Company, our Company may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures like Additional Surveillance Measures (“ASM”) and Graded surveillance Measures (“GSM”) by the Stock Exchanges in order to enhance market integrity and safeguard the interest of the investors.

On and post the listing of equity shares of our Company, our Company may be subject to ASM and GSM by the Stock Exchange(s) and the SEBI. These measures have been introduced in order to enhance market integrity, and safeguard the interest of the investors and to alert and advise investors to be extra cautious and carry out necessary due diligence that may be required while dealing in such securities. The criteria for shortlisting any scrip trading on the Stock Exchange(s) under the ASM is based on an objective criterion as jointly decided by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges(s), which include market based dynamic parameters such as high low variations, client concentration, close to close price variation, market capitalization, delivery percentage, volume variation, number of unique PAN’s and price to equity ratio. A scrip is typically subjected to GSM measures where there is an abnormal price rise that is not commensurate with the financial health and fundamentals of a company, which inter alia includes factors like earnings, book value, fixed assets and net worth to the equity ratio etc. The price of our equity shares may also fluctuate after the offer due to several factors such as volatility in the Indian and global securities market, our profitability and performance, our financial results, the performance of our competitors, change in the estimates of our performance or any other political or economic factor. The occurrence of any of the above-mentioned factors may trigger the parameters identified by SEBI and the Stock Exchange(s) for the placing securities under the GSM and ASM framework. In the event of our Equity Shares are covered under such pre-emptive surveillance measures implemented by SEBI and the Stock Exchange (s), we may be subject to certain additional restrictions in the relation to trading of our Equity Shares such as limiting trading frequency (for example trading either allowed in a week or a month as the case may be) higher margin requirements of settlement on a trade for trade basis, without netting off requirement of settlement on gross basis or freezing price on upper side of trading which may have an adverse effect on the market price of our Equity Shares or may in general cause disruptions in the development of an active market for and trading and liquidity of our Equity Shares and on the reputation and conditions of our Company.

67. The trading volume and market price of the Equity Shares may be volatile following the Issue.

The market price of the Equity Shares may fluctuate as a result of, among other things, the following factors, some of which are beyond our control:

- quarterly variations in our results of operations;
- results of operations that vary from the expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- results of operations that vary from those of our competitors;
- changes in expectations as to our future financial performance, including financial estimates by research analysts and investors;
- a change in research analysts' recommendations;
- announcements by us or our competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint operations or capital commitments;
- announcements by third parties or governmental entities of significant claims or proceedings against us;
- new laws and governmental regulations applicable to our industry;
- additions or departures of key management personnel;
- changes in exchange rates;
- fluctuations in stock market prices and volume; and
- general economic and stock market conditions.

Changes in relation to any of the factors listed above could adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares.

68. The Issue Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Issue.

The Issue Price of the Equity Shares will be determined by our Company in consultation with the BRLM through the Book Building Process. This price will be based on numerous factors, as described under the chapter "Basis for Issue Price" beginning on page 133 and may not be indicative of the market price for the Equity Shares after the Issue. The market price of the Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Issue and may decline below the Issue Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

69. Our Equity Shares have never been publicly traded and may experience price and volume fluctuations following the completion of the Issue, an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop, the price of our Equity Shares may be volatile and you may be unable to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price or at all.

Prior to the Issue, there has been no public market for our Equity Shares, and an active trading market may not develop or be sustained after the Issue. Listing and quotation does not guarantee that a market for our Equity Shares will develop or, if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares. The Issue Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a book building process. This price will be based on numerous factors, as described in the section “Basis for Issue Price” beginning on page 133. This price may not necessarily be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue is completed. You may not be able to re-sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue price and may as a result lose all or part of your investment.

Our Equity Shares are expected to trade on NSE and BSE after the Issue, but there can be no assurance that active trading in our Equity Shares will develop after the Issue, or if such trading develops that it will continue. Investors may not be able to sell our Equity Shares at the quoted price if there is no active trading in our Equity Shares.

There has been significant volatility in the Indian stock markets in the recent past, and the trading price of our Equity Shares after this Issue could fluctuate significantly as a result of market volatility or due to various internal or external risks, including but not limited to those described in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. The market price of our Equity Shares may be influenced by many factors, some of which are beyond our control, including:

- the failure of security analysts to cover the Equity Shares after this Issue, or changes in the estimates of our performance by analysts;
- the activities of competitors and suppliers;
- future sales of the Equity Shares by us or our shareholders;
- investor perception of us and the industry in which we operate;
- our quarterly or annual earnings or those of our competitors; developments affecting fiscal, industrial or environmental regulations; the public’s reaction to our press releases and adverse media reports; and general economic conditions.

A decrease in the market price of our Equity Shares could cause you to lose some or all of your investment.

70. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under the current Indian tax laws and regulations, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. A securities transaction tax (“STT”) is levied both at the time of transfer and acquisition of the equity shares (unless exempted under a prescribed notification) and collected by an Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. Any gain realized on the sale of equity shares held for more than 12 months, which are sold using any other platform other than on a recognized stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, are subject to long term capital gains tax in India. Such long-term capital gains exceeding ₹ 100,000 arising from the sale of listed equity shares on the stock exchange are subject to tax at the rate of 10% (plus applicable surcharge and cess). Unrealized capital gains earned on listed equity shares up to January 31, 2018 continue to be tax exempt in such cases. Further, STT will be levied on and collected by an Indian stock exchange if the equity shares are sold on a stock exchange. With respect to capital gains arising in an off-market sale, long term capital gains are subject to tax at the rate of 10% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) without the exemption of ₹ 100,000. Short-term capital gains, arising from the sale of such equity shares on a stock exchange would be subject to tax at the rate of 15% (plus applicable surcharge and cess), while short term capital gains arising in an off-market sale would be subject to tax at a higher rate of 40% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) in the case of foreign companies and 30% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) in the case of other non-resident taxpayers.

The Finance Act, 2019 amended the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 with effect from July 1, 2020 and clarified that, in the absence of a specific provision under an agreement, the liability to pay stamp duty in case of sale of securities through stock exchanges will be on the buyer, while in other cases of transfer for consideration through a depository, the onus will be on the transferor. The stamp duty for transfer of securities other than debentures, on a delivery basis is specified at 0.015% and on a non-delivery basis is specified at 0.003% of the consideration amount. As such, there is no certainty on the impact that the Finance Act, 2019 may have on our Company's business and operations.

Further, any gain realised on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. In cases where the seller is a non-resident, capital gains arising from the sale of the equity shares will be partially or wholly exempt from taxation in India in cases where the exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident. Additionally, the Finance Act, 2020 does not require dividend distribution tax to be payable in respect of dividends declared, distributed or paid by a domestic company after March 31, 2020, and accordingly, such dividends would not be exempt in the hands of the shareholders, both resident as well as non-resident. Historically, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the equity shares.

Our Company cannot predict whether any tax laws or other regulations impacting it will be enacted, or predict the nature and impact of any such laws or regulations or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have a material adverse effect on our Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

71. Future sales of Equity Shares by our Promoter may adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares.

After the completion of the Issue, our Promoters will own, directly, more than [●]% of our outstanding Equity Shares. Upon expiry of the lock-in period provided under the SEBI ICDR Regulations, our Promoter will be eligible to sell part or all of the Equity Shares held by it. Future sales of a large number of the Equity Shares by our Promoter, either in one sale or over a series of sales, could adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares. Similarly, the perception that any such primary or secondary sale may occur could adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares. No assurance may be given that our Promoter will not dispose of, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares in the future, or that the market price of the Equity Shares will not be adversely affected by any such disposal, pledge or encumbrance of their Equity Shares.

72. Holders of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby may suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a company having share capital and incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages before the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by adoption of a special resolution. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction where the investors are located in do does not permit them to exercise their pre-emptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, the investors will be unable to exercise their pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for the investor's benefit. The value the custodian receives on the sale of such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. In addition, to the extent that the investors are unable to exercise pre-emption rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares held by them, their proportional interest in us would be reduced.

73. The requirements of being a publicly listed company may strain our resources.

We are not a publicly listed company and have not, historically, been subjected to the increased scrutiny of our affairs by shareholders, regulators and the public at large that is associated with being a listed company. As a listed company, we will incur significant legal, accounting, corporate governance and other expenses that we did not incur as an unlisted company. We will be subject to the Listing Regulations which will require us to file audited annual and unaudited quarterly reports with respect to our business and financial condition. If we experience any delays, we may fail to satisfy our reporting obligations and/ or we may not be able to readily determine and accordingly report any changes in our results of operations as promptly as other listed companies. Further, as a publicly listed company, we will need to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, including keeping adequate records of daily transactions. In order to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, significant resources and management attention will be required. As a result, our management's attention may be diverted from our business concerns, which may adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. In addition, we may need to hire additional legal and accounting staff with appropriate experience and technical accounting knowledge, but we cannot assure you that we will be able to do so in a timely and efficient manner.

74. Investors will not be able to sell immediately on an Indian stock exchange any of the Equity Shares they purchase in the Issue.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to applicable Indian laws, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading in the Equity Shares may commence. Investors' book entry, or 'demat' accounts with depository participants in India, are expected to be credited with the Equity Shares within one working day of the date on which the Basis of Issue is approved by the Stock Exchanges. The Allotment of Equity Shares in this Issue and the credit of such Equity Shares to the applicant's demat account with depository participant could take time from the Bid/ Issue Closing Date and trading in the Equity Shares upon receipt of final listing and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges could also take from the Bid/Issue Closing Date. There could be a failure or delay in listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval or otherwise any delay in commencing trading in the Equity Shares would restrict investors' ability to dispose of their Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods specified in this risk factor. We could also be required to pay interest at the applicable rates if allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched or demat credits are not made to investors within the prescribed time periods.

75. Stringent environmental, health and safety laws and regulations or stringent enforcement of existing environmental, health and safety laws and regulations may result in increased liabilities and increased capital expenditures.

Our operations are subject to environmental, health and safety and other regulatory and statutory requirements in the jurisdictions in which we operate. We are subject to various national, state, municipal and local laws and regulations concerning environmental protection in India. Non-compliance with these laws and regulations could expose us to civil penalties, criminal sanctions and revocation of key business licenses. Environmental laws and regulations in India are becoming more stringent and the scope and extent of new environmental regulations, including their effect on our operations, cannot be predicted with any certainty. In case of any change in environmental or pollution regulations, we may be required to invest in, among other things, environmental monitoring, pollution control equipment and emissions management.

As a consequence of unanticipated regulatory or other developments, future environmental and regulatory related expenditures may vary substantially from those currently anticipated. We cannot assure you that our costs of complying with current and future environmental laws and other regulations will not adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition or cash flows. In addition, we could incur substantial costs, our products could be restricted from entering certain markets and we could face other sanctions, if we were to violate or become liable under environmental laws or if our products become non-compliant with applicable regulations. Our potential exposure includes fines and civil or criminal sanctions, third-party property damage or personal injury claims and clean-up costs. The amount and timing of costs under environmental laws are difficult to predict.

76. Significant differences exist between Ind AS and other accounting principles, such as Indian GAAP, U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to the Financial Statements prepared and presented in accordance with SEBI ICDR Regulations contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our Restated Financial Information for the Period ended September 30, 2023 and for the Financial Years ended on March 31, 2023, 2022 and 2021 have been prepared and presented in conformity with Ind AS. Ind AS differs in certain significant respects from Indian GAAP, IFRS, U.S. GAAP and other accounting principles with which prospective investors may be familiar in other countries. If our financial statements were to be prepared in accordance with such other accounting principles, our results of operations, cash flows and financial position may be substantially different. Prospective investors should review the accounting policies applied in the preparation of our financial statements and consult their own professional advisers for an understanding of the differences between these accounting principles and those with which they may be more familiar. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should be limited accordingly.

77. QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid amount) at any stage after submitting a bid, and Retail Individual Investors are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after bid/issue closing date.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are required to block the Bid amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of equity shares or the Bid amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Similarly, Retail Individual Investors can revise or withdraw their Bids at any time during the bid/issue period and until the Bid/issue closing date, but not thereafter. While we are required to complete all necessary formalities for listing and commencement of trading of the Equity Shares on all Stock Exchanges where such Equity Shares are proposed to be listed, including Allotment, within three Working Days from the Bid/issue Closing Date or such other period as may be prescribed by the SEBI, events affecting the Investors' decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. We may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events may limit the Investors' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Issue or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing. Therefore, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors will not be able to withdraw or lower their bids following adverse developments in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows or otherwise between the dates of submission of their Bids and Allotment.

78. Rights of shareholders of companies under Indian law may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Our Articles of Association, composition of our Board, Indian laws governing our corporate affairs, the validity of corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties, responsibilities and liabilities, and shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights under Indian law may not be as extensive and widespread as shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may face challenges in asserting their rights as shareholder our Company than as a shareholder of an entity in another jurisdiction.

79. Future issuances or sales of the Equity Shares could dilute your shareholding and significantly affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

The future issuance of Equity Shares by us, the disposal of Equity Shares by any of our major shareholders or the perception that such issuance or sales may occur, may lead to the dilution of your shareholding in the Company or significantly affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. These sales could also impair our ability to raise additional capital through the sale of our equity securities in the future.

Furthermore, under the Securities Contract (Regulation) Rules, 1957, as amended ("SCRR"), listed companies are required to maintain public shareholding of at least 25% of their issued share capital. Failure to comply with the minimum public shareholding provision would require a listed company to delist its shares and may result in penal action being taken against the listed company pursuant to the SEBI Act. This may require us to issue additional Equity Shares or require our Promoter or Promoter Group to sell their Equity Shares, which may adversely affect our trading price.

In case of a shortfall in raising requisite capital from the Net Proceeds towards meeting the Objects of the Issue, we may explore a range of options including utilising our internal accruals, any additional equity or debt arrangements or both. Such alternate arrangements would be available to fund any such shortfalls. Further, in case of any variations in the actual utilization of funds earmarked for the purposes set forth above, increased fund requirements for a particular purpose may be financed by surplus funds, including from internal accruals, if any, available in respect of the other purposes for which funds are being raised in the Issue. To the extent our Company is unable to utilise any portion of the Net Proceeds towards the aforementioned Objects, per the estimated scheduled of deployment specified above, our Company shall deploy the Net Proceeds in subsequent year i.e. 2025-26 towards the aforementioned Objects, in accordance with applicable law. Global Macroeconomic Landscape

After a healthy rebound in 2021, the global economy witnessed a recessionary situation in 2022, as growth across the major countries moderated and inflation remains sticky at record-high levels in the face of aggressive monetary tightening around the world.

Real GDP growth	2021	2022	2023P	2024P
World	6.0%	3.4%	2.8%	3.0%
India	8.7%	6.8%	5.9%	6.3%
China	8.1%	3.0%	5.2%	4.5%
Japan	1.7%	1.1%	1.3%	1.0%
USA	5.7%	2.1%	1.6%	1.1%
UK	7.4%	4.0%	-0.3%	1.0%
EU	5.2%	3.5%	0.8%	1.4%

Source: International Monetary Fund, April 2023 Outlook

Uncertainty related to food and energy supply emerged as major risk to stable governance, debt sustainability and business continuity across developed and emerging markets. The three economic heavyweights - the US, China, and the EU - continue to grapple with a host of challenges. Consequently, even fundamentally strong, export-oriented developing markets faced weak growth in 2022.

The slowdown in economic growth has led central banks to rethink the monetary easing, which was the preferred tool during the previous global recession. Tightening labour markets, and strong demand pressure and high inflation is complicating the policy direction. Although a full-fledged recession is yet to set in, there are clear indications of a global slowdown and businesses should remain vigilant and resilient.

Business, especially with cross border linkages should consider two key points. The timing and intensity of this economic slowdown is likely to differ as the US is on a much better footing than the EU; and some developing markets in Asia, the Middle East and Latin America will outperform the US in coming months. Secondly, businesses cannot rely on the kind of policy support that was forthcoming in the last two global recessions (2008 and 2020). With higher interest rates, government debt is now costlier, hence fiscal support, too, will likely be limited or targeted. Businesses must thus critically assess the implications of the slowdown on their operations, their subsidiaries, or suppliers.

The first month of 2023 was quite eventful - Croatia joined the Eurozone as its 20th member, Brazil witnessed a mini-insurrection, India overtook China as the world's most populous nation, and the US hit its debt ceiling.

Given where inflation levels are currently hovering (and the fact that core pricing pressures have not yet abated), more will have to be done to weather the storm. This is reflected in central bank commentaries. We expect central banks, including the US Fed, to continue hiking rates in the upcoming meetings, albeit at a slower pace. What businesses should know is that we are heading toward a synchronized global economic slowdown, and that they should prepare for a possible recession in developed markets. Further, the logic that a central-bank-engineered recession (if at all) should be mild, might hold true for the US, but in Europe, the course that the ongoing Russia-Ukraine war takes may continue to impact outcomes. Moreover, milder than usual weather has played an important role in easing pressure on energy prices in Europe.

India's Key Economic Indicator

India's economy is showing signs of resilience with GDP estimated to grow by approximately 7.2% in FY 2023. Although this translates into a moderation in demand (compared to FY 2022), the estimated GDP growth in FY 2023 represents a return to pre pandemic era growth path. Despite this moderation in growth, India continues to remain one of the fastest growing economies in the world.

There are quite a few factors that is aiding India's economic recovery – notably its resilience to external shocks (ongoing Russia – Ukraine conflict) and rebound in private consumption. This rebound in private consumption is bringing back the focus on improvements in domestic demand, which together with revival in export demand is a precursor to higher industrial activity. Already the capacity utilization rates in Indian manufacturing sector are recovering as industries has stepped up their production volumes. As this momentum sustains, the increasing capacity utilization would lead to fresh round of capacity expansion plan. The universal vaccination program by the Government has played a big part in reinstating confidence among the population, in turn helping to revive private consumption.

Realizing the need to impart external stimuli, the Government stepped up its spending on infrastructure projects which in turn had a positive impact on economic growth. The capital expenditure of central government increased by nearly 64% during the first 8 months of FY 2023. This has provided the much-needed confidence to private sector, and in turn attracted private investment.

On the lending side, the financial health of major banks have witnessed an improvement which has helped in improving the credit supply. With capacity utilization improving, there would be demand for credit from corporate sector to fund the next round of expansion plans. Banking industry is well poised to address that demand. Underlining the improving credit scenario is the credit growth to micro, small and medium enterprise (MSME) sector which increased by nearly 31% in January –

November 2022 period, compared to corresponding period previous year². The extended Emergency Credit Linked Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) by the Union Government has played a major role in improving this credit supply.

India's GDP in FY 2023 is expected to grow by 7% compared to 9.1% in the previous fiscal on the back of slowing domestic as well as external demand owing to series of interest rate hikes globally to tackle high inflation. The year-on-year moderation in growth rate is also partly due to a fading impact of pandemic-induced base effects which had contributed towards higher growth in FY 2022. On a quarterly basis, the country's growth moderated in Q2 and Q3 of FY 2023 which highlights the impact of slowing economy on the back of monetary tightening. During Q3 FY 2023, the country's GDP grew by 4.36% against 6.28% y-o-y increase in the corresponding quarter last fiscal.

Sectoral analysis of GVA reveals growth tapered sharply in the industrial sector which is estimated to grow by just 3.6% against 11.6% in the previous fiscal. In the industrial sector, growth across major economic activity such as mining, manufacturing, construction sector slowed and it registered a growth of 3.38%, 0.56% and 9.12% in FY 2023 against a decline 7.07%, 11.05% and 14.82% in FY 2022, respectively.

Sectoral analysis of GVA reveals growth tapered sharply in industrial sector which is estimated to grow by just 3.6% against 11.6% in the previous fiscal. In the industrial sector, growth across major economic activity such as mining, manufacturing, construction sector slowed and it registered a growth of 3.38%, 0.56% and 9.12% in FY 2023 against a decline 7.07%, 11.05% and 14.82% in FY 2022, respectively. Utilities sector too observed a marginal moderation in y-o-y growth to 9.15% against a decline of 3.6% in the previous years.

Talking about the services sectors performance, with major relaxation in covid restriction, progress on covid vaccination and living with virus attitude, business in service sector gradually returned to normalcy in FY 2022. Economic recovery was supported by the service sector as individual mobility returned to pre-pandemic level. The trade, hotel, transport, communication, and broadcasting segment continued to strengthen and grow by 14.18% in FY 2023 against 13.75% in the previous year and financial services, real estate and professional services sector recorded 6.85% y-o-y growth against 4.73%. However, overall service sector growth was curbed by moderation in public administration and defense services sector which recorded 7.12% yearly increase against 9.7% increase in the previous year.

Quarterly GVA Performance

Quarterly GVA number indicated sustained weakness in economic activity during Q3 FY 2023 with manufacturing activity being the worst hit segment amongst the industrial sectors. India's manufacturing sector shrank by 1.1% on-year in Q3 FY 2023, a second straight contraction highlighting the continuing weakness in consumer demand and exports. In Q2 FY 2023, manufacturing sector output was down by 3.57%. While quarterly growth in both agriculture and other sectors within industrial sector strengthened during Q3 FY 2023.

Agriculture sector GVA strengthen in Q3 FY 2023 to register 3.68% yearly growth compared to both corresponding quarter last year (2.28%) and previous quarter (2.4%) in FY 2022. Any growth between 3.5-4% in farm sector is considered above the long-term trend line. Construction sector witnessed 8.39% y-o-y growth in Q3 of FY 2023 against 5.85% y-o-y growth in the previous quarter, mining and quarrying sector, and Electricity, gas, water supply & other utility services sector registered 3.7% and 8.24% y-o-y growth against -0.4% and 5.96%, respectively.

In Q3 FY 2022, yearly growth stood as 0.23%, 5.42% and 5.99% in construction, mining and quarrying and Electricity, gas, water supply & other utility services sector, respectively. Within service sector, quarterly growth moderated across all segments in Q3 FY 2023 against the previous quarter. Trade, hotel, transport, communication, and broadcasting segment observed 9.56% y-o-y growth in Q3 as compared to 15.64% growth in the last quarter. Other services sector broadly classified under Public Admin, Defence & Other Services and Financial, Real Estate & Professional Services too observed 1.99% and 5.79% growth in Q3 FY 2023 against 5.57% and 7.13% y-o-y change in Q2 FY 2023.

Index of Industrial Production

After experiencing three years of deteriorating industry growth, the country's Index of Industrial Production (IIP) index registered 11.3% y-o-y growth where growth was evenly spread across all sub-segments. Manufacturing index, with 77.6% weightage in overall index, registered 11.7% y-o-y growth in FY 2022 while mining sector index registered the highest growth. On use-based classification basis, infrastructure/construction goods, capital good, intermediate good and consumer durable outperformed over the other sector and registered healthy double-digit growth.

In the current year, IIP index which improved steadily between March to May moderated sharply in the subsequent three month and it measured lowest in October 2022 while it showed temporary improvement by growing at 7.3% in subsequent. However, IIP again moderated to register 4.3% y-o-y growth in December 2022. Manufacturing activity, which has 77.6% weightage in the overall index, grew by 2.6% in December 2022 while mining activity and electricity index grew by 9.8% and 10.4%, respectively. On y-o-y basis, monthly IIP growth in December 2022 was relatively higher compared to previous year due to low base effect where overall IIP was adversely affected by onset of third wave of pandemic. Low base effect and year end festive sale are likely to support IIP growth in the coming month. However, moderation in external demand and consequent decline in trade have potential to affect manufacturing sector output and put downward pressure on overall IIP growth.

Sources: MOSPI

As per the use-based classification, growth in all segments excluding primary goods deteriorated in December 2022 against previous month. Consumer good and intermediate goods were worst hit segments. The Contracting IIP data points towards adverse operating business climate as global headwinds, high inflation, and monetary tightening started having adverse impact on manufacturing activity.

Investment & Consumption Scenario

Other major indicators such as Gross fixed capital formation (GFCF), a measure of investments, moderated during Q2 FY 2023 and Q3 FY 2023 while 8% y-o-y growth number was encouraging against 1.2% yearly growth in Q3 FY 2022. Despite the festive season demand and largely a covid-free economy, Private Final Consumption Expenditure (PFCE) a realistic proxy to gauge household spending, observed a continued moderation in Q3 FY 2023 where yearly growth softened to 2.1% which was nearly 7% lower compared to Q2 FY 2023.

Inflation

India's inflation rate based on Wholesale Price Index (WPI) moderated to nearly 24 months low with 4.7% y-o-y change in January 2023 against 5% (y-o-y) increase in the December 2022. Softening prices of mineral oils, chemicals & chemical products, textiles, crude petroleum & natural gas, textiles, and food products contributed towards moderation in WPI inflation rate in January 2023. Separately, The Food Index which consisting of 'Food Articles' from Primary Articles group and 'Food Product' from Manufactured Products increased to 2.95% in January 2023 from 0.65% in December 2022.

Retail inflation rate (as measured by Consumer Price Index) again jumped above 6% tolerance limit of the central bank in January 2023 after observing mild moderation in the previous two month. The overall CPI grew by 6.5% in January 2023 due to spike in food inflation and CPI food index grew by 5.9% during FY 2023 against 4.2% y-o-y growth in the previous month. Within food index, Cereals and product-led food inflation reached 16.1 per cent in January 2023 from 13.8 per cent in December 2022. As a part of anti-inflationary measure, the RBI has hiked the repo rate by 225 bps since May to current 6.25%, with latest fourth round hike announced on 8 Feb 2023. The Reserve Bank of India has estimated an average inflation rate of 6.5% for FY 2023. However, the headline inflation is expected to decline in the coming year, to an average of nearly 5.2% in FY 2024. This forecast is based on the easing of global commodity prices and some moderation in domestic demand.

Growth Outlook

Amidst the difficult and uncertain external economic environment, the Indian government has delivered a balanced Union Budget which focuses on achieving an inclusive and sustainable growth while adhering to the fiscal glide path. Notwithstanding the external risk, there is a sustained momentum in economic activity supported by domestic drivers. The consumer confidence survey by the Reserve bank of India points towards rising confidence of households both for the current situation as well as the future expectations (for a one-year period).

Rural demand is likely to be boosted by good prospects for agricultural output and discretionary spending is expected to support urban consumption supporting. Resilient domestic financial markets, sturdy growth in credit and the government's thrust on capital expenditure is expected to drive momentum in investment activity. Capacity utilization in the manufacturing sector has surpassed its long period average. Thus, the stance taken by the government to not only emphasize on the top-down approach to growth i.e focusing on substantial capital outlay, but also to place focus on the bottom of the pyramid by trying to unleash the potential of the primary sector in the Union Budget should support India's growth momentum in 2023.

Some of the key factors that would propel India's economic growth in the coming years

Government focus on infrastructure development

Infrastructure development has remained recurring theme in India's economic development. The launch of flagship policies like National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP), and PM Gati Shakti plan have provided the coordination & collaboration that was lacking earlier. Both NIP and PM Gati Shakti are ambitious billion-dollar plans that aims to transform India's infrastructure, elevating it to the next level. These projects are expected to improve freight movement, debottleneck the logistics sector, and improve the industrial production landscape, which would provide the incremental growth in GDP. In its Union Budget FY 2023, the Government has increased the capital expenditure by 35% to nearly INR 7.5 lakh crore – which indicates the strong Government focus on improving the overall infrastructure landscape in India.

Development of Domestic Manufacturing Capability

The Government launched Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme in early 2020, initially aimed at improving domestic manufacturing capability in large scale electronic manufacturing and gradually extended to other sectors. At present it covers 14 sectors, ranging from medical devices to solar PV modules. The PLI scheme provides incentives to companies on incremental sales of products manufactured in India. This incentive structure is aimed to attracting private investment into setting up manufacturing units and thereby beef up the domestic production capabilities. The overall incentives earmarked for PLI scheme is estimated to be INR 2 lakh crore. If fully realizing the PLI scheme would have the ability to add nearly 4% to annual GDP growth, by way of incremental revenue generated from the newly formed manufacturing units.

Strong Domestic Demand

Domestic demand has traditionally been one of the strong drivers of Indian economy. After a brief lull caused by Covid-19 pandemic, the domestic demand is recovering. Consumer confidence surveys by Reserve Bank / other institutions are points to an improvement in consumer confidence index, which is a precursor of improving demand. India has a strong middle-class segment which has been the major driver of domestic demand. Factors like fast paced urbanization and improving income scenario in rural markets are expected to accelerate domestic demand further. This revival is perfectly captured by the private final consumption expenditure (PFCE) metric. PFCE as a percentage of GDP increased to nearly 59.2 during the first half of FY 2023, which is the highest level it has achieved during the past few years. Although pent-up demand has played a part in this surge, this is an indication of normalization of demand.

There are two factors that are driving this domestic demand: One the large pool of consumers and second the improvement in purchasing power.

- The share of middle class increased from nearly 14% in 2005 to nearly 30% in 2021 and is expected to cross 60% by 2047. This expanding middle class household segment is fuelling India's growth story and would continue to play a key role in propelling India's economic growth.
- As per National Statistics Office (NSO) India's per capita income (in current prices) stood at INR 1.72 lakhs in FY 2023 which is nearly double of what it was in FY 2015. This increase in per capita income has impacted the purchasing pattern as well as disposable spending pattern in the country. Consumer driven domestic demand is majorly fuelled by this growth in per capita income.

Digitization Reforms

Ongoing digitization reforms and the resultant efficiency gains accrued would be a key economic growth driver in India in the medium to long term. Development of digital platforms has helped in the seamless roll out of initiatives like UPI, Aadhaar based benefit transfer programs, and streamlining of GST collections. All of these have contributed to improving the economic output in the country. Some of the key factors that has supported the digitization reforms include – the growth in internet penetration in India together with drop in data tariffs, growth in smartphone penetration, favourable demographic pattern (with higher percentage of tech savy youth population) and India's strong IT sector which was leveraged to put in place the digital ecosystem. All these factors are expected to remain supportive, and continue to propel the digitization reforms in India.

Heat Exchanger

Product Profile

Heat exchangers transfer thermal energy from one fluid to another, while ensuring that the fluids do not mix. This process is facilitated by conduction, enabling the heat exchanger to heat or cool a substance. Heat exchangers provide a means of regulating temperature, enhancing efficiency, averting overheating, and mitigating other potential hazards, resulting in an improvement in safety standards. Heat exchangers are considered more efficient and reliable in operations wherein some parameters, like temperature differential, flow rate and installation guidelines, are evaluated successfully.

Being an efficient source of energy saving, heat exchangers find applications across a broad range of domestic and industrial applications such as steam power plants, chemical processing plants, food processing, HVAC systems, mining, pulp & paper, metallurgy etc. Heat exchangers typically are suitable for deployment in areas which have ample spaces such as industrial complexes, commercial space, hospitals, educational institutes etc. These systems are not generally preferred or feasible for smaller capacities, especially residential, as the economies of scale are difficult to overcome.

Types of Heat Exchanger

Shell and Tube Heat Exchangers

A shell and tube heat exchanger (STHE) is a heat exchanging device made up of a large cylindrical enclosure, or shell, that has bundles of perfectly spaced tubing compacted in its interior. Shell & tube products are generally used in applications that require transfer between two liquids, between liquids & gases or between two gases and a wide temperature and pressure range. Their properties of managing fluids at high temperature and pressure makes them suitable for various applications such as chemical and petrochemical plants, oil & gas and power sectors among others. These type of heat exchangers have a simple structure and are ideal for heat transfer from steam to water.

Three types of commonly used shell and tube heat exchangers are-

1. Fixed Tube Sheet Heat Exchanger

In this type of exchanger, the tube sheet is welded to the shell. This leads to a simple and economical structure, and the cleaning of tube bores can be performed mechanically or chemically. However, the outer surface of the tubes is inaccessible other than chemical cleaning. Rear headers are usually of L, M, and N types.

2. U- Tube Heat Exchanger

In a U-Tube exchanger, any type of front header may be used, and the rear header is typically M-Type. U-tubes allow unlimited thermal expansion. Also, the tube bundle can be eliminated for cleaning, and a small bundle to shell clearances can be obtained. Since it is difficult to clean inside the tubes with mechanical tools, it is normal to use this type only where the fluids on the tube side are clean.

3. Floating Head Heat Exchanger

In the floating head exchanger, the tube sheet is not welded to the shell at the rear header end but is permitted to move or float. The tube sheet at the front header has a larger diameter than the shell and is sealed in a manner like that applied in the fixed tube sheet design. The tube sheet at the rear header end of the shell is somewhat smaller in diameter than the shell and allows the bundle to be drawn through the shell.

The application of a floating head means that thermal expansion is allowed, and the tube bundle can be eliminated for cleaning purposes. Several types of rear headers can be utilized, but the S-Type Rear Head is the most common.

The three flow types of shell and tube heat exchangers are parallel, counter, and cross. Due to design considerations and the applications of heat exchangers, it is rare that a heat exchanger be only one of these flow types, usually they are a combination of several flow types e.g. counter cross flow.

- Parallel flow is when the shell and tube sides enter the heat exchanger at the same end and flow directly to the opposite end. The temperature change is the same for each fluid and increases or reduces by the same amount.
- Counter flow is when the fluids are flowing in opposite directions, enter the heat exchanger at opposite ends, and discharge at opposite ends. The counter flow is the most popular and efficient type of heat exchanger.
- In a crossflow shell and tube heat exchanger, the fluids flow perpendicular to each other at a 90-degree angle. One of the fluids in a cross-heat exchanger changes state (just as in a steam system condenser where cooling water absorbs the steam), then is absorbed by the fluid that has remained in its liquid state.

The operation of a shell and tube heat exchanger is based on the thermal exchange and flow of two different fluids. One fluid flow through the tubes while the other flows through the shell, which is divided into two sections: the shell side and the tube side.

The allocation of hot and cold fluids is a critical decision when working with a shell and tube heat exchanger. The shell side is designed to handle low-pressure fluids, while the tubes are intended for high-pressure fluids.

Shell and tube heat exchangers are used in various cooling applications and are particularly effective at cooling hydraulic fluid and oil in engines, transmissions, and hydraulic power packs. Additionally, with the appropriate choice of materials, they can be used to cool or heat other fluids, such as swimming pool water or charge air.

One of the key benefits of shell and tube heat exchangers is their ease of maintenance, particularly when a floating tube bundle is available. Due to the cylindrical design of the housing, they are capable of withstanding high pressure, making them suitable for a wide range of pressure applications.

Finned Tube Heat Exchanger / Fin and Tube Type Heat Exchanger

Finned tube heat exchanger has fins attached to the end of tubes. Such a construction increases the heat transfer area, which in turn helps in increasing the heat transfer rate. Typically, a dense liquid which is capable of transporting heat efficiently and a fluid with very little density (like gas or air) are used as heat transfer mediums. The flow pattern of fluids in this type of heat exchangers is primarily cross flow, with fluids travelling perpendicular to each other. Since air is one of the fluids used to transfer heat, finned tube heat exchanger is also called air cooled heat exchanger or air fin coolers.

Some of the advantages finned tube heat exchanger enjoys over other variants include increased heat transfer coefficient (due to higher heat transfer surface area), reduced equipment size, and compatibility with a range of materials (like copper, aluminium, carbon steel, stainless steel, and titanium).

A finned tube heat exchanger is used when air / gas is the preferred fluid used to heat up or cool down the working fluid. The presence of fins increases the overall surface area available for heat transfer. Because of this the total number of tubes required for a particular application can be lower which in turn reduces the equipment size. This enables creating heat exchanger of smaller size making it ideal for mobile refrigeration applications.

Some of the commonly used type of finned tube / air cooled heat exchanges:

- 1. Forced Draft Air Cooled Heat Exchanger: In this type, a mechanical draft fan is used to force air over the heat transfer surface of the exchanger. The fans are set below the tube bundles and push air across the tube surface. This design allows for better accessibility for maintenance and fan blade adjustment. As a result, it needs less structural support, it can have a longer mechanical life and it can lower the capital costs.
- 2. Induced Draft Air-Cooled Heat Exchanger: In this type, the air is drawn through the exchanger by an induced draft fan placed on the outlet side of the heat exchanger. Since the fans are located above the bundle, the air is pulled across the finned tube surface. This arrangement provides a more even distribution of air due to lower air velocity. Additionally, an induced draft air-cooled exchanger is less likely to recirculate exhaust air and is less susceptible to sudden temperature changes since only a portion of its surface is exposed to the elements.
- 3. Natural Draft Air-Cooled Heat Exchanger: This type of exchanger relies on the natural buoyancy of hot air to move it upwards, creating a natural draft to draw cooler air in at the bottom of the exchanger. However, there may be a chimney above the tube bundle that creates the draft that drives air through the tube bundle.

Plate Heat Exchangers (PHEs)

A Plate Heat Exchanger is a heating device that facilitates the transfer of heat between two fluids that are separated by a thin metal plate, and are typically used for liquid-liquid exchange at low to medium pressures. This method allows for a high rate of heat transfer in a compact space, making it useful for a variety of applications where space is at a premium. With their compact size, high heat transfer rates, and low maintenance requirements, plate heat exchangers are becoming increasingly popular in many industries., especially in the food industry as they have multiple plates inside the frame, reducing or eliminating microbial, thereby making the product safe for consumption.

There are 4 main types of PHEs-

1. Gasketed plate heat exchangers – These exchangers use high-quality gaskets and designs to seal plates together and prevent fluid from leaking out. Plates can easily be removed for cleaning, expansion, or replacing purposes.
2. Brazed plate heat exchangers – Brazed plate heat exchangers use a process called brazing to bond the plates together. This creates a more durable and compact heat exchanger that can withstand higher pressures and temperatures than Gasketed plate heat exchangers. Used in many industrial and refrigeration applications, these exchangers can be very efficient and compact. This tends to make them a highly economic choice. A stainless-steel plate with copper brazing can be highly resistant to corrosion.
3. Welded plate heat exchangers – These are very similar to gasketed heat exchangers but the difference is the Welded plates can be attached together. They are very durable and are ideal when it comes to transferring fluids with high temperatures or corrosive materials. Since the plates can be welded together, cleaning the plates isn't possible compared to cleaning plate heat exchangers.
4. Semi-Welded plate heat exchangers – These are a combination of welded and gasket plates. The two plates are welded together and gasketed to other pairs within the heat exchanger. This results in an easy to service heat exchanger and you're able to transfer more fluids throughout the system. Semi-Welded heat exchangers are great for transferring expensive materials due to their low risk of fluid loss.

The plates in a plate heat exchanger are typically made of metal, such as stainless steel or titanium, and are corrugated to increase the surface area available for heat transfer.

When the hot and cold fluids enter the plate heat exchanger, they flow through the alternating channels between the plates. As they flow through the channels, they exchange heat through the thin metal walls of the plates, without coming into direct contact with each other. This heat exchange process continues as the fluids flow through the channels and eventually exit the heat exchanger.

The flow of the hot and cold fluids in a plate heat exchanger can be arranged in different ways, depending on the application and performance requirements. The most common flow arrangement is counterflow, where the hot and cold fluids flow in opposite directions, which maximizes the temperature difference between the two fluids and provides the highest heat transfer rates.

In addition to this, the plate heat exchanger can also be designed with different types of channels to optimize the flow of the fluids. The most common types of channels are herringbone, chevron, and straight. Herringbone and chevron channels are designed to create turbulence in the fluid flow, which increases the heat transfer rate. Straight channels are designed for applications where low-pressure drop is important.

A plate heat exchanger comes with a compact design and offers a lower cost option wherever stainless steel is required. One of the biggest advantages of plate exchangers is the efficiency that accompanies their compact design. These heat exchangers are created with several corrugated plates on the frame of the equipment, essentially creating a design that uses the entire body during the heat transferring process.

Modern plate heat exchangers use pressed plates, which are less expensive than the welded plates and are also more resistant to corrosion and chemical reactions that weaken the product and hence require frequent maintenance or replacement.

Spiral Tube Heat Exchangers

Spiral tube heat exchangers have excellent heat exchanger properties because of far compact and high heat transfer efficiency. The heat transfer rate associated with a spiral tube is higher than that for a straight tube. Spiral tube heat exchangers consist of one or more spirally wound coils which are, in circular pattern, connected to header from which fluid is flowed. This spiral coil is installed in a shell another fluid is circulated around outside of the tube, leads to transfer the heat between the two fluids.

Spiral tube heat exchangers use single channel technology i.e. both fluids occupy a single channel, which allows fully counter-current flow. The working of this technology includes one fluid (hot fluid) entering the centre of the unit and flowing towards the periphery whereas the other fluid (cold fluid) enters the unit at the periphery and moves towards the centre. Spiral tube heat exchangers are generally used for pasteurization, heat recovery, digester heating, effluent cooling, and pre-heating.

Types of Materials Used

A wide range of metals is used in heat exchangers, depending upon the nature of the fluids handled. The type of metals used ranges from steel to rare metals like Zirconium. Some of the common materials used include carbon steel, stainless steel, aluminium, copper, and copper-nickel. The end use application of heat exchanger has a huge bearing on the type of material selected.

Type of Heat Exchanger	Common materials used
Shell & Tube	Carbon steel, stainless steel, brass, and titanium
Finned Tube/ Air cooled	Duplex stainless steel, carbon steel, aluminium, copper
Plate Heat Exchanger	Stainless steel, Titanium

Both copper and aluminum are commonly used as materials for fins in heat exchangers, and they offer various advantages.

Aluminium based Fins and Tubes	Copper based Fins and Tubes

Lightweight: Aluminium is a lightweight material compared to alternatives such as copper or steel.	Corrosion Resistance: Copper exhibits excellent resistance to corrosion, particularly in non-acidic environments. This corrosion resistance helps protect the fins from degradation and extends the lifespan of the heat exchanger.
Cost Effective: Aluminium is relatively more cost effective than other materials like copper or stainless steel. The lower cost of aluminium fins can contribute to overall cost savings in heat exchanger manufacturing. Heat exchanger manufacturers save 20-25% on material costs. Corrosion Resistance: Aluminium has natural corrosion resistance, especially when exposed to air. This property helps protect the fins from oxidation and corrosion, extending the lifespan of the heat exchanger. No galvanic corrosion between fin and tube. Aluminium based tubes can be used in ammonia systems, while copper tubes are not recommended for such applications.	Compatibility with Different Fluids: Copper tubes are compatible with a wide range of fluids, allowing for versatile use in heat exchangers across various industries.

Key Applications & End-Use Industries

Heat exchangers find applications in various industries where there is a requirement of transferring heat from one medium to another. Heat exchangers help to maintain the desired temperature, reduce energy consumption, and increase the efficiency of the overall process.

Different types of heat exchangers are used in different industries based on the application and requirements. The widespread use of heat exchangers in various sectors has made them an essential component of modern industrial processes.

Below are the key applications of heat exchangers across different end-use industries-

- Chemical Processing: Heat exchangers are used in the chemical processing industry to transfer heat between fluids in different stages of a chemical reaction. This can help to maintain temperature control and prevent unwanted reactions or changes in the properties of the fluid. In some cases, heat exchangers may also be used to recover energy from the chemical reaction.
- Oil and Gas Industry: Heat exchangers are used in the oil and gas industry for heating and cooling fluids during production, transportation, and processing operations. In this case scenario, heat exchangers may be used to heat crude oil to make it more viscous and easier to transport, or to cool gas after compression to reduce the risk of explosions.
- Power Generation: Heat exchangers are used in power generation systems, such as nuclear and fossil fuel power plants, to transfer heat from the working fluid to the environment. This helps to increase the efficiency of the power generation process. There are two types of heat exchangers commonly used in power generation systems: boilers, which produce steam by heating water, and condensers, which transfer heat from the steam to the environment.
- HVAC Systems: Heat exchangers are used in HVAC systems to transfer heat between the air being circulated and the fluid in the system. For example, in a heating system, the heat exchanger will transfer heat from the hot water or steam circulating in the system to the air in the building. In a cooling system, the heat exchanger will transfer heat from the air in the building to the refrigerant in the system.
- Food and Beverage Processing: Heat exchangers are used in the food and beverage industry for heating and cooling processes. For example, in pasteurization, heat exchangers are used to heat the product to a specific temperature and hold it there for a specific amount of time to kill bacteria and extend the shelf life of the product. In sterilization, heat exchangers are used to heat the product to a higher temperature to kill all microorganisms. In cooling, heat exchangers are used to rapidly cool the product to prevent spoilage.
- Refrigeration: Heat exchangers are used in refrigeration systems to transfer heat from the refrigerant to the surrounding environment. This is how refrigeration systems cool the space or object being refrigerated. There are two types of heat exchangers commonly used in refrigeration evaporators, which absorb heat from the surrounding environment, and condensers, which release heat into the surrounding environment.

- Aerospace and Defence: Heat exchangers are used in aerospace and defence applications for a variety of purposes, such as in aircraft and spacecraft cooling systems, hydraulic systems, and fuel systems. In an aircraft cooling system, heat exchangers are used to transfer heat from the engine and other components to the surrounding air to prevent overheating. They are also used in spacecraft thermal control systems to regulate the temperature of the spacecraft and its equipment.
- Automotive Industry: Heat exchangers are used in the automotive industry for cooling the engine, transmission, and other vehicle components, as well as for heating and cooling the passenger compartment. They are used in components such as radiators, intercoolers, and oil coolers. In an engine cooling system, heat exchangers are used to transfer heat from the engine to the surrounding air or to the coolant in the system.
- Renewable Energy: Heat exchangers are used in renewable energy systems, such as solar thermal and geothermal systems, to transfer heat from the source to the working fluid. For example, in a solar thermal system, heat exchangers are used to transfer heat from the solar collector to the water or other fluid being heated. In a geothermal system, heat exchangers are used to transfer heat from the underground heat source to the fluid being circulated.
- Pharmaceutical Industry: Heat exchangers play a vital role in the pharmaceutical industry, where they are used for processes such as sterilization, evaporation, and crystallization. They are used in applications such as drug manufacturing, bioreactors, and vaccine production.
- Industrial waste heat recovery: Industrial waste heat recovery captures hot gases as they exit industrial equipment to use the heat energy. Some of these gases can be extremely hot and need specialist heat exchangers to handle them effectively. These gases can be corrosive.

Global Heat Exchanger Market

Global heat exchanger market is valued at USD 15.6 billion in 2022⁵, with annual turnover in the industry increasing a CAGR of 6.2% between 2019 and 2022. Globally, the demand for heat exchanger is driven by two key factors – increasing demand for sustainable low energy consumption as well as cost-effective solutions to achieve the same.

On the one hand, industries across the world are investing in technologies & processes that are designed to reduce costs and improve operational efficiency. This is seen as a precursor to the next stage of evolution of the industrial sector – namely Industry 4.0 which involves close integration with digital technologies. This development pathway has triggered innovations in products / hardware used as well as systems & processes. In the case of heat exchangers, the innovation is directed towards superior designs that would improve thermal efficiency which in turn will help in reducing energy cost as well as cut down their carbon footprint.

Primary Research, D&B Estimates

Traditionally North America and Europe were the two strongest market for heat exchangers, partly due to their strong industrial base and the pace of innovations in manufacturing space. However, the gradual shift in manufacturing & industrial activity from developed markets to developing economies like China and India is triggering a change in global heat exchanger market.

Large scale industrialization in China and India has transformed APAC into a key market for heat exchangers. Countries like China, India and Southeast Asian nations which have led to increased demand for energy and infrastructure development, thus driving the need for heat exchangers in various sectors such as power generation, oil and gas, and chemical processing. Further, the presence of a robust manufacturing base complementing expanding industrial sectors and supported by rising public and private investments in key industries have created a favourable market environment for heat exchangers in the Asia Pacific region This transformation has made APAC the fastest growing heat exchanger market. Between 2019 and 2022, the APAC heat exchanger market witnessed a compounded growth rate of 7%, higher than the growth that was registered in Americas and Europe.

Primary Research, D&B Estimates

Indian Heat Exchanger Industry

Indian market for heat exchanges reached USD 625 million per annum in 2022, with annual industry turnover increasing by a CAGR of 10% between 2019 and 2022. Heat exchanger industry too was impacted by the spread of Covid-19 pandemic, as annual revenue growth in the industry dropped to 6% in 2020. Demand has recovered in the subsequent years, helping the industry grew its revenue by an average of 11% per annum in 2021 and 2022.

Insights from Primary Research

Rapid industrialization and urbanization, coupled with aggressive drive on infrastructure front have all accelerated the demand for heat exchangers. The strong annual growth in revenue is a result of these supporting factors. In addition, the ubiquitous nature of heat exchanger – which finds application across all major industry segments – have ensured that a general growth in industrial activity and positive economic sentiment translate into demand for the product.

Apart from these direct demand drivers, the increasing focus on efficient energy usage to contain carbon emissions is shaping up as an indirect demand driver. Heat exchangers with its ability to facilitate efficiency heat transfer helps in optimizing energy demand. Given the dominant role played by hydrocarbon energy sources, any optimization in energy demand will directly translate into lower carbon emissions. So, heat exchangers is expected to play a major part in India’s sustainable development journey.

By Type of Heat Exchanger

Shell & tube heat exchanger, followed by finned tube heat exchanger are two of the largest product segments in Indian heat exchanger industry. In 2022, shell & tube heat exchanger accounted for nearly 53% of the total industry revenue while finned tube heat exchanger accounted for nearly 21%. Between 2019 and 2022, revenue growth in both these product segments has grown by a CAGR of approximately 10%.

Insights from Primary Research

By End Use Industries

Chemical manufacturing and oil & gas industries are the two largest consumers of heat exchangers in India, with each accounting for nearly one fifth of total industry turnover in 2022. Other key end use consumers are power & energy, HVAC, and metallurgy. Together these five industries contributed to 80% of the heat exchanger industry revenue in 2022.

High demand for heat exchangers within the chemical industry as chemical industry frequently involves processes that necessitate precise temperature control, efficient cooling, and heat transfer. Therefore, heat exchangers play a crucial role in facilitating these operations. In addition, after COVID 19 chemical and pharmaceutical industry expanded significantly which in turn have helped generate demand for heat exchangers.

Primary Research, D&B Estimates, Others – food & beverage and paper & pulp are the notable inclusions

Finned Tube Heat Exchanger

Finned tube heat exchanger is the second largest product segment in the Indian heat exchanger market, accounting for nearly one fifth of the overall industry revenue. In 2022, finned tube heat exchanger segment realized an annual revenue of USD 133 million, increasing by a CAGR of nearly 10% between 2019 and 2022. The increasing demand for energy efficient cooling applications is one of the key factors that is driving the demand for finned tube heat exchanger. Moreover, the compact nature of finned tube heat exchanger is also an added advantage – because of the lower space requirement and lower cost, when compared to other product types.

Insights from Primary Research

Copper finned tubes are the preferred material used in finned tube heat exchangers that are used for heat exchanger applications like condensers, evaporators, chillers, oil coolers etc – mainly for all kind of cooling & heating applications. The preference for copper material is because of its superior heat transfer rate, resulting in faster cooling.

Heating, Ventilation, air conditioning (HVAC) and refrigeration are the key end use applications that are driving the demand for finned tube heat exchangers in Indian market. In refrigeration applications, heat exchangers are used as condensers or evaporators, with finned tube and plate heat exchangers finding usage. Finned tube heat exchangers are the most used heat exchangers in HVAC systems, where it is used to exchange heat between air and the refrigerant / coolant. In addition, shell & tube type heat exchangers and tube-in-tube heat exchangers also find application in HVAC segment.

Heat Exchanger Usage in HVAC Systems

Heat exchangers are an integral part of the refrigeration cycle in a HVAC system. Heat exchangers, being a cold source of the central refrigeration system, can be used on the heat condenser cycle or in the evaporation refrigeration cycle. Typically, a refrigerant system comprises of one compressor, one condenser, one expansion valve and one evaporator: wherein the condenser and evaporator both act as heat exchangers. In the evaporator the refrigerant absorbs the heat of the water, so that it remains chilled. On the other hand, in the condenser the refrigerant rejects that heat and the compressor heat to other media which is usually air or water.

The efficiency of the whole system can be increased by integrating heat exchangers with other refrigeration equipment. For example, reducing energy consumption of condensers by feeding the condensers with refrigerating fluids and gasses reduced in temperature.

Applications of heat exchangers for refrigeration can be found across diverse sectors wherever cooling or heating of different mediums such as water, coolant, gases and ammonia is required. For example, in the food industry heat exchangers are generally used for preserving the quality and for sanitizing processes. They are used to heat water to sterilize food or increase their temperature to decontaminate them or improve the longevity by quick freezing process. In the metallurgical industry, heat exchangers are used for optimizing the processes related to change in water temperature as it is used to cool the water metal molds and presses which release high levels of heat.

The Indian refrigeration equipment market is undergoing rapid development on the back of increasing household income, lower penetration, rapid urbanization and gradual shift towards nuclear families among others. It is further supported by introduction of innovative models and easy availability of consumer financing for home appliances. Advanced technology related to frost free, inverters, energy saving capabilities etc. is playing an important role in the purchasing decision of the consumer. Presence of well-established domestic and international players have led to intense competition leading to a wide range of options for the consumer. Further, the convenience of buying has become easier with heavy discounts and festive offers on e-commerce platforms

Demand from HVAC Segment

In HVAC segment, heat exchangers are used for heating, cooling, heat recovery, dehumidification, and moisture control. The focus on creating energy efficient buildings and systems has magnified the importance of heat exchangers in a HVAC system, as deploying of heat exchangers is one of the preferred techniques to reduce energy usage as well as cut back on greenhouse gas emissions. Thus, heat exchanger finds application across HVAC industry, from residential HVAC systems to large scale industrial HVAC systems.

Indian HVAC Market

Indian HVAC market generated an annual turnover of approximately USD 7.8 billion in 2021, and it is expected to grow by a CAGR of 15% till 2030 to reach USD 27.4 billion. Traditionally, commercial, and industrial applications used to lead the HVAC industry in the country. However, beginning 2000 the usage of HVAC system in residential segment, and mobile / transport application has started becoming mainstream. Substantial increase in income levels and aspirational changes drove HVAC demand in residential / retail consumer segment. Meanwhile in traditional industrial and commercial segments, the rapid expansion in office space as well as industrialization ensured the demand for HVAC remain strong.

Insights from Primary Research, F - Forecast

The HVAC market in India experienced a shift towards energy-efficient systems, driven by rising energy costs and environmental concerns. The government's initiatives to promote energy efficiency, such as the Energy Conservation Building Code (ECBC) and the Standards and Labelling (S&L) program, played a crucial role in driving the adoption of energy-efficient HVAC systems.

Additionally, there is a growing awareness of indoor air quality and the need for improved ventilation and air purification, leading to increased demand for HVAC systems that can address these concerns. The industry is witnessing a shift towards technologically advanced HVAC solutions, including smart controls, remote monitoring, and energy management systems, providing enhanced comfort and energy efficiency.

The sectors that employ HVAC systems most in India include commercial buildings, hospitals, hospitality (hotels and restaurants), retail spaces, educational institutions, and industrial facilities. These sectors require efficient HVAC systems to maintain comfortable and healthy indoor environments for occupants.

The Indian government's focus on infrastructure development, smart cities, and sustainable building practices further boosts the demand for HVAC systems. Initiatives like Make in India, promoting domestic manufacturing, have also contributed to the growth of the HVAC industry by encouraging local production and reducing dependency on imports.

Emerging Trends In Indian HVAC Industry & Impact On Heat Exchangers

Sustainable development, and efforts to cut down carbon footprint are two of the key factors that are reshaping the overall industrial landscape in India. HVAC industry is also adopting technologies and processes to reduce its carbon footprint. Geothermal heat pumps, and smart thermostats are two of the technologies that is gaining traction as the HVAC industry makes the transition. The HVAC industry is expected to see large scale investments to upgrade its technology. This investment in new technologies highlights the industry's commitment to improving energy efficiency and sustainability.

With rising energy costs and increasing environmental concerns, there is a growing demand for HVAC systems that consume less energy while providing optimal performance. The adoption of advanced technologies such as smart controls, IoT integration, energy management systems, and improved insulation materials will drive the industry further towards greater efficiency and reduced carbon footprint.

Demand For HVAC System From Building Segment

Building sector is the key demand driver for HVAC systems, with adoption level spread across residential, commercials, industrial and infrastructure sub sectors. Apart from ensuring comfortable conditions, HVAC usage is also gaining traction because of the need to improve energy efficiency. Thus, a growth in building stock - backed by regular addition of new building - plays a direct role in promoting the demand for HVAC system. At present buildings account for approximately 20% of energy usage in India, with the share as high as 31% in commercial buildings. With Indian Government promoting efficient energy usage, the need for installing HVAC system that optimise energy usage has become important now. Against this rising demand, the current penetration of HVAC system in Indian building sector is less than 5%.

Such a low penetration of HVAC system in Indian building segment, along with pressing need to optimize energy usage in building sector points towards an aggressive growth in HVAC adoption in the coming years. It is this scenario that has promoted many industry players and associations to paint an optimistic growth forecast - with several stakeholders predicting a compounded growth rate in the range of anywhere between 15 to 30% during this decade. This optimistic demand scenario bodes well for finned tube heat exchanger, which is the most prominent heat exchanger used by the HVAC industry.

Growth In Building Stock In India:

The total building stock in India (residential & commercial) which stood at nearly 2,100 million square meters in 2005 is expected to reach approximately 10,400 million square meters by 2030, increasing by a CAGR of 6.6%. This growth in overall building stock is expected to translate into higher demand for HVAC. The demand will be driven not only by the growth in volume of building stock, but by the increasing need for developing energy efficient buildings. This growth in building stock would be driven by aggressive growth in office space (commercial segment), and residential segment.

Although both these segments would drive the growth in building stock, the commensurate demand for HVAC will be mostly come from commercial segment. This is because, energy usage for heating & cooling application accounts for nearly 30% of energy usage in commercial building while it is less than 10% in the case of residential building. As a result, the need for superior HVAC system to improve energy efficiency would be higher in commercial real estate sector.

Indian Commercial Real Estate: Current Scenario & Growth Prospect

Indian commercial real estate space is dominated by office space, and absorption of office space sets the tone for demand in Indian commercial real estate market. HVAC system is an integral part of modern office space, and any expansion in office space (in terms of new addition) will create a direct demand for HVAC systems.

It is estimated that HVAC systems account for nearly 30% of energy consumed by a commercial building. Given the ongoing focus on optimizing energy usage & reducing carbon footprint, there is an increasing demand from the commercial real estate segment for superior HVAC systems.

Approximately 49.4 million of office space was added across top 8 cities in India in 2022 alone, increasing by nearly 27% over previous year. After a steep decline in new capacity addition in 2020 – owing to pandemic induced disruptions – the construction activity in commercial real estate segment almost normalized in 2022. As Corporate sector is slowly moving from work from home to hybrid to normal office based working style, the demand for office space is picking up. Apart from returning workforce, the growth in economic activity and positive growth forecast has surged the demand for innovative office spaces. According to JLL, Grade A office space in India is expected to reach 1.2 billion square feet by 2030, up from nearly 732 million square feet in 2022.

Industry Sources (Knight Frank, JLL)

Given the direct correlation of office space construction with HVAC system demand, the strong growth in construction in 2022 would have created a robust demand for HVAC system. This development bodes well for finned tube heat exchanger, which is the preferred heat exchanger used in HVAC system. Furthermore, the strong growth in Grade A office envisaged points to the stable long term demand growth for HVAC system (and by extension finned tube heat exchanger) from commercial real estate (office) segment.

Indian Residential Real Estate: Current Scenario & Growth Prospect

For India’s real estate sector, 2022 was the year of a new high. Both home sales and new launches improved significantly, and this strong momentum will most likely last through 2023, with sales doing even better than in 2022, which were higher than in 2014. The year 2022 (January-December) witnessed unprecedented growth in residential sales in India and recorded 3,28,129 launches of housing units and sales of 3,12,666 units. This shows a y-o-y increase of whopping 41% and 34% respectively. Of the total sales of residential units in 2022, 63% were dominated by three cities: Mumbai, NCR and Bengaluru.

During 2021, 232,382 new residential units were launched across the top 8 cities, highest since 2016, registering a robust growth of 58.5% y-o-y. During the year, number of residential units sold reached 232,903, up by 50.8% compared to previous year.

Source: Knight Frank Report on Indian Real Estate Sector (Statistics for Top 8 Cities in India)

Demand momentum remained strong across markets in y-o-y terms in CY 2022. During the period, new launches reached 328,129, increasing by 41% y-o-y. Similarly, number of residential units sold reached 312,666, up by 34% y-o-y. This upward trend can be attributed to the changing preferences of homebuyers, low interest rates, and comparatively low home prices along with the renewed need for home ownership sparked by the pandemic.

Development activity has risen in tandem with the improved demand, mostly unaffected by the increasing costs of input materials and labour across markets. The growth in sales volume during CY 2022 is more significant considering that it has occurred along with very encouraging price growth across all markets. Prices have increased year-on-year across all markets in the range of 4-7%. Increasing instances of developers offering greater value adds such as furnished apartments, better interiors were also observed during 2022.

For heat exchanger & HVAC segment, the demand from residential segment arises from the cooling / temperature control requirements. Most of the new apartments coming up in metros have extensive HVAC systems built in. Depending upon the building / apartment, HVAC system could be either centralized or decentralized. These HVAC systems are responsible for regulation of heat, airflow, air conditioning, and ventilation in apartments. Hence a growth in build up space in residential real estate segment would convert to market opportunities for HVAC system (and by extension finned tube heat exchanger).

Demand For HVAC System From Industrial & Segment

In a manufacturing plant, HVAC system is used for controlling humidity, temperature, and air quality – for improving the working condition of employees as well as maintaining the optimum ecosystem that supports the manufacturing process (especially in industries like pharmaceuticals etc). Industrial air conditioning is most crucial in sectors like pharmaceuticals, food & beverage, electronic manufacturing, and medical equipment manufacturing.

The capex growth in manufacturing – which indicates the new projects coming up in the space – is a key indicator of HVAC demand emerging from manufacturing sector. In 2022, nearly 600 projects were completed in manufacturing sector – ranging from setting up pharmaceutical plants to agriculture machinery manufacturing unit. Of these Pharmaceuticals and food & beverages – two of the sectors where HVAC deployment is crucial – accounted for nearly 32% (approximately 185 – 190) projects. Such a strong capacity addition in pharmaceutical and food & beverage space have benefitted the HVAC industry.

Center for Monitoring Indian Economy Database

Approximately 1,000 new projects have been announced in the manufacturing sector with nearly 140 projects coming up in pharmaceuticals and food & beverage space alone. All these projects were announced in 2022, and their execution is expected to happen in the coming years. These upcoming projects is an indication of new capacity (in the form of brownfield & greenfield facilities) coming up in manufacturing space. Since setting up of a new space is accompanied by the deployment of HVAC, the strong project pipeline indicates a stable growth demand forecast for HVAC system from industrial segment.

Indian manufacturing landscape is witnessing a rapid transformation, especially on the infrastructure front. Through a series of policy measures – like Make in India, and Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme – Indian Government is attractive corporate sector to set up manufacturing facilities in India. The attractive regulatory policy measures are designed to attract both domestic and multinational industrialists. As these policy measures gains traction, there would be a commensurate increase in the number of new manufacturing plants coming up in the country, which bodes well for HVAC demand emerging from industrial segment.

Hence, apart from existing pipeline of new projects, supportive policy measures like Make in India, and PLI scheme is expected to enrich the new project pipeline. This would translate into a stable long-term demand for HVAC systems from industrial segment.

Demand From Pharmaceutical Sector

In FY 2022 the Indian pharmaceutical industry held a significant value of approximately USD 50 billion with exports contributing over USD 25 billion. This positioning India as the third largest producer of pharmaceuticals in terms of production volume and securing the fourteenth spot in terms of production value.

Moreover, India is actively working towards establishing a comprehensive policy framework that encompasses various aspects, including intellectual property rights, technology commercialization, government procurement, and scientific research. For instance, in response to the COVID 19 pandemic, the Department of Biotechnology and the Biotechnology Industry Research Assistance Council (BIRAC) collaborated to establish the 'DBT BIRAC COVID 19 Research Consortium. This initiative supports indigenous research solutions for combating COVID 19. Additionally, the 'Mission

COVID Suraksha - The Indian COVID 19 Vaccine Development Mission' was introduced as part of the Atmanirbhar Bharat 3.0 stimulus package Its objective is to promote Indian vaccine research and development, enhancing the nation's capacity to address pandemic challenges and achieve self-sufficiency. This effort includes drugs like Remdesivir, vitamins, minerals, and other supplemental products, as well as manufacturing made in India vaccines to fight COVID 19.

By FY 2030 the annual turnover in Indian pharmaceutical industry is expected to reach USD 130 billion. The growth in pharmaceutical industry would be driven by an increase in production of bulk drugs, key starting materials, and formulations. The expansion in production capacity, together with upgradation of manufacturing capability would create strong demand for capital goods, including heat exchangers.

Demand from Food & Beverage Segment

Food & beverage (F&B) industry in India contributes to nearly 3% of nation's GDP and is an integral part of Indian economy. F&B sector underwent a transition, with demand shifting to packaged & processed food. This shift in demand created the necessity to set up state of the art F&B manufacturing plants. Over the past decade, India has witnessed a rapid growth in the number of products units dedicated for manufacturing a whole variety of food products. These new plants range from large units to small units in MSME sector. Apart from domestic demand, the growth in export of processed foods has also helped in this growth of manufacturing infrastructure.

This growth in F&B manufacturing infrastructure in India has helped in stimulating demand for HVAC system, which is integral to create a sanitized space to produce food products. As the production of processed food & beverages increased, so did the demand for refrigeration & cold chain equipment. In addition, F&B manufacturing workspace also need to maintain superior air quality, which requires the necessity of air filtration, controlled ozone treatment, and other similar processes. Thus HVAC system plays a huge part in ensuring both air quality, and refrigeration conditions required to manufacturing F&B products.

Demand from Chemical Manufacturing:

Heat exchangers are used in the chemical processing industry on account of their properties such as design flexibility and high corrosion resistance which provide them with the ability to handle a variety of fluids. Heat exchangers are necessary for nearly every process that involves solvent condensation, hydrocarbons cooling and reactor heating and cooling in the manufacturing of chemicals and petroleum. These products are now becoming highly efficient, and the need for sophisticated heat exchangers that can improve efficiency is gaining pace.

Indian chemical market holds a prominent position globally and is ranked sixth worldwide, in terms of the global sales of chemicals. India's chemical sales account for 2.5% of the global market with exports reaching over 175 countries. According to the Indian Chemical Council, India is expected to account for more than 20 percent of the incremental global consumption of chemicals over the next two decades. Moreover, with an increasing domestic output which is projected to rise from USD 232.8 billion in 2022 to USD 304 billion in 2025 and eventually reaching USD 1,000 billion by 2040.

The strong industry dynamics is playing out in petrochemical sector too. Rapid industrialization has created strong demand for almost all the petrochemical products. Polymers, which forms an integral part of the petrochemical industry, is witnessing a demand boom – on the back of higher demand for consumer and industrial end use applications.

In FY 2023, approximately 13 million tons of chemicals were manufactured in India while the volume of petrochemicals manufactured were nearly 40.5 million tons. During FY 2018 – 23 period, volume of chemicals and petrochemicals manufactured in India grew by a CAGR of nearly 3% and 2% respectively.

Primary Research, D&B Estimates

Private and public players are investing heavily in the petrochemical sector. In 2021 Nayara Energy announced plans to establish 15-20 new petrochemical plants in India within a decade, aiming to meet the growing demand for raw materials in the plastics and textiles industries. Additionally, Bharat Petroleum Corporation (BPCL) expressed its intention to invest USD 4.05 billion in enhancing petrochemical capacity and refining efficiencies over the next five years.

Moreover, the government of India has set a vision for 2034 actively pursuing opportunities in the petrochemical sector. With the projected growth of the petrochemical market in India, there will be a significant increase in the demand for heat exchangers in the forthcoming years as heat exchangers play a crucial role in various stages of the petrochemical industry, including heat recovery systems and the production of final petrochemical products.

Demand from Warehousing: Cold Storage

In logistics sector, heat exchangers find application in HVAC system that are deployed in storage as well as transport infrastructure. The requirement is highest in cold chain industry (comprising of temperature-controlled storage as well as temperature-controlled truck/ transport vehicles).

The total warehousing stock in the country reached nearly 330 million sq. ft by the mid of 2022, increasing by a CAGR of nearly 18% between 2018 and 2022. The total stock is expected to reach 470 million sq.ft by 2025. According to this forecast, nearly 140 million sq.ft of warehousing space would be added to Indian warehousing market between 2022 and 2025.

Industry Sources (Knight Frank, JLL, Assoc hem)

There are nearly 8,300 cold storage facilities in India, with nearly 36% having storage capacity less than 1,000 tons. Meanwhile the demand for cold storage facilities is nearly ten times the existing infrastructure. The increasing focus on agro processing industry and growing demand for food products is creating this demand. According to the Ministry of Food Processing Industries, as on 31st Dec 2022, cold storage capacity of 8.38 lakh MT has been created under the Scheme for Integrated Cold Chain and Value Addition Infrastructure.

Apart from the deficit in capacity, the existing cold chain infrastructure in India is also skewed. Nearly 60% of capacity is concentrated in two states (Uttar Pradesh & West Bengal) while 75% of total capacity is dedicated to a single commodity (Potatoes)⁸. Thus, there is a strong requirement for expanding the capacity of the cold chain infrastructure as well as modernize it to make it suitable for storing the wide range of vegetables, horticulture, and meat products produced in the country.

According to the Ministry of Food Processing Industries, as on 31st Dec 2022, 376 integrated cold chain projects had been taken up for implementation; of which 269 projects have been completed and 107 are at various stages of implementation.

This strong policy led growth in cold chain infrastructure have benefitted the HVAC industry, which is critical in maintaining the controlled temperature. The large-scale addition going on in the industry is a pointer towards the continued demand generation for HVAC systems.

Demand from Data Centers

Data centers are critical components of the information technology industry as voluminous amount of data is stored and distributed at regular intervals. However, the energy consumption of these data centers has increased rapidly with the advancements of high density and high-power large servers. It is estimated that cooling systems account for nearly 40% of energy consumption in a data center.

Globally nearly 1.3% of electricity consumption is accounted by data centers, with bulk of it going towards maintaining ambient temperature & air quality inside the premises. Consequently, efficient thermal management as emerged as a key factor in managing the cost and operations of the data centres. Heat exchangers enable HVAC system is used in data centers to ensure ambient temperature in the premise, which is integral to the smooth functioning of a data center.

India is currently the 13th largest data center market in the world, with nearly 138 data centers in operation. Penetration of internet, growth in internet subscribers, and large scale digitization initiatives are all driving the demand for data centers. Between 2022 and 2025, 45 new data centers (totalling 13 million sq.ft) are expected to come up, which will take the total number of data center in operation in the country to 183. Such a strong growth would transform into higher demand for HVAC systems & heat exchangers used in HVAC systems.

The demand is primarily being driven by large players such as Amazon web services, Google, Microsoft, Facebook, IBM, Uber etc. that are outsourcing their storage needs to third party DC providers. Further, major Indian players such as Adani and Hiranandani are building data centre infrastructure with the help of technology partners through the co-location or colo model; in which the data centre players construct the various elements namely the building, power supply, cooling, physical racks, security and other support measures and the clients bring their own IT hardware and expertise. With high level of involvement from all major stakeholders i.e. government, Indian and global players, the future of data centre seems promising thus supporting the demand for heat exchangers in the coming years.

Demand from Transportation Segment

In metro trains, usage of heat exchangers can be found for removing large quantity of heat dissipated by the train equipment like traction motors, braking units, compressors, removing heat from air conditioning plant and sub-station and other equipment, if provided inside the underground station etc.

Driven by strong government support, metros have emerged as the country’s fastest growing mass transit system with approved metro rail projects having a projected expenditure of nearly Rs 3 trillion till 2026. 13 Indian cities have functioning metro railway networks and 5 cities have upcoming metro rail services. The National Railway Plan 2030 envisages to increase the modal share of railways to 45% in freight traffic. Further, the introduction of 25 Vande Bharat Express trains which is India's indigenously manufactured semi-high-speed train, has given a boost to the Railways.

The government has set a target of 475 Vande Bharat trains to be introduced within the next four years. There are also plans to launch Vande Metro by 2023. All such positive development of the Railways auger well for the heat exchanger industry.

Trade Scenario

India has been traditionally a net importer of capital goods. Although capital production capability in India has improved in the past few years, imports continue to play a key role in fulfilling the domestic demand. This was true in the case of heat exchangers too. Over the last decade, the domestic production capability (in terms of technical capability and production volume) in heat exchanger industry has improved significantly. As a result, India moved from a net importer to a net exporter of heat exchangers.

Source: Directorate General of Foreign Trade

Exports

Annual export of heat exchangers from India reached USD 247 million in FY 2023. This includes shell & tube type, plate type as well as spiral type heat exchangers. Between FY 2018 and 2023, the value of heat exchangers exported from India increased by a CAGR of 7%. Compared to FY 2022, the value of heat exchangers exported from India dropped by nearly 6%. Muted demand growth in key export markets contributed to this decline in exports.

In FY 2023, nearly 51% of heat exchanger exports from India was concentrated in 5 markets, namely Thailand, USA, China, UAE, and Indonesia. Among these Thailand was the largest export market for Indian heat exchanger industry, accounting for nearly one fifth of total exports. Outside of these five markets, Indian heat exchanger industry has made rapid strides into African market, as well as middle east regions.

Although India is yet to become a key player in global heat exchanger market, the domestic industry has made rapid strides in global market – penetrating developed markets as well as developing markets alike. This highlights the unique capability of the industry to develop products that meet global quality standards at a competitive price. The lower cost of production, while adhering to global quality standards has helped several industries in India to penetrate global market, and heat exchangers to appears to be benefitted by this model.

Imports

Approximately USD 216 million worth of heat exchangers were imported to India in FY 2023. While heat exchanger exports from India have witnessed a steady increase, the growth path has not been linear for imports. From approximately USD 142 million in FY 2010, the annual value of heat exchangers imported to India dropped to nearly USD 100 million in FY 2018 before recovering in subsequent years.

Emerging Trends & Challenges in Indian Heat Exchanger Industry

Trends:

- Hybrid heat exchangers: There is also the growing trend of adopting hybrid heat exchangers which are more efficient and flexible than the traditional models. These are based on a multi-flexible configuration platform and designed to operate under extreme conditions where other heat exchanger technologies can fail or reduce operational efficiency. They are designed for easy cleaning as the fouling medium can flow through the tube side, which is accessible for mechanical cleaning. Heavy-duty or customized heat exchangers are generally utilized by large industrial consumers whereas portable heat exchangers generally cater to the residential or small commercial establishments.
- Better energy efficient models: With a growing emphasis on energy conservation and sustainability, heat exchangers have seen advancements in energy efficiency. This includes improved designs, better fluid dynamics, and the integration of advanced heat transfer technologies to minimize energy consumption and optimize heat recovery. Further, technological advancements such as tube inserts in heat exchangers and advances to improve energy efficiency, life cycle cost, durability, compactness and other features will complement the growth of the market.
- Smart heat exchangers: The integration of sensors, controls, and automation technologies has led to the development of smart heat exchangers. These systems can monitor performance, detect anomalies, and optimize heat transfer processes in real time, resulting in improved efficiency, reduced downtime, and predictive maintenance.
- Modular heat exchanger: Such designs have gained popularity due to their flexibility and ease of installation. Modular units can be combined and customized to suit specific heat transfer requirements, enabling scalability and easier maintenance.
- Usage of new materials: Advancements in materials science, including the use of new alloys and composites materials that offer greater corrosion resistance, higher strength, and better heat transfer properties.

Challenges

Fouling on heat exchangers reduces heat transfer efficiency, leading to higher energy consumption and greenhouse gas emissions, which could hamper the growth of the heat exchanger market in India in the upcoming years. Raw material price fluctuations could also affect the growth of the heat exchanger market due to economic conditions, exchange rates, and supply chains.

Environmental Impact of Fouling on Heat Exchangers

Fouling on heat exchanger could occur due to various factors, including the properties of the fluids being processed, the temperature and pressure conditions, the presence of impurities or contaminants in the fluid, and the design and operation of the heat exchanger itself resulting in decrease in efficiency of heat transfer which leads to increased energy requirements and this increased energy consumption contributes to higher greenhouse gas emissions, as the additional energy is often derived from fossil fuel based sources. Furthermore, fouling needs to be cleaned or maintained more frequently, which requires additional resources, such as water, energy, and cleaning equipment, which could have additional environmental implications.

Fluctuation in Raw Material Prices

Heat exchanger manufacturers are susceptible to the ever-changing prices of raw materials, encompassing copper, aluminium, steel, and other metals. The prices of these raw materials are subject to volatility, influenced by a range of factors like economic conditions, exchange rates, and supply conditions. Such factors can potentially exert adverse effects on manufacturers. Additionally, these price fluctuations have the potential to trigger delays or cancellations of substantial capital projects, thereby hindering the growth of the heat exchanger market.

Regulatory Landscape

Capital Goods

The phasing out of concessional import duty on a wide range of capital goods and project imports in the Union Budget 2022-23 is a boost for the domestic capital goods industry by protecting it from low-cost imports and in turn help in creating a level playing field for domestic manufacturers. Additionally, import concessions for select raw materials will make it easier for the domestic manufacturers to access input materials in a cost-effective manner.

Continued investment on infrastructure development, anchored by PM Gati Shakti Master Plan would create strong demand for a wide range of capital and engineering goods from various sectors, especially from roads, railways, and waterways, where capacity expansion programs announced would trigger a demand for construction equipment and heavy machinery. The proposed battery swapping policy could create demand for specialized capital goods from electric mobility ecosystem, for which domestic manufacturing capability is nascent, and thus, such demand would be largely met through imports in near-term, supported by the continuation of exemption on import of specialized machinery. However, given the long-term demand generating potential of the industry, the domestic capital goods industry will have to invest in expanding its technical capabilities.

National Goods Policy 2016

National Capital Goods Policy, released in 2016, is considered to be the major policy measure that would shape capital goods sector in the coming years. This policy is in line with the Government's objective of increasing the contribution of capital goods to manufacturing output from the current 12% to 20% by 2025. Achieving this objective would result in the value of production of capital goods increased from the current level of INR 230 thousand crores to INR 750 thousand crores by 2025.

Atmanirbhar Bharat Abhiyan

According to the announcement by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the Atmanirbhar Bharat economic package is worth INR 20 lakh crore, equivalent to nearly 10% of the country's GDP. The policy focuses on five key aspects: economy, infrastructure, system, vibrant demography, and demand. The core theme of the package is to be vocal about local products by promoting consumption of local products as well as making them global. The package has five phases, with each phase focusing on specific sector/ aspect. Phase I focuses on MSMEs, Phase II on migrants & poor, phase III on agriculture, phase IV on new growth horizons and phase V on government reforms & enablers.

The primary objective of this economic policy is to make India self-reliant. It could be termed as an extension of the Make in India program, which again was focusing on attaining self-sufficiency in the manufacturing sector

The phase IV of the economic package includes governance measures like fast tracking of investment clearances, ranking of states in terms of investment attractiveness, and ranking of industrial parks. These measures are expected to showcase the investment potential to foreign investors and help facilitate investments in the country. The anticipated impact of the measures outlined in this phase is a pick-up in capital investment, which in turn would trigger economic growth. The easing of investment norms and clearances would help revive corporate investments, which in turn would be a key factor in driving up the demand for capital goods.

Key Regulations

The Indian Boiler Regulations (IBR):

The Indian Boiler Regulations (Administered by the Central Boiler Board (CBB), IBR sets guidelines for the design, construction, operation, and maintenance of boilers and pressure vessels, which includes heat exchangers. Compliance with IBR is mandatory for heat exchangers operating above specified pressure and temperature limits.

Pressure Equipment Directive (PED)

The Pressure Equipment Directive (PED) applies to various types of pressure equipment, including heat exchangers. Heat exchangers are considered pressure equipment under the PED if they operate with a maximum allowable pressure greater than 0.5 bar and meet the criteria defined by the directive. Heat Exchanger under PED should Consider -

- Design and Manufacturing: Heat exchangers must be designed and manufactured in accordance with the essential safety requirements (ESRs) outlined in the PED. These requirements cover aspects such as design calculations, material selection, fabrication methods, welding procedures, and non destructive testing.
- Conformity Assessment: Heat exchangers must undergo a conformity assessment procedure to demonstrate compliance with the PED. The assessment typically involves the involvement of a Notified Body, which is a third-party organization designated by an EU Member State.
- Documentation and Technical File CE Marking: Manufacturers of heat exchangers must prepare a technical file that includes all relevant documentation related to the design, manufacture, and conformity assessment of the equipment. This file should be kept available for inspection by the authorities. Moreover, after heat exchanger successfully completes the conformity assessment and complies with the PED's requirements, it can be affixed with the CE marking.

AD-2000

AD-2000 is not a specific standard for heat exchangers but a German technical regulation that provides guidelines for the design and fabrication of pressure equipment, including heat exchangers. AD-2000 provides detailed requirements for materials, design calculations, manufacturing processes, testing, and certification of pressure equipment, including heat exchangers.

Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB)

CPCB is responsible for regulating environmental aspects related to industrial processes, including heat exchangers. Compliance with CPCB guidelines for emissions, effluents, and waste management is crucial to ensure environmental protection.

ISO 9001: 2015

ISO 9001 2015 is a globally acknowledged standard that defines the requirements for establishing, implementing, maintaining, and continuously improving a robust quality management system (QMS) within an organization.

Competitive Landscape

Heat exchanger industry is capital and technology intensive, which creates a steep entry barrier. The industrial landscape in India (and across the globe) is changing at a fast pace as digital technology are integrating into mainstream manufacturing. This has created the need for superior capital goods & industrial machinery which can fit into this evolving landscape as well as delivery superior output. In the case of heat exchanges, the demand is for superior efficiency and heat capture. Hence, now more than ever, the manufacturers need to invest in R&D to improve their manufacturing capability. This exercise translates into higher capex, which deters new entrants.

Even among existing players, there is a high pressure to innovate and widen their product offering. As conventional manufacturing techniques make way to newer methods, consumers are increasingly demanding better products which can deliver tangible results. To stay relevant heat exchanger manufacturer will have to engage with their consumers, identify the emerging trend, and devise a future growth strategy. These developments are changing the nature of the industry, making it more dynamic. Under this changing scenario, existing players must invest in capital, skill / talent, and innovation to stay relevant and maintain / increase market share.

Growth Forecast:

Heat exchanger is one of the widely used machinery within the broader capital goods industry, finding application across a broad range of process industries. Due to this ubiquitous nature of the product, its demand is closely linked to the industrial activity happening in an economy, as well as the capital investment landscape. Hence, capital expansion projects in the manufacturing sector as well as industrial activity tends to be a good barometer to identify the demand for heat exchangers.

Global Scenario

Consolidated capital expenditure spending of S&P 500 companies grew by nearly 20% in 2022, over the previous year. For the year 2023, the capex spending by this segment is expected to be nearly 6%, with the lower growth rate attributed to the evolving uncertainties and recessionary fears across key developed economies. Despite this, the long-term outlook with respect to capital spending appears to be optimistic. Factors like transition to clean energy, increase in automation in manufacturing, and integration of digital technologies to industrial sector are all expected to favour capital spending.

Capital investment pattern in the coming years, specifically in developed markets, would be characterized by upgradation in manufacturing infrastructure. Capital spending is expected to be strongest in Asia Pacific market, led by increased spending in China and India.

By 2029, the global heat exchanger market is expected to reach USD 27 billion, up from the current size of USD 15.6 billion. This translates into a CAGR of 8%, higher than the historical growth that was recorded during 2017 – 2019. Growth would be strongest in APAC market, which is expected to increase by a CAGR of nearly 8.9%.

D&B Analysis, Insights from Primary Survey

India Scenario

Indian economy recovered strongly from the impact of Covid-19 during the second half of FY 2022, and this recovery continued in FY 2023. The Country has once again become one of the fastest growing economies in the world. Although there are recessionary fears arising across major developed economies, the economic growth story in India is expected to continue.

Economic growth in India in the coming years would be underpinned by following factors – Government focus on improving the manufacturing infrastructure, and improvement in credit availability for the corporate sector. In addition, the revival in demand – for consumer & industrial products – post Covid-19 pandemic would further accelerate economic growth. All these factors are expected to strengthen the industrial activity and encourage capital spending.

Government focus on improving manufacturing capability

Indian Government is taking steps to modernize and develop the domestic manufacturing capability, with the intention of increasing its contribution to GDP, from the current 15% to 25% by FY 2025. Flagship schemes like Make in India, Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme and Atmanirbhar Bharat was launched with the intention of meeting this goal.

The primary objective of these policies to import substitution (substituting imports with domestically manufactured goods), and later on become an export hub. This would involve substantial expansion in domestic manufacturing capabilities – across a wide range of industries. Schemes like Make in India and PLI is focused on multiple industries, hence the capacity expansion anticipated would be industry wide and not concentrated in select sectors.

These developments, together with improvement in capital investment scenario is expected to translate into modernization & expansion of domestic manufacturing capability. This expansionary phase would create demand for a wide range of capital goods, and heat exchangers – because of its ubiquitous application in process industries – is one of the major product segments to benefit. These developments would help the domestic heat exchanger market to increase from its current size of USD 625 million to USD 1,326 million by 2029. This would translate into a compounded growth rate of 11.3%.

D&B Analysis, Insights from Primary Survey

By End Use Industry

Chemical manufacturing is the predominance consumer of heat exchanger in India, followed by oil & gas industry. Chemical industry is expected to remain the largest consumer of heat exchangers, as the ambitious capacity expansion programs planned in chemical industry would translate into higher demand for heat exchangers. India already poses a strong chemical manufacturing hub – from basic chemicals to petrochemicals to specialty chemicals. The Government is focusing on strengthening India’s position as a global chemical manufacturing hub and increase the country’s share in global chemical trade. Multiple policies targeted various segments of the chemical industry – pharmaceuticals / specialty chemicals – has been announced and the coming years would witness strong activity in terms of capacity expansion.

Backed by these factors, the value of heat exchangers consumed by Indian chemical industry is expected to reach nearly USD 300 million in 2029, translating into a CAGR of 12.3%.

Growth Forecast in Indian Finned Tube Heat Exchanger Market

HVAC applications is expected to play a key role in expanding the demand for finned tube heat exchangers in India. The emerging landscape in real estate construction, manufacturing, warehousing, and transportation all points to a continuation of HVAC demand. It is the strong demand from these sectors that is expected to drive the annual turnover in Indian HVAC market from USD 7.8 billion in 2021 to nearly USD 27.4 billion in 2030.

This demand growth would translate into an increase in the production of HVAC equipment, creating demand for all the components & accessories used. Since heat exchanger is an integral part of HVAC equipment, the growth in production of HVAC systems would be most favourable for heat exchanger industry.

On the back of this supportive demand landscape, the annual turnover in finned tube heat exchanger, the annual turnover is set to increase from USD 133 million in 2022 to nearly USD 277 million in 2029, nearly doubling in size.

We are in the business of manufacturing aluminium and copper fin – copper tube condenser and evaporator coils used by OEMs in heating, ventilation, air conditioning, and refrigeration (HVAC&R) industry. Our coils are used in heating equipment, ventilation equipment, and cooling or air-conditioning equipment used in domestic, commercial, and industrial HVAC systems to control the temperature, humidity, and purity of the air.

Our product portfolio includes evaporator coils, condenser coils, fluid and steam coils, condensing units, copper headers parts, sheet metal parts. A brief of the same is given below:

1. Evaporator Coils

Evaporator coils are vital components in various cooling systems, such as close control air conditioners, rooftops, showcasing units, fan coils, dryers, and more. Their primary function is to extract indoor heat from the air and transfer it to the refrigerant flowing through their copper tubing. Fins on the coil significantly increase the surface area, dramatically improving heat conducting efficiency and facilitating better heat exchange between the refrigerant and the air. This efficient heat transfer ensures that a larger volume of warm air is cooled down as it passes through the coil. As a result, the cooled air is then circulated back into the indoor space, providing the desired cooling effect for a comfortable environment. The refrigerant, having absorbed the indoor heat, transforms into a gas through the process of evaporation. The gaseous refrigerant leaves the evaporator coil and undergoes compression in the compressor, followed by condensation in the condenser coil, where it releases the absorbed heat. This completes the continuous cooling cycle, maintaining the desired indoor temperature while removing heat from the air. Regular maintenance and cleaning of the evaporator coil are essential to ensure optimal cooling performance and energy efficiency of the cooling system.

2. Condenser Coils

Condensers play a crucial role in various heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) systems, as well as refrigeration units. These devices are designed to release heat into the surrounding environment, typically the outdoor air, thereby facilitating the conversion of vapor into a liquid state. In this process, the refrigerant within the system undergoes a phase change, releasing heat energy as it condenses.

To optimize the efficiency and compactness of condensing units and chillers, bent coils with end plates have emerged as a widely adopted solution in both domestic and commercial applications. These coils are carefully designed and crafted to maximize surface area, enhancing the heat transfer process and ensuring effective cooling.

The manufacturing process involves precision bending of the coils to create a compact and space-saving layout. Additionally, end plates are strategically placed to contain the refrigerant within the coils, preventing leaks and promoting efficient heat exchange.

By employing bent coils with end plates, condensing units and chillers can achieve better heat dissipation, allowing for higher performance and reduced energy consumption. The compact design also benefits installations with limited space availability, making it an ideal choice for various applications ranging from household air conditioners to large-scale industrial cooling systems.

In conclusion, the innovative design and manufacturing of bent coils with end plates have revolutionized the condenser industry, providing reliable and efficient heat release solutions for diverse domestic and commercial needs.

3. Fluid and Steam Coils

Fluid coils are essential components in HVAC systems used to heat or cool air within a conditioned space. They are integrated into Air Handling Units (AHUs) to efficiently capture and transfer the warmth or chill in the air or water, preventing unnecessary energy losses. These coils play a crucial role in maintaining the desired temperature and comfort levels in buildings and industrial processes.

Steam coils are a type of heat exchanger commonly used in various industrial applications, particularly in air heating and processing systems. They find extensive use in HVAC systems, power generation plants, food storage and processing facilities, and military installations.

In operation, steam coils function by transferring thermal energy from steam to the air passing over the coil's surface. The steam's heat is transferred to the air, thereby warming it up, and the condensed water is collected and removed from the system. Similarly, steam coils can be utilized in cooling applications, where chilled water or refrigerant is circulated within the coil, extracting heat from the air and cooling the space.

Due to their efficiency and versatility, steam coils are widely favored in industrial settings, where precise temperature control and reliable performance are vital. Their ability to handle large airflow volumes and high-temperature differentials makes them indispensable in various processes, ensuring optimal conditions and energy efficiency across multiple industries.

4. Condensing Units and Air-cooling Units

Our Company specializes in custom manufacturing condensing and air-cooling units tailored to meet the unique requirements of our customers' projects. The condensing unit, a crucial component in refrigeration systems, is comprised of a compressor, condenser coil, and fan motor, all interconnected through pipelines and housed within a durable mounting plate or a closed casing. These units are operated through an intuitive control panel, ensuring efficient and precise regulation.

We are able to custom manufacture both condensing and cooling units of various sizes and designs based on the project of the customer.

5. Headers / Copper Parts

The use of state-of-the-art machines like CNC tube bender, CNC end forming, CNC flute punching, and Tube T-drill in the production process of headers is instrumental in ensuring the high-quality construction of these components. CNC technology allows for precise and consistent bending, forming, and punching of tubes, resulting in headers with accurate dimensions and minimal imperfections.

6. Sheet Metal Parts

As a manufacturer of sheet metal components, our Company holds a crucial role in the HVAC industry by producing both standard and custom-designed parts like end plates for in-house assembly of evaporator and condenser coils, as well as condensing units. The utilization of hydraulic machines and advanced CNC punching machines like NCT turret punch press empowers our plant with the capability to customize sheet metals precisely to any cut or punch, meeting the unique design specifications of our clients.

The availability of both standard and custom options sets our Company apart, providing clients with a diverse range of solutions to suit their specific requirements. Standard components offer consistency and ease of integration, while custom-designed parts allow for tailor-made solutions, ensuring optimal performance and efficiency in the final HVAC systems.

The CNC punching machines play a pivotal role in our production process. With their precision and speed, they enable efficient fabrication of intricate designs and complex patterns, ensuring the highest quality output. By being able to cater to various designs and configurations, our Company can serve a broader clientele, including those with specialized needs and niche applications.

Our well-equipped plant and reliance on cutting-edge technology give us a competitive advantage in the market, enabling us to deliver top-notch sheet metal components that align with industry standards and meet or exceed our clients' expectations. The ability to produce custom designs efficiently allows us to be a preferred partner for HVAC system manufacturers, further bolstering our reputation and solidifying our position in the industry.

(Restated Consolidated/Standalone Financial Statements as at 30 September, 2023)

1.3.2 Fair Value Measurement

Some of the Group's/Company's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities.

The Group/Company has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. This includes a financial reporting team that has overall responsibility for overseeing all significant fair value measurements, including Level 3 fair values.

The financial reporting team regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments. If third party information, such as pricing services, is used to measure fair values, then the financial reporting team assesses the evidence obtained from the third parties to support the conclusion that these valuations meet the requirements of Ind AS, including the level in the fair value hierarchy in which the valuations should be classified.

Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

When measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group/Company uses observable market data as far as possible. If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Group/Company recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

The Group/Company strictly uses foreign currency forward contracts to hedge its risks associated with foreign currency fluctuations relating to certain forecasted transactions. As per Ind AS 109 - Financial Instruments, foreign currency forward contracts are initially measured at fair value and are re-measured at subsequent reporting dates. Changes in the fair value of these derivatives that are designated and effective as hedges of future cash flows are recognised in hedge reserve (under reserves and surplus) through other comprehensive income and the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in the statement of profit and loss.

The accumulated gains / losses on the derivatives accounted in hedge reserve are transferred to the statement of profit and loss in the same period in which gains / losses on the underlying item hedged are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Derecognition:

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. When hedge accounting is discontinued for a cash flow hedge, the net gain or loss will remain in hedge reserve and be reclassified to the statement of profit and loss in the same period or periods during which the formerly hedged transaction is reported in the statement of profit and loss. If a hedged transaction is no longer expected to occur, the net cumulative gains / losses recognised in hedge reserve is transferred to the statement of profit and loss.

Changes in the fair value of hedging instruments and hedged items that are designated and qualify as fair value hedges are recorded in the Statement of Profit and Loss. If the hedging relationship no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, the adjustment to the carrying amount of a hedged item for which the effective interest method is used is amortised to Statement of Profit and Loss over the period of maturity.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. The carrying amount of Deferred tax liabilities and assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period.

1.3.21 Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year adjusted for bonus element in equity share. 1.3.27 (A) Amendments to Schedule III of Companies Act, 2013

On 24 March, 2021, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (“MCA”) through a notification, amended Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013. The amendments revise Division I, II and III of Schedule III and are applicable from 1 April, 2021. Key amendments relating to Division II which relate to companies whose financial statements are required to comply with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015 are:

Balance Sheet:

- Lease liabilities should be separately disclosed under the head ‘financial liabilities’, duly distinguished as current or non-current.
- Certain additional disclosures in the statement of changes in equity such as changes in equity share capital due to prior period errors and restated balances at the beginning of the current reporting period.
- Specified format for disclosure of shareholding of promoters.
- Specified format for ageing schedule of trade receivables, trade payables, capital work-in-progress and intangible asset under development
- If a company has not used funds for the specific purpose for which it was borrowed from banks and financial institutions, then disclosure of details of where it has been used.
- Specific disclosure under ‘additional regulatory requirement’ such as compliance with approved schemes of arrangements, compliance with number of layers of companies, title deeds of immovable property not held in name of company, loans and advances to promoters, directors, key managerial personnel (KMP) and related parties, details of benami property held, etc.

Statement of profit and loss:

- Additional disclosures relating to Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), undisclosed income and crypto or virtual currency specified under the head ‘additional information’ in the notes forming part of standalone financial statements.

1.4 Critical Accounting Judgments and Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty:

The preparation of the Group’s/Company’s Financial Statements requires management to make judgment, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities and the accompanying disclosures. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in next financial years.

1.4.1 Income Tax

The Group’s/Company’s tax jurisdiction is in India. Significant judgments are involved in estimating budgeted profits for the purpose of paying advance tax, determining the income tax provisions, including the amount expected to be paid / recovered for uncertain.

KRN heat Exchanger And Refrigeration Limited

(Formerly Known as KRN heat Exchanger And Refrigeration Private Limited)

(Restated Consolidated/Standalone Financial Statements as at 30 September, 2023)

1.4.2 Property Plant and Equipment/ Intangible Assets

Estimates are involved in determining the cost attributable to bringing the assets to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by the management. Property, Plant and Equipment/Intangible Assets are depreciated/amortised over their estimated useful life, after taking into account estimated residual value. Management reviews the estimated useful life and residual values of the assets annually in order to determine the amount of depreciation/amortisation to be recorded during any reporting period. The useful life and residual values are based on the Group's/Company's historical experience with similar assets and take into account anticipated technological changes. The depreciation/amortisation for future periods is revised if there are significant changes from previous estimates.

1.4.3 Defined Benefits Obligations

The costs of providing Gratuity and other post-employment benefits are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss in accordance with Ind AS – 19, “Employee Benefits” over the period during which benefit is derived from the employees’ services. It is determined by using the Actuarial Valuation and assessed on the basis of assumptions selected by the management. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These assumptions include salary escalation rate, discount rates, expected rate of return on assets and mortality rates. Due to complexities involved in the valuation and its long term in nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to change in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each balance sheet date.

1.4.4 Fair value measurements of Financial Instruments

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques, including the discounted cash flow model, which involve various judgments and assumptions.

1.4.5 Recoverability of Trade Receivables

Judgments are required in assessing the recoverability of overdue trade receivables and determining whether a provision against those receivables is required. Factors considered include the credit rating of the counterparty, the amount and timing of anticipated future payments and any possible actions that can be taken to mitigate the risk of non-payment.

1.4.6 Provisions

The timing of recognition and quantification of the liability (including litigations) requires the application of judgment to existing facts and circumstances, which can be subject to change. The carrying amounts of provisions and liabilities are reviewed regularly and revised to take account of changing facts and circumstances.

(Restated Consolidated/Standalone Financial Statements as at 30 September, 2023)

1.4.7 Impairment of Financial and Non – Financial Assets

The impairment provisions for Financial Assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected cash loss rates. The Group/Company uses judgment in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on Group's/Company's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward-looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

In case of non-financial assets Group/company estimates asset's recoverable amount, which is higher of an asset's or Cash Generating Units (CGU's) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account, if no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

1.4.8 Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets and Liabilities

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses for which there is probability of utilisation against the future taxable profit. The Group/Company uses judgment to determine the amount of deferred tax that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits and business developments.

1.4.9 First Time Adoption of IND AS

The Group/Company has adopted Ind AS with effect from 1st April 2022 with comparatives being restated. Accordingly, the impact of transition has been provided in the Opening Reserves as at 1st April 2020. Note-33- Details of Employee Benefits:

The Company has the following post-employment benefit plans:

A. Defined Contribution Plan

Contribution to defined contribution plan recognised as expense for the period is as under:

The Company offers its employees benefits under defined contribution plans in the form of provident fund. Provident fund cover substantially all regular employees which are on payroll of the company. Both the employees and the Company pay predetermined contributions into the provident fund and approved superannuation fund. The contributions are normally based on a certain proportion of the employee's salary and are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Contribution to provident fund and other Fund	17.24	29.59	21.93	18.98

B. Defined Benefit Plan - Gratuity:

(i) The Company administers its employees' gratuity scheme funded liability. The present value of the liability for the defined benefit plan of gratuity obligation is determined based on actuarial valuation by an independent actuary at the period end, which is calculated using the projected unit credit method, which recognises each year of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation.

(ii) Gratuity benefits in India are governed by the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. The key features are as under

Benefits Offered	15/26* salary* Duration of service
Salary Definition	Last Drawn Basic Salary including Dearness Allowance (if any)
Benefit Ceiling	Benefit Ceiling of Rs 20 Lakhs
Vesting Conditions	5 Years of Continuous Service (Not Applicable In Case of Death/ Disability)
Benefit Eligibility	Upon Death or resignation or withdrawal or retirement
Retirement Age	58 Years

(iii) Characteristics of defined benefit plans and risks associated with them:

Valuation of defined benefit plan are performed on certain basic set of pre-determined assumptions and other regulatory framework which may vary over time. Thus, the Company is exposed to various risks in providing the above benefit plans which are as follows:

A. Actuarial Risk:

It is the risk that benefits will cost more than expected. This can arise due to one of the following reasons:

Adverse Salary Growth Experience:

Salary hikes that are higher than the assumed salary escalation will result into an increase in Obligation at a rate that is higher than expected.

Variability in mortality rates: If actual mortality rates are higher than assumed mortality rate assumption than the Gratuity Benefits will be paid earlier than expected. Since there is no condition of vesting on the death benefit, the acceleration of cashflow will lead to an actuarial loss or gain depending on the relative values of the assumed salary growth and discount rate.

Variability in withdrawal rates: If actual withdrawal rates are higher than assumed withdrawal rate assumption than the Gratuity Benefits will be paid earlier than expected. The impact of this will depend on whether the benefits are vested as at the resignation date.

B. Investment Risk:

For funded plans that rely on insurers for managing the assets, the value of assets certified by the insurer may not be the fair value of instruments backing the liability. In such cases, the present value of the assets is independent of the future discount rate. This can result in wide fluctuations in the net liability or the funded status if there are significant changes in the discount rate during the inter-valuation period.

C. Liquidity Risk:

Employees with high salaries and long durations or those higher in hierarchy, accumulate significant level of benefits. If some of such employees resign/retire from the company there can be strain on the cashflows.

D. Market Risk:

Market risk is a collective term for risks that are related to the changes and fluctuations of the financial markets. One actuarial assumption that has a material effect is the discount rate. The discount rate reflects the time value of money. An increase in discount rate leads to decrease in Defined Benefit Obligation of the plan benefits & vice versa. This assumption depends on the yields on the corporate/government bonds and hence the valuation of liability is exposed to fluctuations in the yields as at the valuation date.

E. Legislative Risk:

Legislative risk is the risk of increase in the plan liabilities or reduction in the plan assets due to change in the legislation/regulation. The government may amend the Payment of Gratuity Act thus requiring the companies to pay higher benefits to the employees. This will directly affect the present value of the Defined Benefit Obligation and the same will have to be recognized immediately in the year when any such amendment is effective.

B. Changes in the Present value of Obligation

C. Defined Benefit Plan - Leave Benefit Note:

(i) The objective of the valuation is to ascertain the liability on utilization of accumulated leave. The accumulated leave may also diminish on account of utilization if permissible in the course of employment. The effect of utilization will be reflected in year to year balance and the liability will be adjusted accordingly at every annual actuarial valuation. There is no separate accounting standard which lays down the actuarial valuation. There is no separate accounting standard which lays down the actuarial method to be adopted for valuation of liability to be adopted for valuation for liability in respect of balance of accumulated leave. However general principles to defined benefit retirement benefit have been applied.

(ii) The benefits are governed by the Entity's Leave Policy. The key features are as under

(iii) Characteristics of defined benefit plans and risks associated with them:

Valuation of defined benefit plan are performed on certain basic set of pre-determined assumptions and other regulatory framework which may vary over time. Thus, the Company is exposed to various risks in providing the above benefit plans which are as follows:

A. Actuarial Risk:

It is the risk that benefits will cost more than expected. This can arise due to one of the following reasons:

Adverse Salary Growth Experience:

Salary hikes that are higher than the assumed salary escalation will result into an increase in Obligation at a rate that is higher than expected.

Variability in mortality rates: If actual mortality rates are higher than assumed mortality rate assumption than the Gratuity Benefits will be paid earlier than expected. Since there is no condition of vesting on the death benefit, the acceleration of cashflow will lead to an actuarial loss or gain depending on the relative values of the assumed salary growth and discount rate.

Variability in withdrawal rates: If actual withdrawal rates are higher than assumed withdrawal rate assumption than the Gratuity Benefits will be paid earlier than expected. The impact of this will depend on whether the benefits are vested as at the resignation date.

B. Investment Risk:

For funded plans that rely on insurers for managing the assets, the value of assets certified by the insurer may not be the fair value of instruments backing the liability. In such cases, the present value of the assets is independent of the future discount rate. This can result in wide fluctuations in the net liability or the funded status if there are significant changes in the discount rate during the inter-valuation period.

C. Liquidity Risk:

Employees with high salaries and long durations or those higher in hierarchy, accumulate significant level of benefits. If some of such employees resign/retire from the company there can be strain on the cashflows.

D. Market Risk:

Market risk is a collective term for risks that are related to the changes and fluctuations of the financial markets. One actuarial assumption that has a material effect is the discount rate. The discount rate reflects the time value of money. An increase in discount rate leads to decrease in Defined Benefit Obligation of the plan benefits & vice versa. This assumption depends on the yields on the corporate/government bonds and hence the valuation of liability is exposed to fluctuations in the yields as at the valuation date.

E. Legislative Risk:

Legislative risk is the risk of increase in the plan liabilities or reduction in the plan assets due to change in the legislation/regulation. The government may amend the Payment of Gratuity Act thus requiring the companies to pay higher benefits to the employees. This will directly affect the present value of the Defined Benefit Obligation and the same will have to be recognized immediately in the year when any such amendment is effective.

(*) Fair value of financial assets and liabilities measured at amortized cost approximates their respective carrying values as the management has assessed that there is no significant movement in factor such as discount rates, interest rates, credit risk from the date of the transition. The fair values are assessed by the management using Level 3 inputs.

() The financial instruments measured at FVTPL represents current investments and derivative assets having been valued using level 2 valuation hierarchy.

Fair value hierarchy

The fair value of financial instruments as referred to in note below has been classified into three categories depending on the inputs used in the valuation technique. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities [Level 1 measurements] and lowest priority to unobservable inputs [Level 3 measurements].

The categories used are as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices for identical instruments in an active market

Level 2: Directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices) observable market inputs, other than Level 1 inputs; and

Level 3: Inputs which are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part using a net asset value or valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

B. Market Risk

Market Risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market Risk comprises three types of Risk: "Interest Rate Risk, Currency Risk and Other Price Risk". Financial instrument affected by the Market Risk includes loans and borrowings in foreign as well as domestic currency, retention money related to capital expenditures, trade and other payables.

(a) Interest Rate Risk

Interest Rate Risk is the risk that fair value or future cash outflows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. An upward movement in the interest rate would adversely affect the borrowing cost of the Company. The Company is exposed to long term and short - term borrowings. The Company manages interest rate risk by monitoring its mix of fixed and floating rate instruments and taking actions as necessary to maintain an appropriate balance. The Company has not used any interest rate derivatives.

The Company's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables and other Financial assets measured at amortized cost. The Company continuously monitors defaults of customers and other counterparties and incorporates this information into its credit risk controls.

The Company assesses and manages credit risk based on internal credit rating system. Internal credit rating is performed for each class of financial instruments with different characteristics. The Company assigns the following credit ratings to each class of financial assets based on the assumptions, inputs and factors specific to the class of financial assets. (i) Low credit risk, (ii) Moderate credit risk, (iii) High credit risk.

(iii) Trade receivables:

Life time expected credit loss is provided for trade receivables. Based on business environment in which the Company operates, a default on a financial asset is considered when the counter party fails to make payments within the agreed time period as per contract. Loss rates reflecting defaults are based on actual credit loss experience and considering differences between current and historical economic conditions. Assets are written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovery, such as a debtor declaring bankruptcy or a litigation decided against the Company. The Company continues to engage with parties whose balances are written off and attempts to enforce repayment. Recoveries made are recognized in statement of profit and loss.

(A) Expected credit losses:

Expected credit loss for trade receivables under simplified approach:

The Company recognizes lifetime expected credit losses on trade receivables & other financial assets using a simplified approach, wherein Company has defined percentage of provision by analyzing historical trend of default based on the criteria defined below and such provision percentage determined have been considered to recognize life time expected credit losses on trade receivables (other than those where default criteria are met in which case the full expected loss against the amount recoverable is provided for). Further, the Company has evaluated recovery of receivables on a case to case basis. No provision on account of expected credit loss model has been considered for related party balances. The Company computes credit loss allowance based on provision matrix. The provision matrix is prepared on historically observed default rate over the expected life of trade receivable and is adjusted for forward - looking estimate. The provision matrix at the end of reporting period is as follows:

Particulars	Expected Loss Rate
< 90 Days -	0.00%
120 to 180 days	0.50%
180 to 365 days	1.00%

Our company manufactures fin and tube type Heat Exchangers for the Heat Ventilation Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Industry (“HVAC&R”). Heat Exchangers manufactured by us are made of non-ferrous metals primarily Copper and Aluminium. Our product range includes condenser coils, evaporator units, evaporator coils, header/copper parts, fluid and steam coils and sheet metal parts.

We manufacture heat exchangers of various shapes and sizes as per the requirement of the customers and / or demand in the market. The sizes of heat exchanger tubes diameter manufactured by us ranges from 5MM to 15.88 MM. Our products are well suited for wide range of air conditioning, heating and ventilation, refrigeration, and process cooling applications.

To enhance the longevity and corrosion resistance of heat exchangers and their components, various types of coatings such as nano coating, powder coating are applied to the surfaces of copper tubes, brazing joints, and fin sheets. By applying these advanced coatings to heat exchangers and their components, our products ensure that the heat exchanger operates efficiently over an extended period, reducing maintenance costs and enhancing overall performance. The protective barrier provided by these coatings ensures that the heat exchanger can withstand harsh conditions and maintain its optimal functionality.

Our products are vital for the performance of cooling appliances and have undergone stringent quality checks. Our company adheres to some of the industry's best quality product accreditations.

- 1) Incorporation of wholly owned subsidiary company namely KRN HVAC Products Private Limited on April 07, 2023.
- 2) The Draft Red Herring Prospectus filed by our company on January 16, 2024, with the SEBI and Stock Exchanges has been returned by the SEBI vide its letter no. SEBI/CFD/RAC-DIL-1/ 2024/8229 dated March 01, 2024, in terms of SEBI Circular dated February 06, 2024.

KEY FACTORS THAT MAY AFFECT OUR RESULTS OF OPERATION

Our results of operations have been, and will be, affected by many factors, some of which are beyond our control. Our results of operations and financial conditions are affected by numerous factors including the following:

A. Ability to expand the customer base and maintain good relationship with the leading customers:

More customers are becoming more dissatisfied and impatient now a days any delays will turn out to be their greatest displeasure in life. Most of the HVAC companies are not given any other option but give all out in enhancing the efficiency and speed of their services and HVAC operations.

We focus on building sustained and long-term client relationship with our clients and constantly try to cater customer needs with products in demand. Our top 10 customers contributed to 70.87% of our total revenue from operations in 2022-23. Our long-term relationship with our customers allows us to understand and cater to their diverse requirements, including the development of new products. Our long-standing relationship with such customers acts as an endorsement of our operational and managerial capabilities and help us solicit new business from potential customers in the same industry. Since we are largely dependent on certain key customers for a significant portion of our sales, the loss of any one of our key customers or a significant reduction of demand from such customers could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, result of operations and prospectus.

B. Ability to keep satisfied strong, experienced management team and qualified work force:

One of the most demanding and challenging work is to keep satisfied your entire work force and entire management team. It's a very time-consuming process with a nonstop distribution of work assignment and planning operations. Besides, there are participating teams who also need supervision during the work, hence there is need for constant monitoring now & then.

Growth has always brought the challenges of skill shortage. The majority of HVAC enterprises will have to deal a complicated skill – shortage any time right now. With a disproportionate percentage of young people opting to attend college and pursue a degree, rather than immediately entering the work force, today's labor shortage in the skilled trades is expected to worsen and remain one of the worst threats to all developing economies for years to come.

A significant increase in our employee's attrition rate could also result in decreased operational efficiencies and productivity. Attracting and retaining experienced and qualified senior management could require increasing compensations and benefit payable to such personnel, which could affect our financial condition and results of operations.

C. Increasing competition in the industry:

The industry growth is attracting new players and the competition is becoming stiff. Service providers are the worst affected since most of them rely on brand loyalty for growth. Heat exchangers manufacturers are susceptible to the ever changing prices of raw materials ,encompassing copper ,aluminum ,steel and other metals .The prices of these raw materials are subject to volatility ,influenced by a range of factors like economic conditions ,exchange rates ,and supply conditions .Such factors can potentially exert adverse effects on manufacturers .Additionally ,these price fluctuations have the potential to trigger delays or cancellation of substantial capital projects ,there by hindering the growth of the heat exchanger market .

D. Changes in fiscal, economic and political condition in India:

After a healthy rebound in 2021, the global economy witnessed a recessionary situation in 2022, as growth across the major countries moderated and inflation remains sticky at record high levels in the face of aggressive monetary tightening around the world. Our results of operations are dependent on the overall economic conditions in the market in which we operate, any slowdown in these economies, including due to a global economic slowdown or changes in interest rates, government policies or taxation, social and civil unrest, pandemics and political, economic or other developments could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

All HVAC service providers have to face the challenges mentioned above. From largest to smallest HVAC businesses, everyone is dealing with the same set of problems. These top challenges are not something that can be resolved immediately. that is why it requires continuous strategic planning, wise decision making, marketing procedures and the right business mindset

KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS AND CERTAIN NON-GAAP MEASURES

In evaluating our business, we consider and use certain non-GAAP financial measures and key performance indicators that are presented below as supplemental measures to review and assess our operating performance. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures and key performance indicators are not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the Restated Financial Information. We present these non-GAAP financial measures and key performance indicators because they are used by our management to evaluate our operating performance. Therefore, these matrices should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to Ind AS measures of performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or results of operation.

(i) M/s Micro Coils and Refrigeration (P) Ltd. Vs. Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav and Others [F.A.O. 13 of 2019 and CM APPL No. 1221 of 2019]

An appeal is filed against our Promotor and Managing Director Santosh Kumar Yadav (“Respondent”) by M/s Micro Coils Refrigeration Pvt. Ltd (“Appellant”) under Section 37 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 (“Arbitration Act”) against the order dated September 12, 2018, by the Additional District Judge, South West, Dwarka, New Delhi whereby the ARBT No. 9560/2018 filed by the Appellant against the Respondent under Section 9 of the Arbitration Act was dismissed for having no territorial jurisdiction to entertain the petition. The issue was that the Respondent was an additional director in the Appellant company, however, the Respondent decided to resign from the said position. The directors of the Appellant company and the Respondent signed a memorandum of understanding (“MOU”) dated August 8, 2017, which prohibited the Respondent from soliciting any of the Appellant's suppliers or clients, or encourage or attempt to encourage to quit any directors, officers, executives or employees of the Appellant. The Appellant claims that the Respondent has solicited one of the Appellant’s customers and appointed him as a director in his own company named M/s KRN Heat Exchanger and Refrigeration Private Limited, alleging that it was a pre-planned criminal conspiracy which caused wrongful loss to Appellant company. The application was to seek restraint order against the Respondent for breach of MOU thereby directing the Respondent not to contact any of the employees, staff as well as clients/customers of Appellant and not to influence them in any manner in order to cause any harm or loss to the Appellant. Aggrieved by the order dated September 12, 2018 in ARBT No. 9560/2018 dismissing the application of the Appellant, the present appeal has been filed. The matter is currently pending for adjudication.

(ii) M/s Advent Trading Pvt Ltd vs. Mrs. Anju Devi [CS/300/2018]

The case was filed by Advent Trading Pvt Ltd (“Plaintiff”) against our Promotor and Director, Mrs. Anju Devi and Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav (“Defendants”) under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, before the District and Sessions Judge, Karkardooma, North-East Delhi regarding the non-recovery of loan of Rs. 15,00,000/- advanced by the Plaintiff to Mrs. Anju Devi with our Director, Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav being the guarantor. the Defendants repaid a sum of Rs. 1,00,000/- to the Plaintiff. Hence, the Plaintiff filed a suit for the recovery of an outstanding loan amount of Rs 14,00,000/- along with interest @15% p.a. However, since there was no privity of contract between the Plaintiff and Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav, the court was of the opinion that Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav was not a necessary party to the present suit. Hence, his name was deleted from the array of parties. Regardless, the suit against Mrs. Anju Devi is currently pending.

Shri Manoj Kapoor and Others vs Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav [Review Pet. 42/2023]

The review petition was filed before the Hon'ble High Court of Delhi, by our Promoter and Managing Director, Mr. Santosh Kumar Yadav ("Respondent") under Section 114 read with Order XLVII Rule 1 Civil Procedure Code, being aggrieved by the Arbitration Petition No. 579/2020, filed by Shri Manoj Kapoor and others ("Petitioners"). Further, Interlocutory application bearing number I.A. 2570/2023 and I.A. 2571/2023 has been filed along with the review petition by the Respondent for condonation of delay in filing. The Arbitration Petition bearing no. 579/2020 was filed by the Petitioners seeking appointment of an arbitrator to arbitrate on a matter in relation to breach of a memorandum of understanding ("MOU") between the parties, regarding prohibiting the Respondent from soliciting any of the Petitioners' company's suppliers or clients or encourage or attempt to encourage to quit any directors, officers, executives, or employees of the Petitioners' company. The Hon'ble High Court vide order dated August 30, 2022 referred the parties to arbitration under the aegis of the Delhi International Arbitration Centre, New Delhi (DIAC). However, the Respondent in this review petition claims that the MOU in which the arbitration agreement is contained, in particular the clause that bars the Respondent from contacting or encouraging anyone associated with the Petitioners' company, is void, being in violation of Section 27 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 and due to non-disclosure of material facts before the Hon'ble High Court. Also, an earlier petition (ARBT No. 9560/2018) filed by the Petitioners under Section 9 of the Arbitration & Conciliation Act, 1996 had already been dismissed. Hence, the Respondent in this review petition has prayed to set aside the order passed by the Hon'ble High Court in Arbitration Petition No. 579/2020. This review petition along with the interlocutory applications are currently pending.

SEBI through the SEBI UPI Circulars introduced an alternate payment mechanism using UPI and consequent reduction in timelines for listing in a phased manner. UPI has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism with the ASBA for applications by Retail Individual Bidders through intermediaries from January 1, 2019. The UPI Mechanism for Retail Individual Bidders applying through Designated Intermediaries, in phase I, was effective along with the prior process and existing timeline of T+6 days (“UPI Phase I”), until June 30, 2019. Subsequently, for applications by Retail Individual Bidders through Designated Intermediaries, the process of physical movement of forms from such Designated Intermediaries to SCSBs for blocking of funds has been discontinued and only the UPI Mechanism for such Bids with existing timeline of T+6 days is applicable for a period of three months or launch of five main board public issues, whichever is later (“UPI Phase II”).

Subsequently, SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019 extended the timeline for UPI Phase II till March 31, 2020. However, given the prevailing uncertainty due to the COVID- 19 pandemic, SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020 extended the timeline for UPI Phase II till further notice from SEBI. The final reduced timeline of T+3 days for the UPI Mechanism for applications by UPI Bidders (“UPI Phase III”), and modalities of the implementation of UPI Phase III has been notified by SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023 and made effective on a voluntary basis for all issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and on a mandatory basis for all issues opening on or after December 1, 2023. Further, SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2021/2480/1/M dated March 16, 2021 read with the circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL1/CIR/P/2021/47 dated March 31, 2021, circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/P/CIR/2021/570 dated June 2, 2021, and circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2022/51 dated April 20, 2022, SEBI circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 09, 2023 has introduced certain additional measures for streamlining the process of initial public offers and redressing investor grievances. This circular shall come into force for initial public offers opening on or after May 1, 2021 except as set out in circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/P/CIR/2021/570 dated June 2, 2021 and the provisions of this circular are deemed to form part of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Furthermore, pursuant to circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/P/CIR/P/2022/45 dated April 5, 2022, all individual bidders in initial public offerings (opening on or after May 1, 2022) whose application sizes are up to ₹500,000 shall use the UPI Mechanism. This circular has come into force for initial public offers opening on or after May 1, 2022 and the provisions of this circular are deemed to form part of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. PHASED IMPLEMENTATION OF UPI MECHANISM

SEBI has issued the SEBI UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of, among others, equity shares. Pursuant to the SEBI UPI Circulars, the UPI Mechanism has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under ASBA) for applications by UPI Bidders through Designated Intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the SEBI UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, a Retail Individual Bidder had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediary and use his/her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.

Phase II: This phase has become applicable from July 1, 2019 and was to initially continue for a period of three months or floating of five main board public issues, whichever is later. SEBI, vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019, has decided to extend the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II until March 31, 2020. Subsequently, SEBI, vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020, extended the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II till further notice. Under this phase, submission of the ASBA Form by UPI Bidders through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds has been discontinued and replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing continues to be six Working Days during this phase.

Phase III: This phase has become applicable on a voluntary basis for all issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and on a mandatory basis for all issues opening on or after December 1, 2023, vide SEBI circular bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023 ("T+3 Notification"). In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing has been reduced to three Working Days. The Offer shall be undertaken pursuant to the processes and procedures as notified in the T+3 Notification as applicable, subject to any circulars, clarification or notification issued by the SEBI from time to time, including any circular, clarification or notification which may be issued by SEBI.

All SCSBs offering facility of making application in public issues shall also provide facility to make application using UPI. The Company will be required to appoint one of the SCSBs as a sponsor bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and / or payment instructions of the UPI Bidders using the UPI.

Pursuant to the UPI Circular, SEBI has set out specific requirements for redressal of investor grievances for applications that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. The requirements of the UPI Circular include, appointment of a nodal officer by the SCSB and submission of their details to SEBI, the requirement for SCSBs to send SMS alerts for the blocking and unblocking of UPI mandates, the requirement for the Registrar to submit details of cancelled, withdrawn or deleted applications, and the requirement for the bank accounts of unsuccessful Bidders to be unblocked no later than one day from the date on which the Basis of Allotment is finalised. Failure to unblock the accounts within the timeline would result in the SCSBs being penalised under the relevant securities law. Additionally, if there is any delay in the redressal of investors' complaints in this regard, the relevant SCSB as well as the post – Issue BRLM will be required to compensate the concerned investor.

The Issue is made under UPI Phase III of the SEBI UPI Circulars, the same will be advertised in all editions of [●], the English national newspaper, all editions of [●], the Hindi national newspaper and [●] editions of [●], the Regional newspaper, (Hindi being the local language of Rajasthan, where our registered and corporate office is situated), each with wide circulation, on or prior to the Bid/ Issue Opening Date and such advertisement shall also be made available to the Stock Exchanges for the purpose of uploading on their websites.

Our Company will be required to appoint one of the SCSBs as a sponsor bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and/or payment instructions of the UPI Bidders using the UPI.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and FEMA. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, 1991, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries/departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment.

The Government has from time to time made policy pronouncements on foreign direct investment (“FDI”) through press notes and press releases. The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India, earlier known as Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (“DPIIT”) issued the Consolidated FDI Policy Circular of 2020 (“FDI Policy”) by way of circular bearing number DPIIT file number 5(2)/2020-FDIPolicy dated October 15, 2020, which with effect from October 15, 2020, consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT that were in force and effect as on October 15, 2020. The FDI Policy will be valid until the DPIIT issues an updated circular.

Further, in accordance with circular, dated October 15, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. In the event such prior approval has been obtained, the Bidder shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Issue in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Issue Period. Further, a citizen of Pakistan or an entity incorporated in Pakistan can invest, only under the Government route, in sectors/activities other than defence, space, atomic energy and sectors/activities prohibited for foreign investment. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction / purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020 issued on December 8, 2020, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank or fund in India. Each Bidder should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Issue. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Bidder shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Issue in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Issue Period.

On October 17, 2019, Ministry of Finance, Department of Economic Affairs, had notified the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019 (“FEMA Rules”) and Foreign Exchange Management (Debt Instruments) Regulations, 2019 in supersession of Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations, 2017 and the Foreign Exchange Management (Acquisition and Transfer of Immovable Property in India) Regulations, 2018. Consequent to the FEMA Rules, the RBI has issued Foreign Exchange Management (Mode of Payment and Reporting of Non-Debt Instrument) Regulation, 2019 which governs the mode of payment and reporting requirements for investment in India by a person resident outside India. In terms of the FEMA Rules and the FDI Policy, up to 100% foreign investment is currently permitted in a company engaged in manufacturing activities in India (including contract manufacturing in India).

As per the existing policy of the Government of India, OCBs cannot participate in this Issue. For further details, see the chapter titled “Issue Procedure” beginning on page 399.
